Washington Hit by Floods Slides Cut Main Highways

AMPHIBIOUS MILKMAN

Farmers in the Snohomish Valley of Washington were forced to make many deliveries by boat today as floods swept the state, washing out roads, inundating farmlands, and forcing families to evacuate.

FOUR MISSING IN HOTEL FIRE; ARSON SUSPECTED

PEORIA, Ill., (UPI) — Fire touched off by an explosion roared through the Arion Hotel today and four persons were reported missing. It was the second hotel fire here in 24 hours.

Chief fire inspector Al Boulton blamed both fires on arson.

A blaze Sunday destroyed an unoccupied building planned to be open soon as a Negro hotel, the Parkview Arms.

The buildings were about eight blocks apart on this city's south side, a neighborhood of transition in terms of white and Negro residents.

Families Flee River Valleys

(Times News Services)

SEATTLE — Huge slides and rampaging rivers, touched off by a week-long deluge with up to 13½ inches of rain, cut cross-state travel to a trickle today and marooned hundreds in lower valleys.

Urgent state-federal rescue operations were under way in many lowland areas of western Washington.

Major rail and traffic routes through the Cascade Mountains were blocked late Sunday and through the night.

Highway department crews cleared a circuitous link between the east and west sides through the state's midsection shortly after daybreak.

Scores of families fled flooded homes in Snohomish and King counties where raging rivers rose towards crests which promised to be the highest in 20 years.

Others waited for Coast Guard boats or army ducks to pick them from their homes and carry them to safety.

Gov. Rosellini today declared Snohomish County a major disaster area because of high waters in the Stilagauamish and Skykomish river valleys.

The governor asked the Corps of Engineers to move in with heavy equipment in an effort to contain the waters.

The most severely flooded areas were around Snohomish, a town of about 3,000 population about 25 miles northeast of here, and the Kent-Auburn area 20 miles southeast of here with a combined population of about 18,000.

In advance of the flooding brought by the Snohomish and Green Rivers and their torrential tributaries, earth slides and bridge washouts slashed like a giant axe, cutting the state's major east-west highway and rail routes near their summits in the Cascade Mountains.

Train Passengers Trapped 10 Hours

Ninety passengers were trapped for 10 hours in a stalled train until they got out by bus on a one-way road.

A woman was killed in a mountain pass highway accident.

The Milwaukee Road's nine-car Olympian-Hiawatha passenger train was caught between slides Sunday afternoon near Hyak, 60 miles east of Seattle. Buses from Ellensburg, Wash., east of the Cascades, reached the stalled train early today and took the passengers to Spokane for transfer to a makeup train for Chicago.

The buses got through on Highway No. 10, restricted to one-way traffic near the slide area where the train was caught.

The Milwaukee, Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads all halted trains on regular routes across the Cascades. They combined to divert traffic on a southern route by way of Pasco and Vancouver, Wash.

Major Route Closed 30 Days

Highway traffic piled up on both sides of the Cascades as the major cross-state passes —Snoqualmie, Stevens, White and Blewett — all were closed by slides.

Snoqualmie Pass Highway, the state's major four-lane route through the Cascades, will be closed for a minimum of 30 days, the state highway department said.

The rampaging south fork of the Snoqualmie River spilled from its channel and slashed a new bed which washed out all four lanes of the arterial road eight miles east of North Bend.

The diverted river carved a canyon at least 600 feet across and created a waterfall of nearly 40 feet where the highway was cut.

A highway expert at the scene said it might be more than a year before the present road could be restored. A temporary road would have to be built north of the washout, a task of a month or more.

Hazel K. Caddell, 64, of Leavenworth, Wash., was killed on Stevens Pass when the automobile she was driving crashed into a state highway department truck in a slide area.

Several days of heavy rain followed by a warm chinook wind in the mountains caused the flooding. Water from melting snow poured down streams, ditches and ravines in the Cascades.

The highways department reported that the small town of Packwood, south of Mount Rainier, was being evacuated because of flooding of the Cowlitz River.

Civil defence headquarters at Seattle said the town of Fall City, on the Snowqualmie River, 25 miles east of here, also was being evacuated.

'Copters Look for Sheets on Roofs

At Snohomish rescue teams had taken 50 to 60 families to safety.

"We have about eight boats, all small craft," he said, "and we've alerted people who want to leave to put a sheet on the roof. Then a helicopter from Paine Air Force base with Sheriff Bob Twitchell in it pinpoints the rescue requests and a boat is dispatched to get them."

The state patrol advised truckers headed for the Puget Sound area with perishable cargoes to swing north or south around the blocked passes. Some went north to Okanogan, Wash., and then to the coast via Hope, B.C. Others were routed over the southerly Satus Pass—the only one open in Washington—or down the Columbia River highway in Oregon.

All through the mountains, high winds and high temperatures helped melt the snow.

Civil defence director Harold Peterson, called the situation "extremely critical," and said "There's every reason to think tomorrow will be worse and the next day will be worse than that."

Russ Lose Bid To Halt Debate On Hungary

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United Nations steering committee voted 15 to 3 today to recommend a new airing in the General Assembly of the 1956 Hungarian freedom revolt and its brutal suppression by the Soviet Union.

The Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia and Romania voted against including the item on the agenda. Morocco and Indonesia abstained.

The United States told the 21-nation committee that "apparently the end of the reign of terror is not in sight" in Hungary.

Inscription of the Hungarian item on the agenda originally was requested by Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand, special UN representative on the Hungarian question. He said that "the framework of repression remain unchanged" in Hungary and that continuing trials and executions of freedom fighters were reported.

LEGALITY QUERIED

The Soviet Union, and several other delegations, questioned the legality of Munro's introducing an item for the assembly agenda and the U.S. formally requested inclusion of the question.

Soviet deputy foreign minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov described Munro as an American "puppet."

He said it was apparent that "certain circles" were concerned lest the "weapons of the cold war . . . become rusty or obsolete."

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge cited Munro's statements that foreign armed forces—Soviet troops—remained in Hungary and that trials and executions of Hungarian Freedom Fighters had taken place since last year's General Assembly.

At that time, the Communist authorities gave assurances that these things had been ended.

"Apparently, the end of the reign of terror is not in sight because there are disturbinig rumors that more executions are pending," Lodge said.

UNDER FIRE

Disk jockey Alan Freed, pioneer of rock 'n' roll, was questioned today by officials of New york station WNEW-TV in connection with alleged "payola". (See story page 14).

Mikoyan Asks More Trade With Mexico

MONTERREY, Mexico (AP) —Anastas Mikoyan says the Soviet Union is trying to increase trade with Mexico and other Latin American countries and is willing to sell on easy terms.

The Russian deputy premier said he did not travel all the way from Moscow to Mexico just to open the Soviet Exhibition.

Mikoyan said Russia had made money, machinery, and technical assistance available tc India for building a steel plant on 10-year credit terms at two per cent interest. He said his government could make the same terms for Latin-American countries.

Ghana Tribes Greet Prince

ACCRA, Ghana (Reuters)—Great crowds in colorful tribal robes swelled this west African capital today for a traditional native ceremony to welcome the husband of Queen Elizabeth.

PRINCE PHILIP
. . . gets big "akwaaba"

The biggest show since the independence celebrations of 1957, when Ghana emerged as an independent Commonwealth state after having been the British Gold Coast colony, was staged for the arrival of Prince Philip on a visit he is making in place of the Queen.

Flags flew from homes and stores, colored lights were festooned along the main streets and huge signs declared "Akwaaba" welcome.

The Prince was flying in from the small Sahara Desert town of El Golea. He stayed there Sunday night after leaving England Sunday in a four-engined aircraft which he piloted himself for parts of the flight.

WELCOME CEREMONY

He will watch a pagan ceremony of welcome after a royal procession from the airport.

The ceremony centres around the pouring of a ceremonial toast in a traditional form of thanksgiving for his safe arrival. The Ghanans then will stage a display of drumming, dancing and singing.

Original plans for both the Queen and her husband to visit the two-year-old Commonwealth country had to be cancelled when it was announced that the Queen was expecting a baby. The Queen has promised to come here in 1961.

Philip will spend tonight, Tuesday and Wednesday in Accra. He will visit Kumasi in the northern Ashanti tribal territory Thursday and Friday, returning to the capital Friday night and flying back to England next Sunday.

GRAND JURY SOUGHT IN PRESS BRIBE BID

NEW YORK (UPI) — Manhattan District Attorney Frank Hogan today invited two newspaper reporters to lay before a grand jury their story that a high city official had offered them a bribe.

The reporters, Fred J. Cook and Gene Gleason of the New York World-Telegram and Sun, said Sunday night the official had offered them $75 to $100 a week in 1956 to stop their "prying" into the city's slum clearance program. The official, they said, is still in the city administration.

WIFE IN HOSPITAL

Chan Still Hides, Ship Due to Sail

VANCOUVER (CP) — Reservations made by the immigration department for the Weldon Chan family are not expected to be filled when a Hong Kong-bound ship leaves Seattle today.

Mr. Chan has been missing for 10 days, his wife is in hospital recovering from an overdose of sleeping pills and their five-year-old daughter is staying with friends.

The family, which has been in Canada 18 months on a visitors' visa, was scheduled to be deported to Hong Kong today aboard the ship China Mail.

Mr. Chan disappeared on his way to Ottawa, where he said he was going to appeal the deportation order.

HIDING OUT

He never got to Ottawa to see Immigration Minister Fairclough but his lawyer, Harry Fan, last week received a letter from him saying he was hiding out in Eastern Canada.

A warrant has been issued for his arrest.

Alice Chan was taken to hospital Saturday night after her landlord, Leslie Mah, found her in a stupor in her room.

Lawyer Fan said she had been taking sleeping pills for some time but she had had a bad headache Saturday night "so she took a couple more pills than usual."

Mrs. Chan was reported in "fairly good" condition by hospital authorities.

NO CLUES

The immigration department made the reservations aboard the ship when it announced that the Hong Kong-born Chinese and his family were to be deported.

Philip Bird, department superintendent for the Pacific area, said Sunday night officials have no clues as to Chan's whereabouts.

WINTER FERRY TO ANACORTES EARNS PRAISE

OLYMPIA (AP)—The new winter ferry service between Sidney, B.C., and Anacortes was described by Gov. Rosellini today as a considerable success.

He said there was an increase of 1,432 vehicles and 4,124 passengers in October, compared to the same month in 1958.

In addition, Rosellini said, it appears the run will carry 1,300 vehicles and 4,000 passengers between Anacortes and Sidney during November.

He said the figures were 30 per cent higher than original estimates.

Top Polish Agent Seeks U.S. Asylum

WASHINGTON (AP) — Col. Pawel Monat, one of Communist Poland's chief intelligence officials, has asked for asylum in the United States.

The state department reported today that Monat has arrived in this country with his family.

Their application for permission to stay is "being processed in the usual manner," a state department spokesman said.

Press officer Lincoln White said Monat defected "some months" ago.

Monat is reported to have been the intelligence boss of Polish military attaches in diplomatic missions around the world. As such, he could be expected to know much about the Poles' military intelligence work, including possible links with the Soviet Union.

The New York Times, in a Vienna dispatch by A. M. Rosenthal, says Monat was reported to have turned himself over to U.S. authorities in Vienna.

Poison Varnish Feared Mixed With Milk Gift

NAPLES (CP) — Police checked dozens of shipments of Canadian milk today in continuing efforts to find a number of poisonous cans of varnish in similar types of cans that may have become mixed up with the shipment.

The Canadian milk, a free shipment under international relief appeals, arrived here last week aboard the frighter San Sebastiano. Unloaded with the milk was a consignment of varnish in white-labelled cans that resembled the milk containers.

When the bulk of the varnish shipment was unloaded at a Naples factory it was found that eight cases of 325 pounds of poisonous varnish was missing. It was feared that it had been shipped with the milk and might be used if opened hurriedly by those who could not read the labels.

Steel Firms Charged In Price Conspiracy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attorney-General William Rogers today brought anti-trust action against a large steel industry group, charging it with conspiring to eliminate competition in the steel industry and in the distribution of steel bars for reinforced concrete work in seven western states.

Black Market Exposed

ROME (UPI) — Thirteen American officers, the entire U.S. command at the NATO base at Izmir in Turkey, have been relieved of their jobs following an investigation of alleged black market activities, it was learned here today.

Heroic Boys Rescue 12 From Sinking Bus

VULCAN, Alta. (CP)—Two young brothers were hailed as heroes today after they risked their lives to help save 15 other children from drowning when a bus broke through the ice of a slough Saturday night.

The children, plus two adults, escaped uninjured before the bus settled into about seven feet of water near this community 60 miles southeast of Calgary.

The boys, Lawrence Lundgren, 16, and his brother David, 13, were the last to leave the bus. Witnesses said that as the bus began to sink rear-end first through the ice, they made their way to the back of the bus and pushed and pulled 12 girls to safety. By the time they got out themselves, only a foot of air space remained.

All the children were between 14 and 16 years old.

The bus was one of two vehicles carrying members of the Church of Christ young people's group from a skating party at the slough to the nearby farm home of Doug Smith where they were to continue the party.

Shipbuilding Director

OTTAWA (CP) — Appointment of John Rankine Strang, 46, of Ottawa, to the newly-created position of director of shipbuilding in the transport department was announced Monday. Mr. Strang now is administrator of the shipbuilding branch of the defence production department. He assumes his new duties Jan. 4.

Rats Bite Baby to Death In Squalid Squatter Shack

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Three-month-old Gladys Snow died in hospital early today as a result of rat bites.

The child was found Sunday by her truck-driver father, E. Snow, lying unconscious in a pool of blood in her crib near the kitchen stove. Hospital officials said the left side of the child's head appeared to have been chewed away.

A CJON radio crew that visited the Snow home Sunday said 11 children of the family slept each night on the kitchen table made into a bed. They added there were two families numbering 21 persons, 17 of them children, living in four rooms.

One reporter said he found four children sharing a bed with their parents.

There was a new television set in one of the rooms and a car in the backyard.

The father, whose wife is expecting another child, told reporters he had noticed a hole in the floor before he went to bed Saturday night and had pushed one leg of the baby's crib into it "so the rats wouldn't be able to get through."

City building inspector Andrew Cahill said "These people are squatters living on Crown land in sub-standard dwellings and nobody has any jurisdiction over them."

People and Things

(Times News Services)

LONDON — A 56-year-old woman who says she ran 20 miles carrying a turtle and a hot water bottle headed up the latest list of "marching champions" today, in Britain's new off-beat craze.

Dr. Barbara Moore, wife of sculptor Harry Moore, who lives on fruit juice and herbs, claimed the record time of 28 hours and 39 minutes Sunday to cover 110 miles with her feet wrapped in burlap bags.

Dr. Moore's stunt was the newest feat in marching craze set off two weeks ago.

Ten college students pushed a handcart loaded with manure 55 miles in six hours.

In London two students travelled the 268 miles of the city's underground system in 16 hours and 17 minutes, setting a new record.

But most newspapers conceded the record for the 110 miles to Peter Hoy, who won it in 28 hours and 55 minutes. Hoy had to cut the boots off his swollen feet.

BOREHAM WOOD, England —Father Christmas, the British version of Santa Claus, handed out gaily-wrapped press-button viewers to the little guests at a Boy Scout party.

The guests seemed so pleased that jolly old man decided to take a look himself. He found the manufacturer had made "a dreadful mistake" by substituting nude pin-ups for "glimpses of animal life."

BLACKPOOL, Eng.—A cat that was "too nice to die" underwent an operation performed by the resident surgeon in a leading hospital here.

The cat was run over by a car and no veterinary surgeon could be found. Police brought it to the hospital to be destroyed.

But the soft-hearted surgeon took it into the operating room instead, and stitched it up. Sunday night's condition report was: "Progressing favorably."

MOSCOW — All Soviet circuses will be without clowns the last week in November. All of them have been summoned to Moscow for a meeting of their trade union—to discuss low pay and lack of good skits. One clown, Yuri Nikulin, complained in the newspaper Soviet Culture that writers seem unable to write suitable script for clowns and called for establishment of editorial conferences to do the job.

BERLIN — East Germany's Communist regime has officially backed away from the idea that a good Communist never wears a necktie.

Neues Deutschland, the official Communist party newspaper, rules such a concept outdated, and says workers should dress properly when they got out in the evening.

"We socalists (Communists) have great respect for work," says the paper, "but we would be using the fruits of our mutual efforts badly if we failed to make our life more pleasant and worth while. And this means proper clothing on special occasions."

MOSCOW — Izvestia has appealed to Soviet husbands to be polite to their wives — and to wives to use white tablecloths for dinner, even if no guest is expected.

The government newspaper says it is the bourgeois tradition for men to be rude to their wives and bourgeois also to limit use of flowers and the best linen for guests. When it comes to gracious living, to be bourgeois in a Communist land is to be practically a capitalist.

INTRUDER WITH SHEARS TRIED TO SEE MARGARET

LONDON (UPI) — Scotland Yard officials disclosed Sunday that guards at the home of Princess Margaret captured an intruder as he was running through the grounds with a pair of pruning shears.

"I want to see Princess Margaret," he said when arrested.

Officials said he appearently climbed into the grounds of Clarence House but "didn't get far" before he was caught.

The princess and the Queen Mother who share Clarence House were sleeping and were not disturbed.

The intruder was sent to a hospital for observation.

Boy Gets Nightmare Ride Through New York Sewers

NEW YORK (CP) — Police still were searching today for an unidentified "fat boy" who pushed a nine-year-old into a sewer and started him on a nightmare journey under the streets of upper Manhattan.

The younger boy, Antonio Batista, was rescued by police Saturday after he had been spewed from the sewer outlet into the Harlem River hundreds of feet from the street manhole into which he had been pushed.

Playmates said Batista was set upon by a fat teen-aged boy who pushed him into the open manhole.

After the boy was pushed through the hole he toppled down a 15-foot shaft, then floated and slithered through 600 feet of sewer. As the water grew deeper the current grew swifter and kept him buoyed up until he passed through the outlet into the river.

"I prayed down there," he said later from his hospital bed. "I did not think I was going to die. It was dark and the water came up to my chest and I floated much of the way."

Police, called by the boy's companions, hurriedly conferred with sanitation department authorities and rushed to the sewer exit. Patrolman Anthony Taccia and detective Luther Evans plunged into the river and pulled the boy safel to shore.

FAREWELL SERMON AT CORDOVA BAY

'You Must Be a God's Man'

"It is more important to be a Christian than an Anglican," said Rev. Richard J. Welsh in his farewell sermon to the parish of St. David's-by the-Sea, Cordova Bay, Sunday morning.

"Don't be just a St. David's man or a St. Chad's man or a Cathedral man. Christianity is bigger than that. The thing to be is a God's man."

Leaving here Tuesday for Worthington, Minnesota, where he will be minister of St. John-on-the-Lake Episcopal Church, Mr. Welsh declared:

"There is a heresy abroad that if you are respectable you are a Christian. This is false. I have known people not considered respectable who are Christians in the truest sense."

Mr. Welsh put in a word for his successor—not yet named.

"Remember that a parish priest is human—not a superbeing. If you place him on a pedestal you may forget that he is probably subject to even greater temptations than the people in his congregation."

Farewell presentations were made to Mr. Welsh by the parishioners of both St. David's and St. Chad's Sunday afternoon.

Deaf Boy, 13, Pantomimes Knife Murder

OLATHE, Kan. (AP)—Thirteen-year-old George Martens, a deaf boy, used sign language and his untrained voice Sunday to tell how he killed an eight-year-old playmate.

The playmate, Steven Moscoe, pleaded for mercy before he died under a rain of knife blows Saturday afternoon, Martens told police through a trained interpreter.

Coroner John Johnson said the younger boy's skull was fractured and he was stabbed 47 times.

Martens told police he lured Steven into a clump of timber on the pretext of showing him a dead rabbit, then killed him to get revenge. Steven, he said, had run into his bicycle repeatedly and damaged it.

Steven was the son of Marine Sgt. Lawrence Moscoe of Newburgh, N.Y.

Seaway Shows Traffic Hike

OTTAWA (CP) — Seventy-two per cent more cargo was carried through the St. Lawrence Seaway to the end of October than through the old St. Lawrence canals in the corresponding period last year.

The seaway authority said today that from the start of the navigation season in April to the end of last month 17,400,000 tons were moved from Montreal to Lake Ontario—7,300,000 tons more than in the same period of 1958.

Governor-General Medals Awarded Vancouver Pair

Muriel Joyce Watney of the University Hill Junior-Senior High School, Vancouver, has won the governor-general's bronze medal for all-round excellence.

The presentation was made in Vancouver Friday by Education Minister Peterson.

The department said the silver medal for a high school average of 95.25 per cent goes to Donald Murray Duggan who has been a student of the J. L. Jackson Junior-Senior High School at Salmon Arm, B.C.

He will be presented with the medal at Salmon Arm on Dec. 11 by Lands and Forests Minister Williston.

ACROSS THE PROVINCE

Patients 'Pushed' Home From Crowded Hospital

(Compiled From CP)

KAMLOOPS — An official of Royal Inland Hospital here said Sunday doctors are sending patients home early to help relieve a serious bed shortage in the institution.

John Maynard, assistant administrator of the hospital, said one person had been refused admittance during the weekend because of overcrowded conditions.

He said the situation had eased since Friday when doctors were asked to release patients to make room for emergency cases.

He said figures on the increased number of patients being admitted to Royal Inland indicate that within three years it will exclusively be an emergency hospital.

"If this happens patients will have to remain at home until their condition becomes an emergency."

Beds are set up in the corridors, some in positions which nurses cannot reach. Mr. Maynard said the beds should not be in corridors because the building is not fire resistant and there is no nurse call system for those patients.

MISTAKEN FOR DEER

MISSION—Gerald Helgason, 17, was fatally shot Saturday when he was apparently mistaken for a deer while hunting with two companions at Steelhead, eight miles north of here. He was shot in the back.

WEEKEND MISHAPS

Three persons were killed in traffic accidents and a man was burned to death on the Lower Mainland during the weekend.

Robert Allen, 34, of North Vancouver burned to death early Sunday when a chesterfield on which he was sleeping caught afire, apparently from a cigaret butt.

CAPTAIN GIVES IN

VANCOUVER—The captain of a Panamanian freighter signed an agreement Saturday, settling a dispute over conditions and pay with seven striking crew members.

The freighter Theomania got up steam and sailed Sunday for Venezueala, with stops en route.

It took another strike Saturday by the crew members — who had earlier protested against poor food and lack of overtime payments — to get Capt. John Polimas to sign an agreement that no action would be taken against the strikers when they return to Greece, their homeland.

TORY RENOMINATED

TRAIL — Lawyer Peter Dewdney, runner-up in Kootenay West in 1958, was renominated Saturday night by the riding's Progressive Conservative association as candidate for the next federal election.

YEGGS ESCAPE

HAMMOND — Three men blew open a safe in this Fraser Valley community early Sunday and escaped with $365 after evading a police roadblock.

The men jumped out of a stolen car as it approached a roadblock near the Pitt River and the car crashed into an oncoming RCMP cruiser.

Cpl. Ralph Brown, driver of the cruiser, escaped uninjured.

The men fled on foot and a police search party, aided by a tracking dog, failed to pick up their trail. The men blew open the safe at the Eagle Club here.

RESCUED FROM WATER

AGASSIZ — A 27-year-old man whose car plunged over an 85-foot embankment lay three hours in the shallow waters of Harrison Bay early Sunday before being found.

Vern Rouleau was driving to his home at Lake Errock, about 55 miles east of Vancouver, when his car jumped the road and plunged into the bay.

Suffering a possible fractured lung and other undetermined injuries, Rouleau was found three hours later by an unidentified motorist who pulled him out of the water.

He was taken to Mission Hospital where he was in satisfactory condition.

CALGARY (CP) — Richard E. Hall, an Athabasca theatre operator, Saturday was elected president of the Alberta Liberal Association.

Selected Visitors For Lester Patrick

Lester Patrick had special visitors at the weekend at his home where he is convalescing from a bout with pneumonia, but general visiting is still prohibited by his doctor.

The 74-year-old figure from the world of hockey was discharged from St. Joseph's Hospital Friday and began what is expected to be a long recuperation at his Linden Avenue home.

Mrs. Patrick said he is allowed to get up several times daily, but he must not overtire, and it will be at least a week before he can have visitors apart from members of the family.

Mao Trying To Sabotage Summit Meet

LONDON (UPI) — Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse-Tung is trying to sabotage an East-West summit conference for the second time, diplomatic dispatches reported today.

Mao succeeded in blocking a summit conference in August, 1958, after an emergency meeting in Peking with Premier Nikita Khrushchev and now is slowing down Russian pressure for an early summit meeting.

Diplomatic sources said there has been an almost total absence of pressure from Moscow for a top-level meeting and that Khrushchev himself has been notably silent on the conference he long has demanded.

Communist affairs experts said behind Peking's desire to thwart a top-level East-West meeting was a suspicion of independent Soviet moves at Red China's expense.

There also was Peking's anxiety that a meeting involving the leaders of the Soviet, United States, Britain and France would tend to exclude Red China from international councils from a long time to come.

Late reports from the Far East also mention fresh signs of Red China's aggressiveness on a wide front in the Far East. Peking is embroiled in a border dispute with India, has revived its liberate-Formosa campaign, is mixed up in Laos and now is having difficulties with Indonesia.

Russia Can't Afford to Go Alone

The reports indicated Peking was determined to have a free hand in the Far East regardless of Russia's current peace campaign and that considerable tension had resulted between Peking and Moscow over policy, ideology and economics.

Diplomatic reports said Russia cannot afford to go it alone against a Peking veto since both members of the alliance are largely dependent on one another.

Diplomatic sources noted that Khrushchev, although he had been promoting an early summit conference, is planning meetings first with a number of Western leaders. And his visit to President Charles de Gaulle of France is set for late spring, making an earlier summit conference impossible.

There was speculation Khrushchev also may hold off on a summit conference until after President Eisenhower's visit to Russia, probably in June.

APRIL OR MAY

West Agrees On Date

PARIS (Reuters) — The Western powers have agreed to propose to Russia to hold an East-West summit conference between April 25 and the end of May, it was learned today.

Quarters close to the French government said the United States, Britain and France agreed on this after consultations with the West German government.

In Bonn, a West German government spokesman forecast the West would propose a summit date in April or early May.

The final Western plans for the summit talks will be determined at a meeting of the Western heads of government in Paris, Dec. 19.

In London, an authoritative informant said there has not yet been any firm agreement among the Western powers on a date for the summit meeting.

Immigration Probe As Sailors Desert

HALIFAX (CP) — Immigration officials today planned to question 21 seamen to decide what action to take against them for walking off the British bulk carrier Westriver Sunday.

A department spokesman said, "We believe it's a case of repatriation rather than deportation."

H. P. Wade said the United Kingdom sailors would be asked to justify leaving the Westriver before the vessel left under tow for South Shields, England. Only 16 of the vessel's 37 crew members are making the 3,000-mile crossing. The 10,000-ton freighter is being towed to England for engine repairs.

He said there was a possibility of a marine inquiry, but "we have no word yet that an inquiry board will be set up."

The dissident crew members walked off the vessel because she was "unseaworthy."

A representative of the ship's American agents — Wilson Marine Transit Company — said some charges of the crew were "idiotic." He said the ship's seaworthiness had been certified.

Murphy to Run Again In Saanich Election

Coun. Stanley Murphy, a staunch supporter of Reeve George Chatterton's planning policies for Saanich, will seek re-election to the council in the December 17 elections.

Mr. Murphy, a school teacher and chairman of the lands and planning committee, said today he opposes any policy leading to the topsy-turvy development in Saanich which will "eventually lead to higher taxes and waste of public monies".

Saanich, he said, is expanding so rapidly it is necessary to plan ahead for roads, parks and water.

As an example of what planning for Saanich had done, he said the council has acquired 95 per cent of the right-of-way along McKenzie Avenue for development into a major east and west highway when the necessity arises.

TO PAY OFF

"This was done by setting aside a fund for the acquisition of land for future roads," he said. "It will pay off in a few years as the population increases."

"In my opinion the planned development of Saanich is vital," he said. "Today's investment and development capital will not move into an unplanned community. Industry and commerce want good services, good roads and adequate parking areas."

Hat in Ring For One Year

Oak Bay councillor Fred Hawes, a six-year council veteran, said today there is "a possibility" he will run again in the December municipal elections but that it would be for one year only.

"I am not considering running for a two-year term."

He said he would probably run for the council position left vacant by Geoffrey Ellis, who will contend for the reeveship. Mr. Ellis resigned in midterm for this purpose.

Coun. Hawes' official decision will be announced at council meeting tonight.

24 Killed In Air Crash

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Twenty-four persons died Saturday night in the crash of an Afghanistan Ariana Airways plane shortly after it took off from Beirut Airport. Three passengers survived.

The airliner smashed into a mountainside three minutes after it took off for Kabul, Afghanistan.

Two men and a woman were pulled from the wreckage with severe burns and other injuries. They were taken to a hospital in critical condition.

ANTI-RED SLATE ELECTED

Castro Rebuffed By Labor Group

HAVANA (UPI) — Cuban unionists rebuffed Premier Fidel Castro early today by electing a Communist-free executive committee for the CTC Union Federation.

The executive committee chosen shortly after 4 a.m. by an overwhelming majority of delegates to the CTC convention included only three supporters of a Communist-backed "unity" plan, and all of them identify themselves as non-Communists.

Although Castro had appealed to the convention for unqualified adoption of the unity plan, only 16 of more than 3,000 delegates voted against the non-Communist executive slate. The Communists abstained.

The three unity supporters on the new executive committee were CTC Secretary General David Salvador, Jesus Soto and Jose M. De La Aguilera.

The election was denounced by Faustino Calcines, leading proponent of the unity plan, and army Capt. Gustavo Mas, leader of the Airline Workers' Union.

Calcines charged that the non-Communist slate gave important posts to "Mujalistas" — supporters of the regime ousted by Castro on New Year's Day.

"The rightists and Mujalistas are trying to sabotage the convention," he snapped. "Opponents of the unity plan are an obstacle to the forward movement of Fidel Castro's plans."

Ban A-Tests Toronto U. Group Urges

TORONTO (CP)—A University of Toronto faculty committee has called for cessation of the testing and production of all nuclear weapons.

In a letter to staff members today, the committee asked for signatures on a petition to be presented to Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

The letter said world leaders must break with traditional diplomacy to effect an end to the testing and production of nuclear weapons.

"The major powers are now involved in an armaments race, despite the proved tendency of such competition to provoke, rather than to prevent, conflict," the letter said.

PREVENT SPREAD

It also called for measures to prevent the spread of such weapons to countries that do not have them.

J. Tuzo Wilson, professor of geophysics and president of the International Geophysical Year, said Sunday he has already signed the petition.

The committee will ask for student support of the petition at an open university meeting Wednesday.

Ottawa Studying Changes On Pensioners' Residence

By TOM GOULD
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—The federal government is considering legislation to enable old age pensioners over 70 to draw their pensions while living outside of Canada.

No cabinet decision has yet been reached, but some officials said today legislation could be introduced at the coming session of Parliament, which opens Jan. 14.

Under existing regulations, pensions are cut off after the pensioner has lived for more than six successive months out of Canada.

Eligibility requires six months' Canadian residence a year.

The United Kingdom and the U.S. allow their pensioners to live anywhere in the world, without loss of pension.

In 1957, the limit was three months, but the Diefenbaker government doubled it. When in opposition, the Conservatives frequently urged the government to make pensions payable regardless of residence, for humanitarian considerations, and because theoretically, old age pensions are fully contributory, and paid as a matter of right, not privilege.

Amending the existing law would enable many pensioners to live with relatives in the U.S. and other countries, and some would move to countries where the rate of exchange will allow them a higher standard of living on their $55 a month pension.

Centennial Planning Urged by PM

OTTAWA (UPI) — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker said today he has suggested to the 10 provincial premiers an immediate start on plans for Canada's centennial celebrations in 1967.

The prime minister said he asked the premiers in a letter Nov. 5 for suggestions and for the naming of a minister and one other representative from each province to a provincial national committee to draw up plans.

Diefenbaker also said that Gov.-Gen. George P. Vanier has agreed to be patron of the undertaking.

Diefenbaker said the centennial should involve all three levels of government, church and religious bodies, cultural organizations, business, labor, agriculture and all elements of Canadian life.

A Strangling Ribbon

THE CAPITAL REGION PLANning Board has directed Provincial Government attention sharply to the ribbon development occurring on the Island Highway outlet from Douglas Street to Goldstream.

Municipal Affairs Minister Wesley Black says "we certainly will give the matter consideration."

The provincial taxpayers who put up $3,250,000 for that stretch of road have every reason to question the tense in which Mr. Black speaks. Why hasn't the Government already given the matter consideration? Why has it allowed one of the very things the new outlet was supposed to avoid?

The planners report that in the four years since the highway section was built 10 commercial developments have been permitted with direct highway access at scattered points. Four more commercial developments have taken place with indirect access. Beyond this, wide frontages are being advertised for sale for commercial purposes and there are 40 additional entrances to the highway not including private driveways.

This is the costly cutoff created to speed traffic into and out of the city. It was to replace the meandering lower part of the old highway which was banked by a succession of commercial enterprises.

Apart from blocking out the scenery on the new stretch, ribbon development, the planners point out, progressively retards traffic and gives rise to new hazards.

A case can be made for small community growth beside an expressway. If the road cuts through privately owned property, it is reasonable to give the private owners the right to build on their holdings. But when such construction occurs there are ways of controlling it so that the main purpose of the fast highway is not defeated.

Setbacks are required and outlets to the highway are restricted to a minimum. This is possible where a development includes a local road running parallel to the highway in such a way that it services the buildings but is connected with the highway only at certain spots, preferably where a signal light has been installed. Such is the practice followed by many parts of the United States where large territories have been opened up by highways, but not to the detriment of long-haul traffic using the arteries.

All this was known to the Provincial Government authorities when they built the new outlet from Douglas Street to Goldstream. That ribbon development has proceeded is not due to ignorance.

At this late date the minister of municipalities says the Government will give the matter consideration. Is it necessary to wait until the horse is stolen before the barn door is closed?

The Indian After School

MRS. ELLEN FAIRCLOUGH, Canada's citizenship minister, expresses the conviction that the key to integration of Canada's growing Indian population lies in education.

"In integrated schooling I see the development of better understanding between Indian and non-Indian," she adds.

There is unquestionable merit in the minister's view. But integrated schooling by itself is not and will not be enough.

In British Columbia the common use of public schools by Indians and non-Indians is established practice. In fact some areas have progressed to the point where schools, elementary and high, have been constructed by the department of Indian affairs and the regular provincial authorities on an equitable cost basis.

Outstanding and successfully operated examples among a dozen or more in British Columbia are at Bella Coola, Masset, Skidegate, Hazelton and the Alberni school district.

A survey at the beginning of last year placed the total number of Indians attending provincial public schools at about 2,200. Of these 1,400 were in elementary grades, 650 in junior high and the rest in senior high school. The totals are higher today and the Indian Affairs branch pays $15 a pupil per month for their instruction.

But the mere fact that Indians and non-Indians sit at adjacent desks in the classroom is no assurance that they will grow up to work shoulder to shoulder in different trades and professions, or mingle socially.

For one reason the advancement of the student, no matter what his race, depends to a very substantial extent on the home atmosphere from which he comes and the importance attached by the household to education.

It has been the regrettable experience of some British Columbia grade schools that Indian students frequently come from homes in which substandard housing directly impedes their chances of advancement. The same obstacles can exist for white children. In the majority of cases, however, housing for the latter is better.

Moreover, where Indian communities leave the educational job almost entirely to schools and neglect to send their children to class when families migrate for seasonal labor, the young natives have a very restricted opportunity to proceed to higher education.

Some do go through high school and on into university. The percentage, nevertheless, is relatively low.

Ground is unquestionably gained by Indian children sharing classes with white children under a good school system. But much of the benefit is lost if the Indian children return to an environment unfavorable to further progress when, or before, they pass through high school.

For the Indian, no less than the non-Indian, good education, even in its formal sense, is not limited to the school.

Far From 'Too Old at 40'

THE "TOO OLD AT 40" SLOGAN seems to have taken another beating.

A new labor department report released the other day in Ottawa indicates that white-collar workers past the half century perform quite as well as, often better than, younger employees.

The analysis sets the years from 51 to 55 as the time of peak performance and says that after the latter age, the older worker, while still comparing favorably with his junior, begins to lose his marked superiority.

Work accomplishment is, of course, an individual matter. Some men entering established retirement age brackets still preserve their vitality and abilities and have the added advantage of lengthy experience. Others show signs of failing.

The labor department report would not deny this. It does, however, draw attention to the false assumption that comparative youth is the essential ingredient in good work performance.

Youth will be served, they say —and often by the older person because the older person does a better job of providing the service.

Philosophy From The Stilt

"WILT THE STILT" CHAMberlain, the seven-foot-one basketball player who scores shooting downward, has been taking his bumps in the professional game and preaching an interesting philosophy.

Wilt has been advised to hand out a few bumps of his own on the theory that he will be pushed around by opponents if he fails to retaliate.

He replies by sinking more baskets, setting up more sensational scores and preserving his equanimity under punishment.

"Everybody says to knock the other guy off the floor," explains Chamberlain. "That's not my way. I just want to play my normal game. I don't want trouble. If I shoved the other fellow, he might get mad and play even better."

Hurray for Wilt the Stilt and his independent cast of mind. He might further point out that a certain Mr. Gandhi also used passive resistence to good advantage in the fairly important game of world politics — though the rules have changed a little since then.

HIGHWAY VICTIMS

By B. A. TOBIN

Memory Lanes Forgotten

Tobin

THIS is an era of battle between the cities and the countryside, I don't refer to the traditional struggle of townies versus hicks—that feud has almost entirely died out owing to the difficulty of distinguishing between the combatants. When so many city workers live in the country, and farmer-businessmen spend so much time in the city, their interests tend to become merged and Joe Doakes is a country man or a city man only by reason of the hat he happens to be wearing at the time.

No, the battle of today is a territorial or geographical one. It's trench warfare in which the trenches are dug to hold sewer pipes instead of spuds, in which boulevards are replacing cabbage patches, and the "south 40" refers to building lots, not acres.

The paved streets are creeping into the rural areas. Whole blocks of houses go up almost overnight where once farmers ploughed their land. Your householder raises a carport now, instead of a barn; telephone poles stand where the old orchard blossomed.

Double Jeopardy

Naturally, as in any battle, there have been casualties. And sometimes even the wounded get shot at.

I remember several years ago on a drive outside New York City being shown a new development. In a subdivision only a year or so old were a number of new and expensive houses. As we drove by, some of the homes were being torn down. The reason was that a new super-highway was being pushed through the district, and the homes happened to stand in the way. The houses that had replaced the old farm buildings were in turn ousted in favor of further progress.

We don't move quite that quickly here, but the trend is the same.

Side Roads

Perhaps among the least-noticed casualties in this regard are the rural roads. One of the most attractive aspects of a day in the country—at least in the days when this involved getting off the high-speed arteries and stepping out of the car — was enjoying the country roads.

There is something particularly attractive about a winding country lane, the sandy ruts with a patch of grass growing between them, the lazy, unbanked curves, the trees or bushes along the sides, and the pleasant vista that each turn brings.

These are roads for slow travel: for strolling, for riding a horse at a walk, for lolling in a wagon behind a plodding team. The crunch of gravel under foot or wheel, the brush of an occasional low-hanging spray of leaves—these are among the pleasures of a country road.

You have to go pretty far afield to find one now, although here and there a few vestiges are left near town. The southern end of Finnerty Road has long been such a byway. It survived the logging of the property on either side; the young trees and shrubs have grown in again close to the shoulder of the road.

True, it is a little too wide to be called a lane, and it is paved—a serious defect. But it, and Gordon Head Road, and the section of Cedar Hill Crossroad near them still retain the briar bushes and the thickets that give a suggestion of the quiet rural lanes they once were.

Even this hint will not last long. Already Finnerty is being given a southern through-connection, and with the College taking over Gordon Head Camp it is easy to predict the widening, paving, straightening, clearing and streamlining of this byway.

Borrowed Time

The little lane winding through the maples at Goldstream Park is another survivor. Its sandy track passes under a canopy of arching bows, curves around the great tree boles and catches the sky in puddles that fill the ruts. How long will it escape the bulldozer and the grader? (Or has it, for it's several months since I was there.)

How long can it evade the improvements that will make it easier to drive a fishtailed car along its length—smoother, faster, more efficient?

The road builders have done well. Thanks to their work you can be under the trees at Goldstream within a few minutes now. But will they leave it at that? Will they recognize that being under the trees is the goal, that when you get there you've arrived, and that it isn't necessary to fix things so that you can whizz through the trees and get to somewhere else?

The test of an after-dinner speaker is that he knows where to stop. It should apply to road builders too. And, of course, to columnists.

No Military Togetherness

POLITICIANS have short memories.

Recently Defence Minister Pearkes dismissed as just a "dream" a suggestion by Opposition Leader Pearson that the time had come for the "complete co-ordination of armed services, amounting to single control." When it was brought to Mr. Pearkes' attention he scoffed. But it was just a short time ago, when he was in opposition, in April, 1957, that he had similar suggestions to make to the House. Then from the Opposition benches Mr. Pearkes was commenting on the success of Canada's tri-service colleges.

Canada might experiment further in that direction he declared, Canada might experiment with the "possibility of a unified command." Now it's just a "dream" to Mr. Pearkes.

Muddle

Mr. Pearson has explained that he is not advocating unification of Canada's armed forces. He made this point when he called a press conference and flayed the Government's defence policies. Asked to sum up his impressions of the Conservative defence program he snapped, "An unguided muddle."

He promised to explain at a later date just what he has in mind when he talks about co-ordination of the services. He added that he was not advocating integration of the forces. Just what he is advocating he will make clear in the coming session of parliament.

Good Shape

The man who had a good grip on politicians has retired. He is Joseph Tremblay, physiotherapist on Parliament Hill. After 19 years of pounding and pummelling the parliamentarians he is retiring at the age of 71. Looking back over the six parliaments he described one man as standing out above all the rest as the model of physical fitness. That man is Hon. L. B. "Mike" Pearson. The Opposition Leader at 62 years of age was his choice as the member of Parliament who is in the best shape, physically.

Surprise

Mr. Tremblay's selection of Mr. Pearson as the choice physical specimen caused some surprise because a member of the cabinet, Hon. George Hees, is generally regarded as the MP who has the best physique. At 49 years of age Mr. Hees works hard at keeping fit. He skis on the Ottawa valley slopes, he swims winter and summer and he walks around Parliament Hill whenever the Houses rises. In blistering or freezing temperatures Mr. Hees can be seen striding around the hill breathing deeply.

Second

But the physiotherapist placed Mr. Hees second to Mr. Pearson. Why? What's the secret of Mr. Pearson's good health? Simple according to Mr. Tremblay.

"The man's in balance; he's steady, at peace with himself and the world. He seems always to have understood that excess in anything is for the very young. He is a model of moderation in everything he does. Physical well-being is a state of mind as well as body and Mike Pearson thinks fit."

Prime Minister

What about the prime minister? How does Mr. Tremblay rate the physical condition of Mr. Diefenbaker? He says he can't be sure. "Since he became PM I haven't seem him close enough or long enough to know for certain." But he believes Mr. Diefenbaker is in good health and he pointed out that the PM's vigor is undiminished.

"But for his own good he should slow down a little. A man may enjoy his work to the point of living for little else, but there must be times for his own physical well-being that he should ease up. If the PM is finding relaxation, and I'm told he is, then he will be fine."

Pipeline

Biggest physical and emotional strain encountered by members of Parliament during Mr. Tremblay's career in the Centre Block, came during the pipeline debate. Many of the MP's dropped down to his "rubbing" salon in a near state of collapse from tension during those hectic times. But the man who was in the "eye" of that hurricane debate, Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, never showed up for a "treatment." Mr. Tremblay's impression of Mr. Howe, "hard and wiry."

Health

A man holding the post of prime minister has to be in good health to stand the strains and stresses. Prime Minister Diefenbaker is reported to have set a record for travelling during the past 13 months with a total mileage of 77,000. According to those who have been keeping track of his trips he has travelled some 37,000 miles by air in Canada alone in the past year. Usually at the end of the journey there are two or three speeches to be made, hands to be shaken and scores of people to be met.

Uplands Park

My wife and I were filled with dismay and sadness at the recent plan to develop Uplands Park on the lines of Beacon Hill Park.

The latter is rightly a source of pride and pleasure to Victorians, but it does us no harm to remember that its prototype is Kew Gardens, England, and its like is to be found in many parts of the world. On the other hand we should realize that Uplands Park is unique to Victoria and that it represents a habitat of great natural beauty that has almost disappeared.

Come spring, this park, steeped in its wild-flower setting, is one of the loveliest sights in all Victoria. One could approve this project for almost any other site but Uplands Park where it is no less than a violation.

Anybody with the slightest sense of historic value, the most elementary knowledge of ecology, should appreciate the need to preserve this small corner of Victoria in its natural state. If the park is to be developed on the model of Beacon Hill Park, the statement that the natural beauty of the park will be retained can only be made with tongue in cheek. Obviously the whole character of the park must alter in the process.

Victorians should act to show their disapproval of this well-meaning, but misguided proposal.

Farm Problems

It was with genuine surprise that I read in the Wednesday Colonist the two press releases from Mr. Newton Steacy, Minister of Agriculture for B.C.

His reference to the quality of strawberries grown on Vancouver Island is an echo of a statement made previously by a high official of a chain store. The truth of the matter is that strawberries grown on Vancouver Island have a high reputation and are eagerly sought by all processors and distributors. If, as Mr. Steacy claims, they are inferior to a California variety then it casts a reflection on the lack of research by his own horticultural branch or other departments of agriculture that they have not been able to propagate a substitute, yet we know they are doing their utmost with the limited funds allowed them for research work.

The minister's assertion that farmer institutes are declining in membership is true, yet it is not, as he avers, due to lack of enthusiasm, though what farmers in many lines of agriculture have to be enthusiastic about these days is a matter of concern.

According to statistics the 1951 census showed a decline in rural population of one-third for the decennial period. It is within the realm of possibility that the 1961 census will show a decline of 50 per cent or more after which it will be more rapid. One does not need to gaze long into the crystal ball to see that by 1971 all primary produce in B.C. will be grown by 100 or less integrated corporate farms.

This is an age of expansion and big business. Too true! But look out Mrs. Housewife and beware Mr. Minister. When that day comes the latters' services will not be required and Mrs. Housewife will pay the price asked just as we do now when we purchase a car.

In the meantime Mr. Editor, people in the vastly populated and hungry countries are eagerly awaiting the opportunity to take over our wide and open spaces after we have destroyed ourselves in our ignorance.

More Sports Fish

I noted with interest in your esteemed paper of November 9, that the Russians intend to double the number of fish hatcheries in the next seven years, to bring their annual production to the stupendous figure of 1,400,000,000 salmon. This is to halt its declining salmon runs.

It is quite realized that much has been accomplished on this coast for the Sockeye species, which is the best commercial salmon, but little for the coho and springs, which are the outstanding sporting fish.

The all-conquering brain of man has always shown that nature can be assisted, especially in the field of biology. After all, our poultry industry would not amount to much if it was not for incubators.

It is further put forward that the fishing in those early years was first class anyway, without recourse to artificial means of propagation. In these days when so many people are taking part in sport fishing, things are very different, and our stocks are rapidly declining.

The only hatchery I know of on this Island (I may be wrong) is one devoted to the propagation of trout and steelheads, which incidentally have voracious appetites for salmon eggs, and young salmon.

In eastern Canada, most rivers have small hatcheries established, otherwise salmon fishing would have long been a thing of the past.

Memories

Well do I remember free rides on the cable cars to men in uniform in Edinburgh, and the black nights, and a man in London selling me an article at reduced price because I was in uniform, and a woman from a poor miner's hut in France giving me a bowl of coffee at 5 a.m. one dark winter morning. I was not so fortunate in Belgium — just deep mud. These are things I remembered on November 11, 1959.

I was called out from an office job on August 2, 1914, to man the forts at Esquimalt. That night the sentry next to me called out three times "Halt! Who goes there" and fired at a boat out on the water. It was so dark I could not see a thing. That was two days before war was declared.

And then came Nov. 11, 1918 — so sudden — I could hardly believe it.

I could only sit down and wonder.

A WOMAN'S OUTLOOK

By RUTH ENKE

The Story Book

"THAT?" old Mrs. Carstairs said to her grandchild, Wendy, as they rummaged together in Mrs. Carstairs' bureau desk. "That's my address book and one of my special treasures. Look here, on the front page. It was given to me for Christmas when I was still a girl. In a way, it's like a story book."

Ruth

"Is it?" said Wendy and began an excited story about her friend Diane and the new Dalmatian pup Diane had got.

Mrs. Carstairs, listening, put the address book back into its pigeonhole. But that evening, before she began her Christmas letters, she took the book out again and thought about her own story book remark.

The remark had just popped out of her, and yet, the fat little book with the green leather cover was like a story book when you thought of all the people and places in it.

Good leather, she thought, and such smooth paper, and her maiden name inscribed in the round careful writing that had been hers 50 years ago.

Absent-mindedly, she turned the pages, and paused at a name among the C's.

Pam C—, she thought. What a pretty child Pam had been wtih her brown eyes and her fair hair, and all the young men so keen about her. And she'd married—for the moment Mrs. Carstairs couldn't remember Pam's first husband or his name. The second husband had been quite terrible. But Pam's third marriage had been most successful. Queer, how, in those days people felt so differently about divorce.

Among the H's, Mrs. Carstairs stopped at another name. To her, it meant a village in Devon, and Barbara, dear Barbara, selflessly doing her duty as the rector's wife. She could see her now—Barbara going to a Mother's Meeting, Barbara at the children's Christmas play, Barbara kneeling devoutly in that icy, centuries-old church.

And here, among the L's was Eileen whose husband's job had taken her from place to place so that her changing addresses filled two whole pages in the book. "Write to me," Eileen had implored from the Middle East. "The company's moving Bill again, and all I want is to have a permanent place and settle down."

There were so many stories in the book, Mrs. Carstairs thought. Sad stories, amusing stories, and some stories that one would be wiser to forget.

★ ★ ★

"Mary," she said to herself. "Mary's been dead for—let me see—it must be 15 years." She'd never crossed Mary's name from the book, and now that rather dull address in London brought back a picture of Mary, plain and sensible and writing so faithfully year after year. She had knitted sweaters for all the Carstairs children when they were small, and had been so good to Dick when he was overseas and had looked her up in London.

The war, thought Mrs. Carstairs. Here was Patrick and his wartime number, and here was Bob's Stalag address. Lord, how wonderful it had been to get his address and be able to write to him again. And Peggy had been so brave through those dreadful weeks of waiting.

"Dear little book," said Mrs. Carstairs. "But Wendy's so young, she wouldn't have understood about the stories."

Canned Air for Sale

Money for nothing: Obtainable in London for Australians who feel nostalgic for their native land—canned air. The label on the can says that it is genuine mountain air from Picnic Point, Toowoomba, in Australia. Cost per vacuum sealed can of nothing: 28 cents.

Reyburn

Also on the market: New playing cards in unconventional shapes—circular, in the shape of Zulu shields, and barrel-shaped. To test possible public reaction the manufacturers had them tried out by bridge champion Ewart Kempson, who gets through 400 packs a year.

His reaction: "The round ones are impossible to play with. The Zulu shields are a wretched novelty that I wouldn't be seen dead using. But the barrel-shaped ones are lovely to deal and lovely to shuffle. If a change must come, I'm all for a universal switch to barrel-shaped cards."

Not on the market: George (1984) Orwell's first novel, A Clergyman's Daughter. A London publisher wants to reprint it but he can't find a copy. To anyone who can provide him with one there's a $14 reward.

★ ★ ★

Feline novelty: Cats that never scratch and stay home at nights. That's certainly something different. Especially when you add the fact that they love swimming.

Some of this breed, which look just like ordinary cats, have been brought to England by three women who made the trek to Van, eastern Turkey, 100 miles from the Russian border, the only place where "amphibicats" can be found.

When they're out of their six months quarantine, it's hoped to breed them for sale in this country.

With the last of the spring flowering bulbs safely tucked away in the moist, cold soil where they will [illegible] ing roots, we can take time to look around for the odds and ends which can still be planted.

Tuberous anemones and ranunculi are often seen well grown here, since the length and coolness of our coastal springs are just suited to their flowering requirements.

The anemones are perhaps the more frequently seen, their large poppy-like flowers on sturdy six or eight-inch stems making a most attractive display.

Colors are vivid, and include scarlet, blue, lavender, white and pink. The flowers are single in the de Caen type, and double in the St. Brigid strain.

The tuberous ranunculi should only be planted at this time if the soil is light and well drained, or can be made so. Otherwise, March is better.

The flowers of the ranunculus are practically the same in form as the double anemone, but the colors fill in those which the anemone lacks. [illegible] yellow through the warm orange tints into scarlet.

A rich porous soil is needed for both kinds, though the anemones will take a heavier soil and still thrive. An open sunny location will induce early and continuous flowering, if ample water is provided as soon as rain ceases in spring.

A dry anemone tuber resembles a plug of tobacco, as one gardener puts it, and needs close inspection to decide which is top and bottom. The surface, with the knobs or growth buds is the top, while the bottom is rounded and smoother. If, in doubt, plant the tuber on edge, it will be better than upside down!

A ranunculus tuber is like a dog's tooth, and is planted claw down and the slightly fuzzy end up.

United Front By Europeans In Algeria

ALGIERS (AP)—European settlers have formed a united front to oppose President de Gaulle's policy of pacification in rebellious Algeria.

Influential veterans organizations and the Christian Democracy group of former premier George Bidault have joined the extremist Union Committee of National Movements.

Dr. Bernard Lefevre, union committee spokesman, said Saturday "only a scattering of insignificant movements which are still asleep" remain outside the united front.

"We are a revolutionary force," declared Lefevre, one of the leaders of the May 13, 1958, coup in Algeria that toppled the Fourth Republic and brought de Gaulle back to power.

The union committee's aim is to keep Algeria French at all costs. It is opposed to any negotiations with the Algerian nationalist rebels.

De Gaulle Friday rejected a rebel offer to negotiate on political conditions for a cease-fire with five Algerians now jailed in France. This appeared to have no impact on the union movement in Algiers.

"The day the committee launches an appeal to rise," Levefre said, "the whole of Algeria will rise."

U.S. WAITING ON GENEVA TALKS

A-Test Ban Showdown Coming

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower now seems certain to order an extension of the United States ban on nuclear weapons tests—but a few weeks only. Further extensions could follow.

Administration leaders are prepared to go along with the United Nations resolution adopted Saturday opposing any resumption of nuclear tests during negotiations for a permanent, policed test ban.

But the negotiations themselves are expected to come to a climax at Geneva in the first half of 1960, and a breakdown of the conference—now more than a year old—would bring a quick resumption of underground U.S. tests.

Eisenhower already has extended for two months—until Dec. 31—the one-year respite he originally put into effect at the end of October, 1958. He thus has more than a month during which he can act to keep the ban in effect.

KEEP UP PRESSURE

One tactical objective of the U.S. at the present time is to try to maintain the pressure on the Soviet government to keep the Geneva negotiations moving along.

The latest word on administration thinking came Sunday night from chairman John A. McCone of the Atomic Energy Commission in a television interview.

Opposing any prolonged extension of the present test ban, he said any such action should be taken on a week-to-week basis.

McCone also said he thought a Soviet suggestion for joint U.S.-Russian construction and operation of a gigantic atom smasher for nuclear research was "well worth studying."

Other countries might want to join in such a co-operative enterprise, he said, agreeing as a Soviet atomic scientist suggested last week, that there is need for only one super atom smasher.

PUT OFF TESTS

McCone said he thought the U.S. would be bound by the UN resolution to refrain from testing while the Geneva talks continued, but then he added that the talks should reach a make-or-break point early next year.

He implied that if it became apparent that the Russians were not willing to conclude an international test prohibition with inspections, the U.S. would seek to break off the conference and resume underground testing.

Whether Eisenhower would actually be willing to break off the Geneva talks and order a resumption of testing in advance of the summit meeting with Premier Khrushchev is, however, extremely doubtful.

Labor Policy Outline For Oak Bay Tories

Oak Bay Progressive Conservatives will hear proposals for formulation of a strong election policy on labor-management matters this week.

Glen McMaster, member of the Vancouver-Point Grey Association and chairman of a labor policy committee set up by the provincial executive, will be guest speaker at a meeting in the Municipal Hall Friday, Nov. 27, at 8 p.m.

William Gage, campaign manager for Oak Bay Conservative candidate James A. A. George, says the meeting will be open to the public.

Mr. McMaster presented a draft labor policy to the annual meeting of the provincial executive at a meeting at Harrison Hot Springs Oct. 28.

While it was not put to a vote, it was announced the draft policy would be sent to all provincial associations. Later, after it was studied and discussed, it would be presented to the executive again at its quarterly meeting in January.

The draft policy called for a public inquiry into current labor - management practices and formulation of a workable law to gover conduct of both sides in industrial disputes . . . apparently pre-supposing the junking of the Trade Unions Act (Bill 43) and other labor legislation.

It calls for a policy of collective bargaining with a method of safeguarding the democratic processes in union elections, and federal and provincial laws to safeguard union funds aaginst misuse.

It supports a shortened conciliation system with time limits to be observed for the legal calling of strike or lock-out action. The draft policy would prevent unions from forcing employers to hire workers not of their choice, if the workers preferred by the employers were also union members.

TODAY'S GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP)—Dealings were slow today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, with flax receiving the best action. Prices at the close were irregular for all grains.

Flax attracted early buying from commission houses and others. The market turned irregular near the close.

There were no reports of export business, but inquiry from the continent was indicated.

Oats and barley moved narrowly on a few shipping orders associated with feed supply. Some export interest developed in barley, with trade reports that two European countries were making inquiries.

Rye trade was light and local, with prices irregular.

Weekend export wheat loadings included: West Germany 820,000 bushels, United Kingdom 835,000 and Japan 505,000.

Lakehead prices for class two, IWA and domestic wheat were unchanged from Friday.

Trading Heavy, Prices Dip

Heavy trading on the Toronto exchange moved the market lower today, although some industrial issues showed good gains.

Space-age stocks got a life, meanwhile, on Wall Street the rest of the market was uneven.

AT TORONTO Moore Corporation was the biggest industrial winner, jumping 20 points to 1,920. Loblaw Inc. was next in line with a seven-point gain at 134. General Electric was up 4⅞ points at 83⅝, and Dominion Glass increased two points at 92. Consolidated Paper was up one point at 40¾.

Calgary Power was the biggest loser, dipping 1¾ points at 90½.

Mines with the exception of lower-priced issues such as Starratt, Head of the Lakes and Orchan, were relatively quiet. Most changes, with losses ahead of gains, were in 15-25-cent range.

Western oils, after a flurry of activity five days ago, were in the doldrums for the second week in a row.

AT NEW YORK Zenith rose well over 5 and Varian Associates about 4 while Ampex wiped out a loss of more than six.

Thiokol added a couple of points and General Tire, which has a rocket subsidiary, was up more than a point.

Among Canadian stocks Hudson Bay lost 1¼, Dome Mines ⅝, McIntyre Porcupine ½, and Canadian Pacific ⅛, while Granby Mining gained ⅝ and International Nickel ⅛.

AT MONTREAL industrials moved slowly at a lower level during moderate early afternoon trading.

Banks showed signs of dropping off after holding up during the morning with Montreal losing ⅝ at 53¾ and Canadienne Nationale ¼ at 52¼. Royal was up the same at 79¾.

Base metals continued to fall led by Hudson Bay, down 1 at 50. Noranda and Aluminium were down fractions.

Consolidated was a bright spot in papers with a one-point gain at 41 while Abitibi and Bowater fell off minor fractions. MacMillan "B" was off ¼ at 37½.

Calgary Power dropped ¾ for the biggest loss in a mainly-inactive utilities section.

AT VANCOUVER the market was dull with prices varying during the forenoon.

Beaver Lodge moved 1,000 at 13. Caribou traded 700 at $1.12. Pacific Nickel sold 900 at 59. Torwest moved 2,000 at 13. Trojan traded 2,000 at 7c.

AT LONDON, selective demand pushed stock prices higher. Steels were generally better.

The gilt-edged market was quiet and irregular, as were dollar stocks.

Golds were quiet and firm, coppers improved and oils eased.

Art 'Masterpiece' Copy Says Priest

NAPLES, Italy (UPI) — A priest-archeologist claimed today that one of 10 alleged pictorial masterpieces discovered in the home of an Italian emigrant in California was merely a copy of a painting in a Naples gallery.

Rev. Antonio Bellucci, a member of the Pontifical Roman Archaelogical Academy, said the copy was what Prof. Alexander Zlatoff-Mirsky of the Chicago Art Museum had described as the "lost masterpiece" of Michelangelo da Caravaggio with an estimated value of $1,500,000.

Father Bellucci said after seeing photographs of the California painting that he believed it was merely a copy of a painting which has been in the gallery of an order of Friars in Naples for 300 years. Even the original, he said, is not by Caravaggio.

The painting whose authenticity Father Bellucci challenged was one of 10 found in the home of TV repairman Alfonso Follo in Pasadena, Calif.

The paintings were described in Hollywood reports as ancient Italian masterpieces worth anywhere from $8 to $10 million.

Zlatoff-Mirsky said however that he had only restored the paintings and that the identification was made by Prof. Amadore Porcella of Rome.

Porcella told United Press International in Rome last Friday that he had positively identified only seven of the 10 paintings as "genuine masterpieces." These, he said, included Caravaggio's Maddalena.

'IMPORTS' BREAKING NEWS STRIKE

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Labor went on television Sunday night and claimed that Portland's two strike-bound daily newspapers imported professional strikebreakers to print their joint publication.

The 30-minute program came on the 13th day of a stereotypers' strike over work rules against The Oregonian and The Oregon Journal.

Union printers, pressmen, mailers, reporters and photographers have honored the picket line. The newspapers, however, joined forces and have published a joint edition every day since the start of the strike.

Managements of the newspapers have said the editions are being put out by supervisory personnel and some non-union help.

HER 'HOME' NOT NEEDED

'Block Mom Whyte' Plead Welfare Men

Leading city welfare officials have asked the provincial government to prevent Mrs. Bertha (Mom) Whyte from setting up a children's home in B.C. similiar to the one she operated in Bowmanville, Ont., before it was closed down.

But an official of the B.C. government's welfare department stated Saturday that Mrs. Whyte has not yet asked permission to operate such a home.

She would have to make application under the Welfare Institutions Licencing Act which governs all B.C. institutions, the official said.

Mrs. Whyte stated Tuesday that 12 adults and 15 children will be transferred from the closed-down institution to the Mountain View Home at West Summerland in the Okanagan.

"No permission is needed for this," the welfare official said, "as the 12 adults are members of Mrs. Whyte's staff and the 15 children are their own.

"But if Mrs. Whyte wanted to take in other children she would have to get permission. She has not sought permission as yet."

Victoria social welfare administrator William Hooson said Mrs. Whyte should not be allowed to operate an institution in B.C.

"We want to prevent establishment of this retrograde type of institution here," he said.

Glen Hamilton, executive director of Greater Victoria Community Welfare Council, and David Woodsworth, executive director of the Family and Children's Service, supported this view.

Mr. Woodsworth said that in B.C. everything possible is being done to plan for adequate facilities for needy children.

"We do not need this type of institution," he declared.

"Breath-taking!" says Mrs. Art Linkletter

"I'm partial to children," says Mrs. Art Linkletter. "I have five of my own, and Art's new book is all about The Secret World of Kids. Well, the children's photographs and fashions in the new December McCall's are absolutely beautiful. The whole Christmas issue of McCall's is breath-taking."

Hoffa Intervenes In Ontario Dispute

TORONTO (UPI)—Teamster union chief James Hoffa masterminded efforts Sunday to patch up inter-union strife in a 5,500-member Ontario local during a surprise four-hour visit.

Hoffa arrived here unannounced and immediately began conferring with local officials in an effort to dampen dissention in Local 938, which includes most of the province. The membership voted Sunday on a proposal for a temporary trusteeship to permit new elections. The vote will be counted Tuesday.

The cause of friction in the local was repeated demands of some Toronto members that local president Kenneth McDougal submit his resignation.

While McDougal has consistently refused to resign, he said he favored a new election. He added that should the members decide on such an election he will definitely be in the running.

Hoffa said he had deliberately stayed away from Toronto in recent years in order to avoid any impression that he was attempting to enforce his will on Canadian locals. He added that he has never done this in the past and never intends to in the future.

Hoffa said that while the Canadian local must run its own affairs, the international union will nonetheless offer any advice or support which may be required.

Hoffa warned the Canadian teamsters to be always on the alert against any restrictive legislation of the type which has recently been passed in the United States.

"Don't sit back and think that it can't happen here," he added.

Man Jailed Over Forged Food Voucher

Victor Finnson, no fixed address, earlier sentenced to five days in jail for vagrancy was sentenced Saturday to six months in jail for uttering a forged grocery voucher.

Police stopped Finnson with another man when they tried to sell coffee to passersby on Broad Street. They got the coffee with $5 vouchers obtained from Canadian Legion Remembrance Day Committee, but Finnson used the name C. Lightbody in obtaining 10 pounds of coffee from Canada Safeway. He was charged with vagrancy under the name Arnold C. Lightbody.

Police produced a lengthy criminal record in Canada and the U.S. dating from 1943.

The futility of trying to avoid a court appearance was pointed out to William Wallace, 2047 Oak Bay, who paid a total $15 in fines and $5 costs when he pleaded guilty to six parking meter violations and failing to appear on a summons.

"I didn't have the money," Wallace said.

"You'll land here eventually anyhow. There's no point in trying to keep a step ahead of the summons server," Magistrate William Ostler told him.

MORE URGED FOR DEFENCE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) has called for a $4 to $5 billion increase in military spending even if a tax hike is necessary to finance it.

Jackson, a member of the senate armed forces committee, Sunday denounced President Eisenhower's defence budget policies. He charged that the budget bureau and treasury are determining defence spending.

Attacking the administration's plan to hold defence spending next year to the present $41 billion, Jackson said the nation could spend $45 or even $50 billion annually on defence.

Shot to Death

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The president of the St. Louis County Water Company was shot to death Thursday by a man on whom the firm had foreclosed a deed of trust. W. Victor Weir, 57, was shot twice in the chest and three times in the right arm with a .38 calibre pistol. A first-degree murder warrant has been issued against Sam Iaconnetti, 49, operator of a restaurant in the foreclosed building.

Nehru Tells India Make Own Arms

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Prime Minister Nehru Sunday declared India must make its own arms to be independent of foreign "armament kings."

He told a meeting of his congress party the whole business of buying arms was "fraught with grave risks."

"It is full of all kinds of tricks and underhanded things," he said. "The armament kings bring pressure of a terrific nature on countries urgently needing arms."

Nehru said India needed a heavy industry of its own and appealed to Indians to make the necessary sacrifices to defend their country against Chinese Communist border attacks.

WHAT DOES THE LARK HAVE THAT THE OTHERS DO NOT?

IT HAS SIX BODY STYLES: New convertible, new 4-door and 2-door station wagons, hardtop, 4-door and 2-door sedans! Selection of seven sophisticated colors. Interiors handsomely appointed in distinctive vinyl or cloth upholstery. Nobody else has them. Why settle for less?

IT HAS A POWERFUL, THRIFTY V-8 OR SUPER ECONOMICAL 6: The Lark V-8 topped all other "eights" in last year's Mobilgas Economy Run. It's one of the fastest accelerating cars in Canada and yet it is more economical than some "sixes". Have your cake and eat it, too! The Lark V-8 (costs just a little more than the 6) offers all the advantages of new dimension cars plus potent performance matched to economy. The "six" offers spirited performance with, of course, greater fuel economy. Why be limited? Choose The Lark! (Important! The Lark couples safety with power . . . V-8 has biggest brakes of any car in its class.)

IT HAS A CHOICE OF THREE FINE TRANSMISSIONS: Automatic, conventional shift, or 3-speed with overdrive. Lark automatic transmission has a full range of speeds including Park, Neutral, Drive, Low, Reverse. Low and Reverse are purposely placed together for rocking the car out of snow, ice or mud. Lark three-speed synchromesh is smooth, decisive, sure and, with overdrive, the engine loafs at cruising speed and cuts your gas bills even more. Which one suits you best? The Lark offers this choice, the others do not!

IT HAS MANY UNUSUAL FEATURES: For example, reclining seats that make into beds, front seat headrests, hillholder, Twin Traction (for driving through snow, sand, ice or mud), 4-barrel carburetor and dual exhausts, choice of axle ratios . . . many, many more. None of the others have this wide variety of optional features from which to choose.

IT HAS PROVEN PERFORMANCE: 150,000 Lark owners have driven many millions of miles under every conceivable road and weather condition. Result: no "bugs" to iron out, no "hidden" mechanical faults . . . no problems for new owners. Dealers and service men everywhere know the Lark. Records clearly show that Lark service and maintenance costs are much less than the automobile industry average. How can you go wrong on that?

FOR WHOM THE TOLLS?

Bottles of Beer Build a Bridge

SURREY, B.C. (CP)—There is talk around Surrey of pulling the bridge business from under amateur bridge-builder John Santics.

John and some of his neighbors built a tiny footbridge across a ravine on the Santics property so their kids wouldn't have to walk two miles to school. The distance to school across John's bridge is one-quarter mile.

But now there's a sign on the bridge: "Only kids whose parents have contributed time or materials will cross."

Materials, say some of John's 99th Avenue neighbors, can include a bottle of beer.

Emil Karp, a newcomer to the area, said Sunday he is willing to work on the bridge, but John wants money and materials as well.

He hinted darkly that several others — whose sons, like Karp's must take the long road —are now considering a new route that would by-pass the Santics property.

"Even some of the men who first helped build the bridge disagree with what Mr. Santics is doing," Karp said.

The main problem on John's bridge is: Who helped build and who didn't? Those of the Santics neighbors who chipped in with labor or materials can send their kids across free.

Those who balked at the time, and others who have since moved into the area, are being asked to provide either work, money or bottled beer.

Since the path to the footbridge is across John's property, even the Public Utilities Commission says there's nothing in the books against charging tolls.

So those like Karp who have put their foot down about paying tolls find their sons putting two feet down—on the long way round to school.

Sent to Oakalla

Herbert Anderson, 729 Wilson, in Oak Bay police court Friday was sentenced to three months in Oakalla for stealing a boat.

The 43-year-old man had pleaded guilty to taking the 27-foot, $3,000, inboard cruiser Ripples from Oak Bay boathouse.

The boat belonged to David C. Michael, 376 King George.

Anderson was picked up by the U.S. tug Arthur Foss in the Strait of Juan de Fuca and returned to Victoria.

VOTE NEXT WEEK will decide fate of Louisiana's "Uncle Earl", Governor Long, who is running for the lieutenant governorship in the primaries despite setbacks that would make most politicians look for a place to hide.

School Orchestra Booked for Recital

The phenomenal skill of Greater Victoria Schools Junior Symphony Orchestra is receiving well deserved recognition from the adult music world in this city.

Having shared the program and delighted audiences of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra a few weeks ago, the ensemble has been selected by the Musical Art Society to fill the assisting artist's spot on the Mary Munn recital program, Wednesday evening at Oak Bay Junior High School.

Considering the fine calibre of Musical Art concerts, this is an especially bright feather in the junior orchestra's cap.

Directed by their outstanding teacher and conductor, Mrs. Dorothy Evans, they will play the first movement of Schubert's "Unfinished" Symphony, "Jazz Pizzicato" by Leroy Anderson, and "Orpheus in the Underworld," by Offenbach.

Miss Munn, one of Canada's foremost concert pianists of international reputation, has selected Beethoven's Sonata in C Major, Op. 2, No. 3, to open the program.

For her closing group she will play John Ireland's "Rhapsody," "Sing a Song of Sixpence," by Leo Livens, and two Etudes and the G Minor Ballade by Chopin.

The concert will begin at 8.30.

Sir Edwin Landseer, the great English artist who died in 1873, was exhibiting paintings at age 14.

Space Capsule Hunt Abandoned

VANDENBERG BASE, Calif. (AP) — The air force Sunday night gave up the search for the capsule of its Discoverer VIII satellite launched Friday.

It was the fifth time the air force put a Discoverer in orbit and failed in efforts to recover an instrument-laden capsule. The capsule recovery is described as a key phase in learning how to send a man into space—and get him back alive.

Information radioed from the rocket indicated the capsule separated from the rocket carrier and fell toward the sea near Hawaii. A retro-rocket fired, as planned, to slow its descent.

The air force said it had no indication the parachute on the capsule—which was to have dropped it slowly to the sea—opened as it fell. Planes were hoping to snare it with trapeze-like rigs as it dropped.

The planes, big Flying Boxcars out of Hawaii, didn't see it. But several planes and a search vessel reported hearing radio signals, apparently from the capsule's radio.

The rocket shell, barren of instruments, is expected to orbit another two months.

Thanksgiving Moon Shot Set Thursday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States is prepared to celebrate the U.S. Thanksgiving holiday by beginning a trio of shots into outer space.

The first could be a shot at the moon Thursday, Thanksgiving Day.

Also on schedule are a mid-December attempt to orbit the sun and an earth satellite about Christmas time.

The first two, if successful, would coincide with President Eisenhower's forthcoming 11-nation goodwill trip. The moon shot is set for a few days before he leaves; the sun orbit, during the trip.

If all goes well, the U.S. will be the first to put a satellite into orbit about the moon.

"Staggering!" says Mrs. Collingwood

After seeing the new, Christmas issue of McCall's, Mrs. Charles Collingwood had this to say: "The entire magazine is absolutely spectacular—just staggering. Fascinating holiday hairdos . . . brilliant but inexpensive gift ideas. I loved them all."

N.Y. STUDIES FLUORIDATION

NEW YORK (UPI) — New York will decide soon whether to follow smaller cities by fluoridating its public water supply.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner made public a report Sunday which showed it would be feasible to set up a fluoridation plant to fight tooth decay. The report said it would cost $445,941 to get the plant into operation and $888,950 a year to maintain it.

Wagner said he is convinced the plant should be built and will make a formal proposal to that effect in the board of estimate.

NOT A BOLT in Plymouth's body... not a jolt in Plymouth's ride!

What's so special about Plymouth's new Unibody?
It used to be that all automobiles began with a frame. Then the body was mounted on top of that and bolted down.

But bolts shake loose, rattle and rust out. And the more bolts you use, the more rattles you have.

Plymouth's solution: Make frame and body into one solid piece of steel. As shown above, the frame, body, crossmembers and exterior panels of your new Plymouth are all one solid unit without a bolt in it to mar the quiet of your Plymouth ride!

Plymouth Unibody: four times tougher, stays that way
The Unibody is one and one-half times stronger, end to end, than car bodies used by Plymouth competitors. It has twice the resistance to twist. And it is nearly four times as durable—by actual test!

In addition, this year, Plymouth has introduced a completely new system of rustproofing, more thorough and more effective than any ever seen in the auto industry. Every Plymouth Unibody is dipped (not just sprayed, mind you) a full seven times to [illegible] ever owned! Plymouth stays good-looking while you own it . . . brings a higher price when you trade.

Not a jolt in Plymouth's ride
Plymouth's new Unibody has wed so well with famous Torsion-AIRE Ride that even previous Plymouth owners will notice a wonderful difference in Plymouth's ride. Torsion-AIRE elements, front and rear, have been improved to keep you comfortably level through every start, stop, or corner you take in your '60 Plymouth!

There's much, much more to Plymouth, too, of course. So visit your dealer soon for a Plymouth drive.

Plymouth makes the big changes
Inclined, overhead-valve, six-cylinder engine—automatic swivel seats—automatic door locks—high-back driver's Command seat—push-button drive—push-button heating and ventilation—family-size space. Plymouth's solid for '60 all the way!

It's No Race As Canadiens Continue Climb

For the last two seasons, the National Hockey League has virtually been divided into two categories: Montreal Canadiens and the five others clubs.

It is beginning to look as if it will be the same this year.

Canadiens, floating along serenely on their first-place cloud, are making the race for the NHL title about as interesting as a duel between a battleship and a rowboat. Whipping Toronto 4-1 Saturday night and Chicago 3-1 Sunday night, Toe Blake's team rolled to its third weekend sweep of the season and extended its unbeaten streak to 15 games.

Meanwhile, down below, the usual scramble for playoff berths almost fizzled out. After the weekend action, Detroit, Toronto and Boston appeared to be hardly less solid playoff bets than Montreal.

LITTLE HOPE

For New York Rangers and Chicago Black Hawks, it would take a Canadien-style splurge to lift them into playoff contention even by Christmas.

Rangers made a game bid to pull their Sunday night home game against Detroit out of the fire, but were behind 5-3 at the finish.

The result left them eight points behind fourth-place Boston Bruins, who limited the opposition to five goals in two weekend games as they were tied 3-3 by Detroit Saturday and edged 2-1 by Toronto Sunday.

Black Hawks held Canadiens at bay for two periods but the Habs broke through in the third as Jean Beliveau fired his ninth goal of the season to break a 1-1 tie and Henri Richard put the game on ice with his 10th.

The Pocket Rocket also got the first Montreal goal. Eric Nesterenko slammed a screened shot through four players early in the second period for the Chicago tally.

Andy Bathgate's scoring splurges have been rare this season but he had one Sunday night and it was almost enough to push the Rangers to victory.

After Detroit had gone ahead 4-1 on first-period goals by Billy McNeill, Gordie Howe and Warren Godfrey and a counter early in the second by rookie Murray Oliver, Bathgate flashed the red light twice within 25 seconds to put the rangers back in the game.

A stout Red Wing defence kept them from doing any further damage and Gary Aldcorn wrapped it up in the third.

Post Stood In Way

MONTREAL (CP)—A freak touchdown with 10 seconds to play gave Lakeshore Alouette Flyers the Canadian intermediate football crown Sunday, providing a thrill-packed finish to an 8-1 triumph over Manitoba's St. Vital Bulldogs on a snow-covered field at Verdun Stadium.

Stocky George Alevisatos, a junior-age, 60-minute guard, was the scorer. He dove on a loose ball in the end zone after it struck a goalpost upright on a St. Vital punt-return kick in the final four minutes.

Marv Bergson made good on the convert and the Flyers bounced jubilantly off the field with the team's first national title since 1953.

FLYERS HAD EDGE

The game was bitterly contested. The bigger western club appeared to find the going a little harder with large icy patches on the field making footing uncertain. Lakeshore had a slight edge in play.

Both teams played a rushing game with Lakeshore piling up 179 yards along the ground to 134 for the Bulldogs.

The 30-year-old Bergson, who played briefly with Winnipeg Blue Bombers as a teenager, pushed Flyers into the lead in the opening quarter with a single.

Bulldogs knotted the score at 1-1 on Rod Bower's third-quarter single and it appeared overtime was imminent from that point on until the freak touchdown.

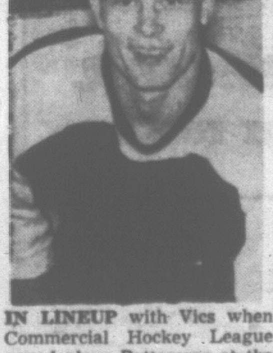
MacLEOD SINKS 12-FOOTER

Pressure Putt Keeps Birdie Battle Even

It was a battle of birdies in the home stretch of Sunday Victoria open button golf match at Uplands, but Ron MacLeod and Roy Chappell, of Victoria Golf Club, needed a pressure putt for a par on the 18th to hold the buttons.



IN LINEUP with Vics when Commercial Hockey League squad plays Pattersons at the Memorial Arena tonight is veteran Doug Bamborough. First game of weekly doubleheader starts at 7.30.

The Oak Bay duo finished all square with Colwood challengers Vic Painter and Bill McColl when MacLeod rapped in a 12-footer on the last hole to gain a half with Painter, who had rolled a 50-foot chip shot within inches of the cup.

Both pairs finished with a best ball of two under par. They will clash again on the same course next Sunday.

McColl and Painter were one up at the turn, but Chappell evened the match with a great birdie 3 on the long 12th hole and then boosted the Oak Bay team in front with another birdie at the 15th.

Painter squared things again with a birdie 2 on the short 16th and the 17th was halved to set the stage for the nerve-straining finish.

Bill Wakeham and Al MacLeod, of Gorge Vale, retained the junior buttons with a 3-and-1 victory over Cedar Hill's Dickie Munn and Kerry Greenwood in another rain-sodden match, shortened to 12 holes by mutual agreement.

Giants Back in Front As Conerly Opens Door

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Giants, regaining their touchdown touch with the return of veteran quarterback Charlie Conerly, Sunday moved back into sole command of the Eastern Conference in the National Football League.

The string around the top of the Western Conference was drawn tighter when the champion Baltimore Colts whipped San Francisco 49ers 45-14 to tie them for the lead.

Aided by Pittsburgh's 21-20 triumph over Cleveland, the Giants moved into a one-game lead over the Browns as they downed Chicago Cardinals at Minneapolis, 30-20, with Conerly passing for two of their three touchdowns and Pat Summerall kicking three field goals.

Johnny Unitas led the Colts to victory, passing for two touchdowns to hike his season's total to 24 touchdown passes and increase his league record of consecutive games in which he has thrown touchdown passes to 34.

STRONG CONTENDERS

Philadelphia Eagles remained in strong contention for the eastern division title by downing Los Angeles 23-20. The victory sent the Eagles into a tie with the Browns for second place.

Chicago Bears stayed at the heels of the Colts and 49ers in the western division with a 24-14 decision over Detroit Lions. In the other western game, Green Bay Packers shut out Washington Redskins 21-0.

Summerall's field goals from the 13 and 23-yard lines early in the second period put the Giants in front 6-0 but they still were looking for their first touchdown in three games when Conerly relieved starter Don Heinrich. The 38-year quarterback had been sidelined for two games with a bad ankle.

Conerly promptly guided a 75-yard drive topped off by Frank Gifford's 37-yard touchdown pass to Alex Webster for a 13-0 half-time lead. The Cards rebounded early in the third quarter when Bill Stacy scored on a 74-yard punt return and John David Crow went over from the one after a Giants fumble.

Conerly had the Giants back [illegible] first tossed a 33-yard scoring pass to Gifford and then another 45-yard six-pointer to Bob Schnelker. The Cardinals' only answer was a 69-yard punt return for a touchdown late in the finale.

HOMECOMING TRIUMPH

Height Disadvantage Didn't Slow Vikings

Even a two-inch average height advantage didn't help top-rated Vancouver YMCA against Victoria College Vikings Saturday night in a junior exhibition basketball game that featured homecoming weekend at the college.

The speedy collegians came on strongly in the fourth quarter to beat Vancouver 56-49 at the Gordon Head campus gym.

Led by Daryl Lorimer, with 19 points, Vikings abandoned all thought of a defensive game against the lofty "Y" team and used their speed to keep ahead of the visitors. Dave Black trailed Lorimer with 16 points.

Only defeat suffered by the College during the day's sporting activities was a 1-0 soccer loss to a strong squad from University of B.C.

Standout of the game was rookie goalie Lorne Priestley making his first appearance in the nets who let through only one shot of the continuous UBC attack.

College gained another win when the Viking "B" basketball side defeated Royal Roads 37-32 with a polished display of ball handling.

O'Neill's Stand Sparks Aussies

LAHORE, Pakistan (Reuters)—Norman O'Neill, rising star of world cricket, hit his first test century Sunday, and put Australia well on the way to becoming the first side to win a test series in Pakistan.

O'Neill scored 134 to give the Australians a first-innings lead of 165 with four wickets still intact.

Australia, who won the first test of the three-match series in Dacca last week, ended the second day's play at 311 for six wickets in reply to Pakistan's 146.

O'Neill hit 19 fours in his innings of three hours 40 minutes.

Cougars Must Work For Their Present

Front-Running Canucks Visit Cats Wednesday

Victoria Cougars returned home today from their first Prairie road trip, resting in the same position they enjoyed before they packed their bags for the jaunt.

But their hopes of grabbing first place as a Christmas gift aren't as bright as they were two weeks ago.

The second-place Cats lost ground when they managed only two victories and a tie in their six-game swing to Edmonton, Calgary and Winnipeg. They lost more ground Sunday night when Vancouver Canucks defeated Seattle Totems, 4-3.

NINE IN FRONT

Vancouver's victory Sunday night stretched their league lead to nine points over the Cougars.

Cougars, who polished off Calgary Stampeders 7-4, on the strength of Arnie Schmautz' four goals Saturday night, get a chance to cut Canucks' margin Wednesday when the two squads face off in Memorial Arena.

In the only other game played at the weekend, the last-place Spokane Comets surprised Seattle 4-3.

Eddie Dorohoy continued his assault on league records by scoring three points in Sunday's game.

Dorohoy, who reached the 800-point mark Friday night, added a goal and two assists to help Canucks edge Seattle. Dorohoy's 284 goals and 519 assists make his total well beyond anything else in league history.

Seattle almost took the game, coming back from a 3-0 deficit to tie the score on goals by Gord Sinclair, Guyle Fielder and Bill MacFarland. Ray Cyr scored the winner with two minutes and two seconds left.

Danny Belisle got two goals for Vancouver in the second period.

Saturday night's action in Spokane was almost a repeat as Seattle came back twice—the first time with two goals after being down 3-0 and the next with a single that scared the Comets while they held a 4-2 lead in the final.

TWO FOR TOPOLL

Del Topoll got two for Spokane, Al Johnson and Leo Amadio contributing singles. Fielder, Rudy Filion and Jim Powers were the Totem scorers.

At Calgary, Schmautz was a one-man power house as he put in four goals, Art Jones, Gordie Wilson and George Ford rounded out the Cougar scoring. Calgary's replies came from Ike Scott, Jim Moro, Sid Finney and Dusty Blair.

Stampeders carried a 2-1 lead into the second period and a 4-3 margin into the third. Victoria threw 49 shots in all at goalie Claude Pronovost while protecting Marcel Pelletier's nets from all but 27.

LICENCE REVOKED

Ruling Puts Cus Out of Business

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York State Athletic Commission today revoked Cus D'Amato's licences as a manager and second and suspended promoter Bill Rosensohn's matchmaking licence for three years. D'Amato is the manager of former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

Previously, the commission revoked the licence of Rosensohn Enterprises Inc., which holds the contract for the return bout between world heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson of Sweden and Floyd Patterson of New York.

The commission announced its decision after conducting a three-month inquiry into irregularities in the promotion of the first Patterson-Johansson title fight.

D'Amato, 50-year-old New Yorker, was found guilty on four of the five charges placed against him by the commission.

Counsel for Rosensohn Enterprises, headed by New York lawyer and politician Vincent J. Velella, had said he planned to test the commission's jurisdiction and take the case to the New York Supreme Court.

The action against D'Amato may rule out the Johansson-Patterson return fight.

Gar's Gang Stays On Unbeaten Path

VANCOUVER (CP) — Stirring comebacks by Reg Stone of Trail and Vancouver's Barry Naimark highlighted opening day's play in the fifth annual $9,000 Totem bonspiel Sunday.

Both scored two come-from-behind victories to end the day with unblemished records.

For Stone, the favorite, it was his 13th straight Totem bonspiel victory. He won 11 matches without a defeat in winning both primary and the grand aggregate events last year.

Naimark added an extra-end 9-8 win over Sam Gould of Princeton, B.C., to end the day with a 3-0 mark.

The week-long bonspiel ends Saturday.

Stone, six-time B.C. champion, overcame a 6-5 deficit with four on the eighth to edge a tough Roy Vinthers of Vancouver in the Totem event and then drew to the button with his last rock to defeat veteran Kells McMurdo of Vancouver 12-11 in Evergreen competition after trailing 4-0 after two ends.

Naimark, 1958 B.C. titleholder, came from behind with a pair in the ninth end to edge Victoria's Larry Marshall in Totem play and added a 9-6 victory over Victoria's Tony Gutoski in Evergreen competition, trailing Gutoski 6-2 as late as the sixth.

Naimark used a big four on the seventh to pull even with Gutoski, 1957 B.C. champion, and closed the door the remainder of the way to gain the verdict.

Others among the 136 rinks who maintained perfect records during the opening day included veteran Frank Avery of Vancouver, Bert Robertson of Edmonton, Nanaimo's Bob Fuller and Victoria's Gar Taylor.

Each ended with 2-0 records as they scored opening-round victories in both primaries.

Taylor had little trouble with either Vancouver's Jack Belhouse or Vancouver's Wally Kerslake, winning 15-4 and 12-5.

Casper Cashes Another One

MOBILE, Ala. (CP) — Open champion Billy Casper, Jr., nursed an ailing shoulder and a two-stroke lead to victory in the Mobile open golf tournament Sunday, shooting a 72-hole total of 280, eight under par.

The Apple Valley, Calif., pro won top money of $2,000 despite a closing 73, one over par for the 6,383-yard Mobile municipal course.

Wes Ellis, Jr., and Dave Ragan, tied for runnerup at 282 and earned $1,350 each.

The 28-year-old Casper now has won four of the last five tournaments he has entered, including last week's Lafayette, La., open. He now has won 13 tournaments since he joined the professional tour in 1955.

It also raised his earnings for the year to slightly more than $35,000.

Take at Tracks Tops Old Total

TORONTO (CP) — Horse-racing fans who visited the Fort Erie, Old Woodbine and New Woodbine tracks in 1959 totalled a record 1,799,305 and wagered a record $92,494,802, it was announced by the Jockey Club which operates the three tracks.

The club's operations showed a "gratifying increase" over 1958 when 1,768,968 patrons established the former wagering record of $89,902,595 Hendrie said.

TWO KILLED AS CAR HITS SPECTATORS

SAN JUAN, Argentina (AP)—Two men were killed and 15 persons injured Saturday during the first lap of Argentina's eight-day automobile road race.

A car driven by Carmelo Galbato swerved out of control and plowed into a crowd of spectators during the lap from Buenos Aires to San Juan.

The second lap, from San Juan to San Miguel Del Tucuman in northern Argentina, will be run today.

Royal Roads Squares Annual Rugby Series

Battling favored Venture to a standstill, Royal Roads regained the prized Hibbard Trophy Saturday in their annual rugby match.

Neither side scored tries and the game's final score, 6-3, was decided on two penalty goals by Roads star Wayne Hutchinson to one by Venture's John Halloran.

The game at HMCS Naden playing field was accepted by the Victoria Rugby Union as a league game and moved Royal Roads into fourth spot in the standings, two points ahead of Victoria College.

The trophy was won first by Venture in 1957 and last year the teams played to a draw.

James Bay's Charlie Bishop led the league leaders to their seventh straight win Saturday with three tries as the teams swamped last place Navy 41-3.

Game standout was Gary Pynn, who scored a try and kicked seven of nine convert attempts to bring his individual point total to 33. He trails Oak Bay Whites' Don Burgess, the union's top scorer, by 16 points.

Other James Bay scorers were Ken Roskelley, Gordon Hemingway, Ross Irving, Neil Clark and Ray Ramsay.

GRANT BUSY SCOUTING . . . . . . DIDN'T SEE EAST FINAL

Two Teams, One Objective

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg Blue Bombers leave today for Toronto, where for the first time this season they will turn their full attention towards Hamilton Tiger-Cats, their opponents in Saturday's Grey Cup final.

The western champions, defending Grey Cup titlists, planned to work out at the University of Toronto campus shortly after arrival. They will practice daily at the campus—close by their hotel—in preparation for Saturday's Canadian football classic at the Canadian National Exhibition Stadium.

While this will be the third consecutive Grey Cup meeting for the teams, the Bombers have been preparing for it with a minimum of information about this year's edition of the Ticats.

Hamilton won the eastern title Saturday by beating Ottawa Rough Riders 21-7 to win the two-game, total-point final 26-24.

Bomber coach Bud Grant didn't see the eastern final, either live or via television.

"It didn't matter much who won," he said Sunday. "We knew we were going to be in for a tough game no matter which club came out on top."

Grant travelled to Minneapolis Saturday to watch a couple of prospective Bombers play in a Minnesota-Wisconsin college game.

"Hamilton must be a good football team," Grant said. "They had to be good to come back from that 12-point deficit from the first game."

Bombers won the Grey Cup last year at Vancouver, downing the Tiger-Cats 35-28. In 1957, Hamilton won the Canadian title with a 32-7 cakewalk at Toronto.

The teams last tangled in an exhibition game at Winnipeg last August. Ticats won 8-5 in a rib-cracking contest that gave little indication of the offensive prowess of either side.

Spotters Picked Ticat Plays That Started Touchdown Spree

HAMILTON (CP) — A third-quarter fumble by Dave Thelen that paved the way for Hamilton Tiger-Cats' third touchdown was described by Ottawa Rough Riders' coach Frank Clair as the probable turning point in Saturday's Big Four football playoff.

The touchdown, scored on a forward pass from Gerry McDougall to Gene Jones in the final minute of the quarter, gave Ticats their vital margin as they beat Ottawa 21-7 and took the total-points series 26-24.

Thelen had picked up 18 yards to his own 43 before he lost the ball and Ernie Danjean recovered. Bernie Faloney tossed a 14-yard pass to Tommy Grant and then pitched out to McDougall to set up the score.

"That third-quarter splurge (during which Hamilton scored all 21 points) killed us and we couldn't handle their passing," said Clair dejectedly. "And when we had the ball we couldn't move on offence."

HURT ANKLE

A major factor was the inability of Canadian quarterback Russ Jackson, two-touchdown hero of Ottawa's 17-3 victory in the first game, to run the option. He said he aggravated his sprained right ankle in the first quarter.

Hamilton coach Jim Trimble, who was tossed fully-clothed into the shower by his happy players after the game, said he thought Faloney was perhaps trying too hard in the first half when Ticats missed on several scoring chances.

He gave credit to spotters Ralph Sazio and Jack Jacobs for suggesting the plays that got Grant in the clear for their passes to set up the first Hamilton touchdown. Trimble said they noticed that Ottawa had switched its defensive tactics and was shooting the linebackers through after Faloney.

It was decided to double-team Ottawa defenders Al Romine and Joe Poirier who had done a great job up to then of containing the Hamilton passing attack. With Faloney and McDougall clicking on the passes, the Ticats got three touchdowns within about eight minutes.

"We were so keyed up in the first half that we had a lot of fumbles and a lot of missed opportunities," said Faloney. "The same things happened in the second half that should have happened in the first."

Trimble said, "we damn near let time run out on us."

Hockey Honors Shared

Perennial threats in Bridgman Cup competition, Queen Margaret's School gained a draw with favored Victoria College in the annual grass hockey tournament Saturday at Oak Bay High School.

The Duncan school girls won all four of their divisional games earlier and held the college side to a scoreless draw in the final playoff.

College was given an unofficial edge in the 22nd annual tourney on the basis of a better point record.

Showing the benefits of complete familiarity with the game, Queen Margaret's swamped teams from Greater Victoria schools to gain the final.

A powerful and active college defence shut out the rest of the teams in five games and Queen Margaret's nets were only pierced once.

Two Straight For 'Toppers'

SASKATOON (CP) — Saskatoon Hilltops have proved beyond doubt that they're the best junior football team in the land.

They showed that they were the best in the West by walking all over Vancouver North Shore 61-7 last week. And on Saturday afternoon they crushed the eastern champion Toronto North York Knights 46-7 to retain their national title.

Last year at Montreal the Hilltops beat Notre Dame de Grace 18-14 in the Dominion final.

Halfback George Werezak, who had been the point-getting champion of the Manitoba-Saskatchewan League during the regular schedule, was high scorer again, counting two touchdowns.

Other Saskatoon points came on touchdowns by halfback Garnet McKee, fullbacks Brian Casselman and Evan Kyba, quarterback Bill Matheson and end Bob Myers, and three converts by Myers.

The only North York touchdown was scored by halfback Jim Cockburn and quarterback Norm Turner booted the convert.

Rain, Rivals Swamp Eager Harbor Lads

Salt Spring Harbor House players didn't want to miss their Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Soccer Association match Sunday, but today they may be wishing they had stayed safe and snug at home.

Despite heavy rains, the eager harbor lads turned up at Windsor Park for their scheduled Division 1 match with Heaneys. Association officials would have preferred to postpone the game as they did all other Sunday fixtures, but since the islanders were at the field, the match was played.

For their eagerness, the Salt Spring squad took a mud bath and a 10-3 beating from Heaneys on the soggy pitch.

Al Bowden scored four goals for Heaneys, Don Elphick added three, Ray St. Denis got two and Dave Collett collected one tally.

George Kay counted twice and Martin Bond once for Harbor House.

On Saturday a full slate of 13 games was played.

Speed, Spirit Paying Off For Ladysmith Booters

They have been saying around the Victoria and District Football League that Ladysmith didn't have enough power to stay in front of the league race once the veteran clubs rounded into condition.

But the youthful up-Island booters fooled them all, making their combination of desire and hustle pay off for five victories in their first six starts. They put the same formula to work at Ladysmith Sunday, using speed and spirit to pull out a 1-1 draw with Victoria West.

Wests, also a youthful squad, went ahead on a first-half penalty goal by Alan Glen and had their rivals in trouble most of the way. But the Ladysmith crew refused to yield and finally forced a tie on Bill Sampson's goal just before the final whistle.

However, the single point wasn't enough to keep Ladysmith alone in the top berth. Evcoes, unleashing a relentless attack in the mud at Reynolds Road, crushed Heaneys 9-0 to grab a share of first place.

Bill Mossey rapped in five goals at Naden as Canadian Scottish climbed within one point of the top pair by whipping winless Navy 7-0.

In the best match of the day, Kurt Lampert's goal midway in the second half gave Gorge Hotel a 3-2 triumph over Kickers at Beacon Hill. Goals by Chummy Crabbe and Harold Holroyd gave Gorge a 2-0 lead but Otto Petrovansky sliced the margin to one goal just before the intermission and then made it 2-2 early in the second half.

Esquimalt Dockers, who started the season with four successive defeats, chalked up their third straight victory in Saturday's only match.

Trailing 2-1 at half time at Royal Athletic Park, the Dockers erupted for five second-half tallies to down Saanich Thistles 6-4. Theo Koenig scored two goals late in the game to produce the winning margin.

CHENEY, Wash. (AP) — Eastern Washington College picked up two first-quarter touchdowns and two vital extra-point kicks which stood up for a 14-13 win over University of British Columbia in a non-conference football game here Saturday.

David Davis and Gerald McLain went over for the Savages and Alfons Alt kicked both extra points.

The Olafson brothers, Gordie and Jim, scored the Thunderbird touchdowns. Bob Barker converted the first one but missed his second conversion attempt by inches.

Huskies Clash With Badgers

From AP Reports

University of Washington Huskies will battle the Badgers of Wisconsin in the Rose Bowl college football classic at Pasadena, Calif. on New Year's Day.

Washington had no trouble clobbering Washington State 20-0 Saturday to gain the West Coast nomination. Wisconsin earned the bowl bid and wrapped up the Big 10 title by clipping Minnesota 11-7 while Northwestern, which was also in the running, got whipped 28-0 by Illinois.

Missouri and Texas Christian also clinched bowl berths Saturday as the gridiron season raced to a climax with two startling upsets in major games.

Southern California, which had been one of the remaining unbeaten-untied teams in the nation, fell 10-3 before cross-town rival UCLA. Penn State, which had lost only to Syracuse, was cut down by Pittsburgh, 22-7.

Syracuse now stands alone as the Goliath of U.S. college football—the only undefeated and untied major team in the country. The Orangemen made it nine in a row by crushing Boston University 46-0.

Southern Cal., beaten in the final quarter when UCLA scored the game's only touchdown, is on the NCAA probation list so the Trojan defeat actually had no significance in the bowl picture. But it should still any talk of the Huskies backing into the Rose Bowl.

Here is how the picture for other major bowl-games looks today:

Orange Bowl—Missouri vs. probably Miami (Fla.). Missouri wrapped up second place in the big eight by downing Kansas 13-9 and nailing down the berth. Oklahoma stopped Iowa State and wrapped up its 12th straight big eight title, but the Sooners were at the Orange Bowl last year and can't return.

Miami, which upset Michigan State 18-13 Friday night, will get the host spot if the Hurricanes get past Florida next week.

Sugar Bowl—Probably Louisiana State vs. Mississippi. LSU, which swept past Tulane 14-6, has been offered one spot and will vote on it Monday. The unofficial word is that Mississippi has been invited as LSU's opponent.

Cotton Bowl—Syracuse accepted a week ago, and it will be Texas if the Longhorns polish off weak Texas A. and M. Thanksgiving Day.

Gator Bowl—Arkansas, which came out on top of Texas Tech 27-8, is in. Opponent not named but probably Clemson, which won the Atlantic Coast Conference title with a 33-31 squeaker over Wake Forest.

Oak Bay Loses B.C. Title

VANCOUVER (CP)—Charleson High School of Ocean Falls walked off with both the overall championship and the junior title Saturday at the B.C. high school invitational swim meet.

Charleson gathered a total of 100 points in junior and senior events to take the aggregate title. Vancouver's Magee High School took the senior championship and came second in the over-all rating with a total of 98 points.

Oak Bay High School, last year's champions, came third with 71 points, all contributed by senior contestants.

A total of 15 records were set during the two-day meet. Stan Cameron of Oak Bay set a new mark of 32.5 in the senior breaststroke,, beating the old record by 2/10th of a second.

Oak Bay set a record of 2.14.5 in the 200-yard girls' medley relay and came second in both the boys and girls 200-yards freestyle relay. Sue Morgan of Oak Bay won the 50-yard girls' breastroke event.

RCAF PUCK TRIUMPH

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — An RCAF team edged Lausanne 7-4 Saturday night in an international hockey game.

He Takes After His Pa, Not Ma

From AP Reports

Progressing, second foal of a mare that never raced, looms today as a solid threat for next year's Kentucky Derby after going all the way in front to win Saturday's $117,320 Pimlico futurity at Baltimore.

Progressing's one-length victory over All Hands in the mile and 1-16 race netted $71,685 for his owner, Mrs. H. C. Phipps, of New York. Catapult was third, three lengths behind All Hands.

Son of Mimelegh, winner of the same race in 1939, Progressing paid $19.20 to win.

TRACK RECORD

At New York Aqueduct, Bald Eagle came up from behind to capture the $85,200 Gallant Fox Handicap with a track-record performance.

The four-year-old of the Cain Hoy Stable scored by 1¾ lengths over Whodunit in the 1⅝-mile race. Whodunit took second by 3½ lengths over Whitley.

As a result of the victory with the homebred son of Nasrullah, Cain Hoy became the season's greatest money-winning stable. The net of $54,530 sent the earnings of the stable of Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim, of Sands Point, N.Y., to $714,927.

Bald Eagle was clocked in 2.41 as he cut 1 3-5 seconds off the mark for the distance set by Round Table in winning the Manhattan Handicap, October 10.

LAST-MINUTE ENTRY

At Pawtucket, R.I., Net Ball, a 12-to-1 outsider whose presence in the field came after a last-minute decision by his trainer, won the $28,825 Narragansett Special, whipping the 9-to-10 favorite, Polylad, by three lengths.

Net Ball earned $18,736.

Grey Monarch, owned by E. P. Taylor, of Toronto, was last in the 10-horse field.

At Louisville, Ky., Allas Olas came on in the stretch to win the $26,000 Clark Handicap Sunday and set a Churchill Downs record of 1.48 2-5 for the 1⅛-mile event.

"Terrific!" says Mrs. Bill Cullen

"There's such a variety of glorious things in the new Christmas issue of McCall's," says Mrs. Bill Cullen, wife to one of America's most popular TV stars. "The photography is just beautiful . . . really beautiful. The Christmas ideas are terrific."

Senator Chills Barbara

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Senator Frost defeated Charming Barbara handily Saturday to take the raceoff of the American trotting classic at Hollywood Park.

The non-betting raceoff was made necessary when three earlier heats were split between the two contestants and France's Jamin.

Jamin was unable to stay at Hollywood Park for the raceoff because of prior commitments.

Senator Frost's win Sunday earned $6,750 of a $10,000 purse. Charming Barbara got the rest.

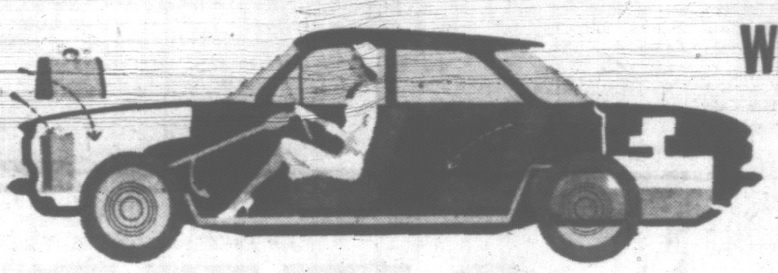
HERE'S Corvair BY CHEVROLET
WITH ENGINE IN THE REAR
WHERE IT BELONGS
IN A COMPACT CAR



We could have made Chevrolet's new Corvair just a "sawed-off" version of a big car — but that was the sort of shortcut we didn't want to take.

We knew the engine had to go in the rear if we wanted a compact car with big car ride, big car room, big car performance — and maximum efficiency. And that called for the most drastic revolution in auto design and manufacturing Canada has ever seen. What does a rear engine mean to you as driver or passenger?

MORE SPACE—The floor is virtually flat. The short "opposed six" engine takes up less space, leaves more for passengers. And the whole car can be lower without sacrificing either road clearance or head room.

FAR BETTER RIDE—A rear-engined car has to have full independent suspension on all four wheels. Every wheel can sop up a bump without affecting any other—and there's no heavy unsprung rear axle to bounce or "jackhammer" over rough roads. So the ride is far softer—and the wheels cling to the pavement better.

GREATER TRACTION—Rear wheels carry more weight, get a better "bite". (Try a Corvair on mud, snow, ice, rain-wet asphalt; you'll be astounded by the difference in road-grip and control.)

BETTER BRAKING—Most front-engined compact cars do up to 72% of their braking with the front wheels (there's a severe weight transfer forward in emergency stops). Corvair is designed to put an almost equal brake load on every wheel; the rear end maintains solid, sure traction for smooth, straightline stops in virtually any situation.

LESS NOISE, LESS HEAT—Engine noise, engine heat, engine fumes are behind the passengers; they're carried away by the wind stream as you drive. There's no driveshaft vibration to be echoed up into the car, nor resonance from a long exhaust pipe under the floor.

LESS MAINTENANCE — Corvair's air-cooled engine never needs antifreeze, never boils in the hottest weather. It warms up quicker in cold weather, so there's much less cold-start wear—and the stroke is so short that there's far less cylinder wear, less load on bearings and piston pins.

BETTER HANDLING — Corvair's "flat" engine and lower floor gets the centre of gravity 'way down; it rides rock-solid through the tightest turns. The front end doesn't pack the dead weight of an engine—so steering is light as a feather, will never need power assistance. (And how you'll relish that in tiny parking spaces!)

LESS NEEDLESS WEIGHT—A rear engine pares off so much bulk and dead weight. Corvair's power plant is mostly aluminum to begin with. And it's air-cooled—no need for a radiator, water pump, hoses or even the weight of the water itself. (And there's an added plus here: we designed a gas-fired car heater* that gives warmth almost instantly on the coldest winter mornings.)

No need for a long, heavy drive-shaft, either. And engine, transmission, and rear axle are all bolted together into one solid power unit (a competent mechanic can take the whole works out in less than half an hour). All in all, we save literally hundreds of pounds, and that makes a whopping big difference in performance and in gasoline economy.

THE RIGHT ANSWER—Real understanding of how wonderfully right a rear engine is for a compact car can only come after you have driven a Corvair—and compared it with its competitors. It took a terrific amount of engineering and Chevrolet's tremendous resources to design, test and set up production on a precedent-shattering car like Corvair. But wait till the first time you get behind the wheel—you'll agree it was worth every penny and every hour!

*Optional at extra cost.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Carolyn Hope Paxton, aged 12, of Swandale, W. Va., for her question:

What Is An Axolotl?

Peter Pan was a boy who refused to grow up and we might say that the axolotl is the Peter Pan of the animal world. We pronounce his name by saying ax-oh and rhyming the last syllable with bottle—axolotl. This strange word comes from a language of the Mexican Indians and it means servant of the water. They gave it to a salamander of their mountain lakes—a salamander who does not leave the water and grow up unless he has to do so.

The salamanders are amphibians, who were the first backboned animals to leave the ancient seas and challenge life on the dry land. This was some 340 million years ago. Other animals followed later and did a better job of adjusting to life on the land. The amphibians, whose name means land and water, never quite lost their need for the water. Most of them still live their childhood in the water and tackle the dry land only as adults.

The average salamander follows the life story of the frog—who is also an amphibian. First he is a jellified egg, floating in the water. He hatches into a tadpole larva, equipped with gills for breathing oxygen from the water. Later he swaps his fishy gills for a pair of lungs, grows arms and legs, and comes out to challenge life in the air and on the land.

An amphibian, frog or salamander, has the most amazing skin in the world. Throughout his life, this skin is able to absorb oxygen from the water or from the moist ground. Some adult salamanders have neither gills nor lungs and breathe entirely through their skins. The mud puppy is another variation. He is a salamander who keeps his gills even as an adult.

Lives Full Life as Tadpole

The axolotl is another salamander who clings to his baby gills. In the larval or tadpole stage he is a chunky fellow, five or six inches long. He has a big head, small arms and legs and a fishy fin down his spine. He may live as a tadpole in his mountain lake for 25 years and produce children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

However, this Peter Pan can and does grow up when he loses his mountain lake. If the water dries up or becomes too muddy, he loses his gills and his fishy tail. He grows lungs and becomes an adult salamander able to cope with life on the dry land.

The mud puppy cannot perform this amazing trick. He [illegible] lungs. However, there are other salamanders who follow the example of the true axolotl who lives in Mexico and certain arid regions of the American Southwest. One of them is the tiger salamander who lives much further east and north. This fellow aso clings onto his youth, even after he is a grandfather. He can also develop into an air-breathing adult and continue life on the dry land. As an adult he is a squat fellow, seven inches long, black and mottled with yellow stripes. We also call this fellow an axolotl because, like Peter Pan, he refuses to grow up.

VOLCANO IKI QUIETENS BUT EXPERTS LISTENING

HONOLULU (AP)—Volcanologists kept their ears to the ground today, alert for rumbles that might signal renewed activity by Kilauea Iki, the temperamental volcano on Hawaii Island.

A week-long eruption viewed by an estimated 140,000 islanders and tourists abruptly fizzled out Saturday night after staging its most spectacular display.

Flaming lava spewed to a height of 1,250 feet over the giant crater earlier in the day, then the end came. The fountain of molton rock dropped to 800 feet, shot back up to 1,100 feet and then suddenly subsided to nothing more than a bubbling red spot in less than a minute.

. . . just a slip

NEW YORK—I don't like to call a girl a "broad," but since even nice girls call themselves that now, in Hollywood and on B'way, I suppose I must.

Anyway . . . the first broad who ever went to Mars took us to lunch the other day.

"It's a real crazy joint, this Mars is," the gal, beautiful Hollywood redhead Nora Hayden, said.

"They got man-eating plants with tentacles that strangle you, and men 200 feet tall. I not only wouldn't want to live there — it's not even a nice place to visit."

"Sounds like a drag," I said. "Did you go on some junket or what?"

Nora shrieked. "Junket! Ho! Quel trip! Took 49 days flying to get there — no stopovers."

"I like to break up a trip with a stop, say, in San Francisco, where they got great restaurants," spoke up the B.W., who, I hardly need to add, so I will, was with me.

* * *

Nora said if anybody'd told her a year ago she was going to Mars, she'd figured they were smoking crazy cigarets.

But then she became a celebrated scientist — in motion pictures, that is—and they ordered her to Mars on a Navy rocket, so she packed a couple shortie nightgowns and a mink-lined bra and wiggled aboard.

"Well, when we got to Mars, I tottered out and I was a mess," Nora said. "Imagine not having your hair done for 49 days!"

Nora said the picture, "Angry Red Planet," made by Sino Productions, in Cinemagic, is going to make her famous—but it won't help the Martian tourist business.

"I didn't see any other broads and only one man," Nora wagged her head and added, "Talk about the man shortage. Worse than Hollywood.

"This one man I saw was for from yummy-looking. He had two antennae coming out of his head, and three eyes."

"Abe Burrows had a song about 'The Girl With The Three Blue Eyes,'" spoke up the B.W. "You sure this three-eye was a man?"

"Well, you know how hard it is to tell nowadays," Nora shrugged. "I was ready to cut out after three days there but Gerald Mohr—the rocket commander—said we couldn't get through the gravitational pull. So then this Martian man gets confidential with me. Guess he never saw a red-headed broad before.

"He speaks! He says 'We have been observing you for thousands of years through—I believe you call them flying saucers.' Oh, he was real sick, this boy!"

THE WEEKEND WINDUP

Dave Guard of the Kingston Trio lost $1,500 worth of cameras to burglars while recording at NBC . . . "Naked City," which was dropped as a half-hour TVer may try again as an hour-long show . . . Julie Newmar of "Li'l Abner" says she stays thin "by keeping nervous" . . . Hefty comedienne Thelma Polish lost 50 pounds in four months, on a high-fat diet, wants to slash 100 pounds more.

Tallulah Bankhead told Joe Louis: "You owe me a lot of money. I paid $500 to see you fight—and when I got there you'd knocked Schmeling out in the first round!"

* * *

JOE LOUIS
. . . owes Tallulah?

EARL'S PEARLS: A spendthrift, says Pep Mealiffe, is a neighbor who makes more money than you do.

* * *

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Shirley Jones' wardrobe in "Elmer Gantry" is only a slip, and producer Burt Lancaster explains: "Well, it's a low-budget film."

DISC JOCKEYS DUMPED

'King of Rock 'n' Roll' Fired in Payola Probe

NEW YORK (AP) — Disk jockey Alan Freed, a pioneer in the rock 'n' roll craze who has been fired by a New York radio station, was to meet today with officials of a television station here to talk about "payola."

While congressional investigators were studying reports of these under-the-table payments by record companies to disk jockeys for plugging certain records, some stations took quick action.

In Detroit, radio station WJBK Sunday fired disk jockey Thomas Clay, who had admitted taking payola. Dale Young, master of ceremonies on WJBK—TV's Detroit Bandstand, resigned.

THOMAS CLAY
. . . he admitted payoff

Bill Michaels, WJBK-TV manager who announced Young's resignation, said the Storer Broadcasting Corporation is investigating payola at all its TV and radio stations in Detroit, Cleveland, Toledo, Ohio, Milwaukee, Atlanta, Ga., Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Miami, Fla., and Wheeling, W.Va.

WOULDN'T ANSWER

In New York, radio station WABC fired Freed Saturday after he refused to answer questions put to all the station's record spinners. Freed insisted that he was honest and it was an insult to ask him.

Officials of WNEW-TV here, which carries a Freed show, asked the disk jockey to meet with them today.

"We want to know what the situation is," said general manager Bennett Korn. "We don't believe in prejudging a man. On the other hand, we don't intend to be soft or ostrich-like in our decision."

Freed, who calls himself "the king of rock 'n' roll" and has sponsored touring companies of rock 'n' roll entertainers, was not available for comment.

The payola investigation drew comment from federal communications commissioner Robert E. Lee, who spoke here Sunday. Lee said payola disk jockeys might cause stations to lose their licences and called again for a law to protect the public from TV frauds.

NBC-TIME CLASH

Meanwhile, top officials on the National Broadcasting Co., and Time Inc., collided over the TV quiz show fixes.

A Time article Nov. 16 accused the networks of ignoring a story in a 1957 issue which hinted that some quiz shows were rigged. NBC board chairman Robert W. Sarnoff retorted Sunday that several Time-owned stations also ignored the article.

Weston C. Pullen Jr., vice-president for broadcasting of Time, Inc., promptly conceded that Time, Inc., should have dropped the quiz shows from its stations.

"I regret that we did not," said Pullen. "Like Mr. Sarnoff and others, we learned a lesson. Time, Inc., owns four television stations at Denver, Minneapolis, Indianapolis and Grand Rapids, Mich.

FAKE CHARGED IN TOOTHPASTE TELEVISION AD

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission has charged deception in a television commercial which claims Colgate Dental Cream with gardol gives teeth a "protective shield."

The FTC made the charge Saturday in a complaint against the Colgate-Palmolive Company, New York City.

Colgate Dental Cream, according to the complaint, does not completely protect teeth against decay or cavities by forming a protective shield as claimed in the commercials.

Colgate-Palmolive has 30 days to answer the complaint.

FARAH DIBAH
. . . a son this time?

Shah of Iran Sets Third Wedding Date

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The Shah of Iran today announced his engagement to 21-year-old Farah Diba and set Dec. 21 as their wedding date.

Miss Diba will be the third wife of the 40-year-old ruler. He divorced his other two because neither gave him a son. Only males can inherit the throne of Moslem Iran.

"The imperial court minister with great pleasure informs the public of the news of the engagement of His Imperial Majesty Mohammed Reza Pahlevi with Miss Farah Diba," said a communique from the palace.

The engagement ceremony was to be held later today at the shah's private palace. This consists of a reception and an exchange of wedding rings.

PARIS TROUSSEAU

The shah's choice of Miss Diba had been known for weeks. She returned home Saturday from buying her trousseau in Paris.

The monarch and his fiancee Sunday attended the wedding of his sister, Princess Fatemeh, to the commander of the Iranian Air Force, Gen. Mohammed Khatama. Fatemeh, 29, was divorced last September from an American, Vincent I. Hillyer.

Miss Diba is tall, shapely and a former student at the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris. She is a step-niece of Mohammed Mossadegh, the nationalistic former Iranian premier who once drove the shah from the country for a short period.

The shah's first wife was Princess Fawzia of Egypt, sister of then King Farouk, whom he married in 1939. He divorced her in 1949 after she bore him two daughters.

In 1951 he married Soraya Esfandiary, whose father is now Iranian ambassador to West Germany. The shah and Soraya became a devoted couple. But she gave him no children and in April, 1958, he tearfully signed divorce papers. Soraya now lives in Europe with her family.

$1,000 A WEEK FOR EX-QUEEN

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi has written a letter to former Queen Soraya wishing her happiness and granting her $1,000 a week living expenses for life, palace sources disclosed today.

"Whatever steps I took was for the good of my people and for the continuance of the democratic constitutional monarchy," he wrote to the empress he divorced in 1948 because she failed to bear him an heir to the throne.

"I wish you luck," the shah wrote. "You will always have a place in the thoughts of the people of this country and myself."

Song-Plugging Racket Angrily Denied in U.K.

LONDON (AP) — British disk jockeys today angrily denied charges by a member of Parliament that they are mixed up in song-plugging rackets on radio and television.

Labor MP Roy Mason wants a government ban on all pop records programs until a full-scale inquiry has dealt with charges of corruption.

"The evidence suggests that undesirable practices are taking place," he said.

Songress Alma Cogan, who also runs a record program, snapped: "I always pay for my mink coats."

COMPANIES UNITED

And a spokesman for Britain's major recording companies revealed a secret "disk charter" banning under the counter payments to disk jockeys.

Said the official: "We saw what was happening in America where you can't get a disk on the air without first lining somebody's pocket, and we knew the dangers of it spreading in England.

"So we got together to stop it at the start.

"Naturally we wine and dine disk jockeys and try to persuade them to play our disks. But that's only normal business practice."

UNPLEASANT PRE-BIRTHDAY GIFT

Book Criticizes Churchill

LONDON (Reuters) — Sir Winston Churchill received an unpleasant gift Saturday—just nine days before his 85th birthday.

A new book about the Second World War says the former prime minister's military judgment was "frequently and massively at fault," yet he tried to make others shoulder the blame.

British historian John Connell adds his version to the growing library of criticism of Churchill and other allied wartime leaders in a book entitled Auchinleck. It is a biography of Field Marshal Sir Claude Auchinleck, 75, former British commander-in-chief in the Middle East.

The historian declares: "Churchill's military judgment was frequently and massively at fault and he strove afterwards to demonstrate that he had been right and that the blame for failure in those whom he had compelled to obey his orders lay at their door and not at his."

The historian says Churchill could be magnanimous in political matters but on military matters he showed himself to be "arrogant, obstinate and unforgiving."

'Dinah' Composer Sam Lewis Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Samuel M. Lewis, 76, who wrote the lyrics for more than 800 popular songs, including Mammy, Dinah and in a Little Spanish Town, died Sunday in his New York home.

Lewis, a native of New York, began his music career as a singer and at 18 was writing burlesque skits and songs.

Dr. David J. Chabassol of Victoria College education faculty will be commentator and discussion leader at a showing of the color film "Teens" at Oak Bay Junior High PTA, Tuesday at 8.15 p.m.

3,000 FLOCK TO COLLEGE 'OPEN HOUSE'

Led by Prof. Robert Wallace and aide de camp W/C J. D. D. Campbell, Lieut-Gov. Frank Ross and Mrs. Ross wearing colorful academic robes walk to the platform at official opening of Victoria College 120-acre campus at Camp Gordon Head Saturday. Dr. Gordon M. Shrum, of UBC, is behind Mrs. Ross and Mayor Percy Scurrah at far left. About 1,000 people watched the ceremony, and 3,000 attended "open house" held throughout Saturday on the two campuses. GOVERNOR OPENS AUXILIARY CAMPUS AT GORDON HEAD

'Make This a University City' Judge's Challenge to Victoria

(See also Page 29)

A challenge to make itself a university city was thrust at Victoria Saturday at the opening of Victoria College 120-acre auxiliary campus at Camp Gordon Head by Lieut.-Gov. Frank Ross.

The challenger was chairman of the college council, Judge Joseph B. Clearihue, speaking in reference to a public campaign to subscribe $1,500,000 toward a total $3,000,000 building fund starting in six weeks.

At First Hand

The opening climaxed a full day of college homecoming and open house activities at Gordon Head and Lansdowne campuses, attended by an estimated 3,000 students, old grads, guests, citizens and dignitaries who saw and heard at first hand the existing and potential facilities of B.C.'s oldest institute of higher learning.

In the crowded gymnasium, converted from Camp Gordon Head drill hall, Judge Clearihue said the opening of the new campus "marks another step in our progress toward making Victoria a university city."

He credited Defence Minister G. R. Pearkes for his part in the acquisition and thanked Victoria city council for relinquishing its claim on the camp.

Canada's Best

"A gymnasium and playing fields mean a great deal in university life . . . Now we have them we are resolved to make Victoria College the best liberal arts college in Canada."

He said there are now 173 acres total in both campuses on which to build in future. "We have enough room now to provide for 1,300 students next year," (an increase of nearly 300).

"This is about the same number as took part in the Great Trek at UBC," when the university at Vancouver moved from Fairview to undeveloped Point Grey.

"We feel justified in saying we made a trek to Gordon Head Camp," the judge said, "but we have the advantage in that they had nothing and we have approximately $2,000,000 in buildings. That is a challenge and a challenge to Victoria to take up and make Victoria a university city."

'Ground Swell'

Building fund chairman R. B. Wilson said it would not be easy to raise $1,500,000, especially outside of B.C. where national corporations would be solicited for contributions.

"The faculty and students can do a great deal to boost our campaign . . . develop a ground swell of enthusiasm with which we cannot fail," he said.

Dean Gordon M. Shrum, on behalf of UBC chancellor and president, pledged the support of all at the university in helping Victoria College to grow. But he warned the college council to hang on to every army hut. "At UBC we are still unable to keep up with registrations despite our new buildings and I am fairly confident the same thing will happen here."

Dormitories

Dr. Shrum advised the planners to include dormitories and residences for students from other parts of B.C., other provinces and foreign countries who will come in the future.

He suggested Victoria students should go to Vancouver and Vancouver students come to Victoria College when residences are available because "it is good to live away from home when going to university."

The lieutenant-governor, accompanied by Mrs. Ross, both wearing the scarlet-trimmed robes of higher learning, said an expanded college is a "must" and he was proud to declare the campus open.

"I hope that before I pass out of this world I shall see in Victoria a university filling the needs of British Columbia and giving Victoria the pride of having its own university."

Archbishop of B.C. Harold Sexton gave the benediction and asked "may learning flourish" at the new site.

Best wishes of Premier Bennett and the provincial government were conveyed by public works minister W. N. Chant, who looked to the day when Victoria College is "one of the great North American universities."

Introductions were by college principal Dr. Harry Hickman, who with the vice-regal couple, led the procession of dignitaries and faculty to a flower-banked stage and welcomed visitors to the campus.

Following the ceremony college Vikings "A" team played basketball against Vancouver YMCA in part of the day's nine-game athletic program, including a cross-country race between the two campuses.

Queen Crowned

At half time in the ball game, Women's Undergraduate Society president Marilyn Ardley crowned Joan Moffat the 1959 Homecoming Queen, and named Nora Wright and Kathy Dangerfield her princesses.

After the game a college orchestra played music for dancing until midnight.

BEAUTY AND THE BEST pose at Victoria College gymnasium, Gordon Head, after the beauty, Joan Moffat, was crowned Homecoming Queen at half-time of the Vikings basketball game in which Barry Saddler played Saturday night. 1,400 Sign Petition In Milk Carton Fight

A total of 1,400 Saanich householders have signed a petition requesting the provincial government to revoke its decision requiring all retail distributors to sell milk in standard-size imperial containers.

The petition claims the government's action is an abrogation of a citizen's liberty, limiting his "freedom of choice."

It was circulated in Saanich after Milky Way Dairy Co., formed by a group of dairy farmers, was notified by government officials it must stop selling its milk in 64-ounce cartons by Dec. 15.

U.S. MACHINE

The order was issued after the company had purchased an expensive machine from the United States which packages milk in 64-ounce cartons.

It means the company will have to sell its milk in imperial half-pint, pint and quart cartons.

Mrs. H. K. Hunt, 756 Halliburton Road, who launched the petition, said the order would put the Milky Way dairy out of business.

"It will mean that we will have no choice but to buy milk from the big dairies using machines which package milk only in imperial-size containers.

"We want to be able to buy local milk in the more convenient carton," she said. "We feel the price of the 64-ounce carton is right."

She explained the Milky Way carton contained 3.8 butterfat, as compared with 3.4 butterfat contained in milk sold by other distributors.

WON'T STOP

Meanwhile, Henry Robinson, an official of the dairy firm, said his company will continue to sell milk in the 64-ounce cartons despite the government order.

"We don't think the government has the jurisdiction to impose such an order," he said. "We don't intend to stop sales after Dec. 15."

He said the cabinet had refused to meet Saanich farmers to discuss the matter.

"We wrote a letter to Provincial Secretary Wesley Black and he didn't have the courtesy to reply," he stated.

The government has been strongly criticized by Saanich farmers for its action.

The government said it passed the order to protect consumers.

It claimed some consumers who bought the 64-ounce cartons were under the impression they were buying an imperial half-gallon, containing 80 ounces of milk.

MERCURY SOARS TO 56; MORE RAIN ON TUESDAY

Warm winds gusting in from the southwest Sunday night pushed the mercury up to an unseasonally high 56 degrees around 7 p.m. amidst driving rain.

In the 24-hour period ending early this morning, .75 inches of rain fell on Greater Victoria — no record, but a good solid downpour.

But it was nothing compared with Tofino which was drenched with 5.28 inches, or Jordan River that received 4.04 inches.

Rain here ended about 8 p.m. although the warm winds which started about 6.30 p.m. hit a high of 44 mph around 11 p.m. and had dropped off about 5 a.m. today.

Rain is not forecast today, despite the clouds, but there is more in the offing Tuesday. Temperatures will hit a low of 44 degrees Tuesday and a high of around 50.

HAIG-BROWN'S PROPOSAL

Marine Park Urged To Restore Otters

Establishment of a federal marine park to restore the sea otter, now extinct in B.C. waters, was advocated today by Roderick Haig-Brown, British Columbia author, magistrate and conservationist.

He said as the Canadian government had successfully restored the American buffalo, it should now attempt to do the same with the sea otter which once numbered in the hundreds of thousands in coastal waters.

Mr. Haig-Brown's suggestion is backed by conservationists, biologists, park experts and naturalists.

CLUBBED

The sea otter, a friendly 80-pound marine animal, was clubbed to extinction by early pelt hunters. They are now only found in the Aleutian Islands and southern California.

Russia is also reported attempting to bring the animals back to the coast of Siberia.

Interest in the sea otter was revived by members of the Victoria Natural History Society who suggested Saturday it be included in B.C.'s coat of arms because it was indirectly responsible for the colonization of the west coast.

Mr. Haig Brown said there are spots along the coast where the experiment of re-establishing the animal could be carried out.

ACT NOW

"We need a marine park anyway," he said. "The government should acquire a site now before the entire coast is alienated."

Dr. Clifford Carl, director of the Provincial Museum, said it is quite possible the sea otter could be re-established here.

"It would require the co-operation of the United States government which owns the northern herd," he said. "But I don't think there would be any trouble in getting that."

WORTHWHILE

Prof. J. A. Cunningham, zoologist, said it would be a worthwhile project for the federal parks department to undertake.

"It is a wonderful idea," he said, "and would be of interest to all countries. Once a colony was established here, it would become a world-wide attraction."

The sea otter is so tame seagulls will often steal muscles from them. Its tameness was one reason it couldn't survive man's onslaught.

ASK The TIMES

Q. Which earthquake has caused the most deaths? F.S.

A. An estimated 830,000 persons died Jan. 24, 1556, when a 'quake rocked areas of China, but in those days tallying of casualties was often away off, so this figure can be looked at in the loosest sense. However, in more recent days, on Dec. 16, 1920, an earthquake shook the Kansu area of China and an authenticated 180,000 persons died.

Q. With what famous Victoria personality was "The House of All Sorts" connected? E.G.

A. With painter Emily Carr, who lived there and named it.

CENTENNIAL MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIPS

Two $500 Awards Created

Establishment of two $500 Centennial Memorial Perpetual Scholarships — one for Victoria College and one for University of B.C. at Vancouver, was announced today.

They were created as one of the final acts of the B.C. Centennial Committee, and announced by board chairman L. J. Wallace, now deputy provincial secretary.

The awards are proceeds from investment of about $20,000 gathered through sales of the B.C. Centennial Record Book, plus a supplementary grant from centennial funds.

The first awards will be made in May, 1960, based on studies now being undertaken by students here and in Vancouver.

The award for Victoria College is the largest single scholarship available at the institution.

To be known as the B.C. 1958 Centennial Scholarship, it will be awarded annually to a student "who has completed at least one year at Victoria College, and who is continuing university studies in the province of B.C.," Mr. Wallace said.

"The award will be made on the basis of scholarship achievement and effective participation in campus activities," he added.

The UBC Scholarship, he said, will be offered annually to students who are residents of B.C., and are continuing undergraduate studies in the field of the humanities or social sciences.

"It will be awarded to a student entering the third year with an outstanding academic record.

"In the selection of the winner, the general interest and participation in university and community affairs, may be a factor," said Mr. Wallace.

'I NEARLY HAD HIM IN THE NET'

Highly-Strung 'Cherry' Took Off With a Bang

Cherry, the tame cock pheasant, narrowly escaped capture Sunday night.

His owner, Miss Jessie Reed, of 1762 Pembroke, stalked him for several hours in drenching rain in a back garden at 1603 Bay Street.

"I nearly had him in the net," she said, "when someone in the next house banged a door. It sounded like a gun going off and Cherry flew away.

"He is very highly strung."

Undaunted by Cherry's repeated escapes from houses in this area, Miss Read pursued her search for him this morning.

"I shall never give up," she declared.

A Mongolian ring neck pheasant, Cherry escaped from her house in a high wind last Sunday week, leaving behind a sorrowing mother pheasant and four daughters.

Clothes Brush and Hanger Would Make Hubby Happy!

By PENNY SAVER

Are you running out of ideas for Christmas presents for the men in your family? Here are a few suggestions that might help.

If hubby can never find a clothes brush when he needs one, set I saw this week will make him very happy. Brush comes complete with stand for hanging on his closet door, in the hall or any convenient spot. Both are elegantly lined in leather and brush's handle serves as a shoe horn. Bristles of 14" brush are real bristle—no nylon substitutes here!

In spite of rich appearance, set costs a mere $5.

Stud boxes in fine English leather make another good gift suggestion. Ones I saw this week are horseshoe-shaped, have dome fasteners, and come in Highland calf or black calf. Prices start at $2.95.

One luxury type container in golden English calf leather will make him feel like a king! Box is completely lined in soft suede with a hinge back tray. There are sponge rubber slots for holding rings or studs and two large trays for his tie pins and other dress accessories. Set costs $16.95.

Tie cases are wonderful gifts for men who have to travel or like to have their favorite ties easily at hand. Made to slip in a suitcase or hang from a closet door, cases I saw this week in soft Highland calf leather are well worth $10 price tag on them.

Lined throughout in moire, cases have large gussets, providing lots of room for contents. There are extra pockets that can be used for tie clips and slides and extra section for his handkerchiefs.

Italian leather picture frames make welcome gifts for both men and women.

These come either in gold-edged design or hand-tooled. Perfect for framing your nicest pictures! Frames start at $5.

For information on any of these items phone Penny at EV 2-3131.

Wedding In Sooke

For a late autumn wedding in Knox Presbyterian Church, Sooke, Friday evening, chrysanthemums in burnished tones were used in decoration. Service united Elizabeth Harla, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Owen of Sooke, and Leslie Victor Eve, son of Mrs. E. Stolth and the late Victor Eve, Milne's Landing. Dr. E. A. Wright officated.

A ballerina-length gown of dainty white eyelet embroidered nylon was chosen by Miss Owen for her wedding. A coronet of flowers encircled her dark hair, from which cascaded a shoulder-length veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of red roses and white chrysanthemums. She was given in marriage by her father.

Attendants, Misses Bunny and Mizi Owen, sisters of bride, wore gowns in aqua and maize tones respectively. Each carried bouquets of pink and white chrysanthemums. Another sister, four-year-old Susie Owen, was flower girl. She wore a frock of pink nylon and carried a basket of fall flowers.

Vernon Musfelt, Sooke, was best man and Gordon Eve was usher.

During signing of register, Mrs. J. Lindley sang "Because." Organist was M. S. McDowell.

Home of bride's parents was setting for reception. A three-tier wedding cake centred bridal table. H. Vogel, Vancouver, proposed the toast.

Following an up-Island honeymoon, the newly-weds will make their home in Sooke.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

You'll Appreciate These Time-Saving Exercises

There is a belief of long standing that if you pull out one hair two will grow back in its place. There is absolutely no scientific foundation for this so far as I know.

Josephine

However, it does seem to me to be true that when we slough off one responsibility, two and sometimes three seem to spring up to take its place. I used to think that I would have lots of time when my children became adults, but it seems that life is busier than ever.

At any rate being too busy is much better than having too much leisure, and there seems to be no middle ground unless we make a real effort to find some. Eager interest, even when it is reflected in hard work, is an aid to health and longevity while boredom takes a toll of vitality and good looks.

But do not do too much. Learn to cut the corners and leave off those things which really do not enrich your life.

Of course we always must take the time to keep our figures attractive. But even when exercising we can cut corners.

My combination exercises kill several figure faults with one motion. For instance, the following exercise is splendid for slimming and firming the thighs and inner leg line and a corrective to fat under the arms and across the shoulders. Lie on the floor on your back with your arms resting on the floor overhead and your legs straight. Drag your legs apart as you drag your arms down toward your sides, touching the fingertips to the thighs. Now drag arms and legs back to place. Continue, keeping the elbows and the knees stiff throughout the exercise.

Here is a combination exercise which is good for the waist, hips and abdomen. Lie on the floor on your back with your arms resting on the floor, extending straight out from your shoulders. Lift the left leg up with a stiff knee. Lower the leg and touch the floor with the left toe on the right side of the body. Lift leg to right angles to the body and lower to the floor. This has four counts, leg up, over, up and down. Do the same thing with the right leg and continue, alternating left and right.

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Combination Exercise" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 5 to Josephine Lowman, in care of this newspaper.

DEAR ABBY . . .

Mixed Emotions

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I agree with your statement that Peeping Toms (and others guilty of moral offences) should be reported. But I don't think they should be reported to the police. They should be reported to their wives and families so that they can get the psychiatric treatment they need instead of the shame and disgrace they get when reported to the police. You wouldn't report him to the police if he had cancer, would you? S.W.

DEAR S.W.: "Peeping" is a symptom of mental illness which often results in rape, murder and violence to small children and unsuspecting women. Police records show that almost very sex offender has had an early record of "peeping."

While "peeping" itself may not be a serious crime, it is only fair to society to let the police know who these offenders are. Wives and families cannot always be depended upon to get the sick person to the psychiatrist in time.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: The Peeping Tom letter brought back memories of an experience I had years ago.

I spent many nights home alone as my husband traveled. One night I heard noises in the bushes outside my window. When I looked, I saw the figure of a man crouching there. I called the police, but by the time they arrived he was gone.

Later that summer I heard a strange noise at my back door. I crept quietly into the kitchen in time to see a man's hand cutting my screen door. I quickly connected my flat iron which was standing handy, and just as he was about to unlock the screen door, I pressed the hot iron to his hand. He fled.

The next morning, my neighbor told me that her husband had burned his hand badly while trying to fix their heater. He was one of the most respected family men in town.

GOOD MEMORY.

DEAR ABBY: I was tickled to death to see that item in your column about Peeping Toms. I was a police reporter for 22 years and I know from experience that a guy who hangs around windows trying to get a thrill is a dangerous character. Sooner or later he gets himself worked up to a pitch where somebody gets hurt. You should run that letter again, Abby, and have it set in sixty-point type so nobody will miss it.

"COOP" (Cicero, Ill.)

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I think your answer to that Peeping Tom business was all wrong. What's so bad about looking in a window and watching a lady undress if her shades are up? I think if you are going to report the man who is looking, you should also report the lady who gives him something to look at.

NO DOPE.

On Etiquette

Who pays for ushers' suits?

Who is supposed to pay the rental fee for a white dinner jacket when a man is asked to usher at a wedding, particularly if it has been specified that he wear a white jacket?

Louise

Louise Davis answers:

The ushers supply their own suits whether they be white tuxedos (dinner jackets), cut-aways, dress suits or business suits. However, if a bridegroom wishes, he may pay the rental as a thoughtful gesture. But if he doesn't make the offer, the men must assume that they provide their own just as the girls in the bridal party do.

9 IN MEMORIAM

AYLWARD—In loving remembrance of my dear wife, Linda Aylward, who died Nov. 23, 1949, at Victoria, B.C.
"Eternal rest, grant unto her, O Lord! and let perpetual light shine upon her. Sacred Heart of Jesus, have mercy on her. Immaculate Heart of Mary, pray for her. St. Joseph, friend of the Sacred Heart, pray for her."
—Ever remembered by her loving husband, Gerald.
(Irish papers, please copy.)

PUGH—In loving memory of a wonderful son and brother, Ronnie Pugh, who passed away suddenly Nov. 23, 1957, aged 10 years.

Peacefully sleeping lies one of the best,
In God's own garden Ronnie rests;
He left us suddenly, his thoughts unknown,
But he left us memories, we are proud to own.
True was his heart, his actions were kind,
His life was a pattern to those left behind;
A beautiful soul in a garden of rest,
It's true what they say, God chooses the best —Ever remembered and sadly missed by Mum, Dad, Jan, Ev and Billy.

SCHICKELE—In loving memory of mother (Nana), who passed Nov. 22, 1957.

Two years have gone since that sad day,
When one we loved was called away.
God took her home, it was His will,
Within our hearts she liveth still.
—Ever remembered by Mary, Charlie and family.

Opening lead—♣ 2

The bidding shown is that at the first table in a team match. South played dummy's queen of clubs at trick one. East played the king and South covered with the ace.

South next played three rounds of diamonds, discarding a club on the second and ruffing the third. Next came a trump lead and eventually South got rid of a spade on one of dummy's diamonds to wind up making his contract.

He was rightfully proud of the results since he felt that the game was a hard one to bid and was really upset to find that his side had lost the board.

At the other table East chose to stick in a two-club overcall. This type bid is not recommended. True, East had 13 points but he had a balanced hand with strength in all suits.

South bid four hearts but West decided to save at five clubs. He saved all right but the cost was a trifle excessive. The defence took two diamonds, a diamond ruff, two spades and the ace of clubs for a total of six tricks.

Western RED CEDAR Bevel SIDING

"Keystone" clear kiln dried siding is the finest available — a quality material for all applications where perfection is required.

With its "grow-in" workability, weather resistance and lasting good looks, "Keystone" clear Western Red Cedar Siding has long been recognized as the standard of quality home construction.

It has a distinctive "shadow line" which enhances any architectural style in any setting, and is used to create a variety of interesting decorative effects on indoor surfaces as well as exterior.

5 GRADES

"CLEAR" Bevel SIDING
Siding of this grade is designed for use where perfection is demanded. It is well milled on face and edges, making a smooth surface usable full length without waste. 6" and wider siding is vertical grain (VG) for ¾ the width or more from thick edge.

"A" Bevel SIDING
Siding of this grade is selected for use where exceptionally fine appearance is desired. It is usable full length without waste and may be mixed grain (MG).

"B" Bevel SIDING
Appearance closely approaching that of the higher grades is often achieved with siding of this grade which contains slightly more characteristics and some cutouts in longer pieces. Craftsmen of even moderate skill find it easy to apply. It may be mixed grain (MG)

"RUSTIC" Bevel SIDING
Siding of this grade is recommended for use on sidewall covering where the distinctive charm of rustic appearance is desired. Pieces are graded from the resawn or rough side which is exposed. Thick edge may be rough or surfaced.

"C" Bevel SIDING
Pieces of this grade have one or more characteristics which are such size or number that the piece is not of a higher grade. Lengths are random with no specified percentages.

T.V. with Lee

Cab Calloway, Larry Adler Featured on Jack Kane's Show at 9.30

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

WHAT TO DO?—As a person who earns his daily bread by reviewing about 150 motion pictures a year and only Heaven knows how many TV dramas I'm usually puzzled exactly what to do. That is to say, should one read the book before seeing it portrayed on the screen or should one read the book afterwards?

After trial and error I am now half-way convinced that the book and the resulting play are two entirely different things. One should judge the book as a book and the play as something that entertains by itself. For instance I thought "From Here to Eternity" was better than the novel but I thought "Anatomy of a Murder" a superior book. In two instances a perfect combination resulted, "Shane," and "Good-bye, Mr. Chips." In these two cases the films exactly followed the books. But how often is this possible? A filmization is almost entirely visual while the book is almost entirely mental.

A concrete example of a reviewer's dilemma would be Thursday night's 90-minute adaptation of Ernest Hemingway's short story, "The Killers," that has become somewhat of a classic example in absorbingly natural dialogue. I, like almost all in my trade, of course, had read Hemingway's original yarn. Therefore a 90-minute adaptation meant only one thing—filling.

Because of this filling, this padding out of the original thesis in the name of mere time, I found the A. E. Hotchner production on behalf of Electra Playhouse to be unnecessarily wordy, rife with supplements that, to my mind, detracted from the punch and pithyness of Hemingway's original idea. Doubtless if I hadn't read the story the 90-minutes would have emerged as one of excitement and high tension.

* * *

BASED ON THIS PREMISE, therefore, I must say that the 90 minutes, if not a waste of time, then must be considered merely an excellent vehicle for world heavyweight boxing champion, Sweden's versatile Ingemar Johansson, to prove that he is an amateur actor of merit.

I would also take director Tom Donovan to task for the portrayals of the killers by Dane Clark and Robert Middleton. Such were their heavy mannerisms they looked not unlike hoods forgotten from the "Little Caesar" and "Public Enemy No. 1" era of Hollywood gangster films, circa early 1930's.

On the credit side of the ledger, however, Ray Walston, as George, the owner of the diner, was superb. Dean Stockwell as Nick Adams was also good as was Diane Baker as Holly.

But this book-versus-film business has me worried.

By JACK MEARS

Marketing Your Home

When listing your home for sale you have three types of listing contracts open to you. An open listing, an exclusive listing or a multiple listing — which will enable you to get the best possible price for your home. The best results for the least trouble and effort. [illegible] more freedom. You let any agent sell your property — you have no proper contract with anyone. Now most of you are in business in some form or other. Will you work where the return is uncertain? Will you spend money on goods which may not be delivered? Of course not. Neither will the agent, if he is a business man. Do you want an agent who is not a business man to handle your property? The agent is first of all going to spend his time and money where he knows he has a reasonable chance of return for his effort. THAT is on those PROPERTIES where he has an EXCLUSIVE LISTING. Remember, with an exclusive listing he has also signed to advertise your property and do his utmost to effect a sale during the period of his listing. He will do this, for if he does not he will not get paid.

You may say that you need a quicker sale than one agent working alone can give you. Then the answer lies in multiple listing. Your agent has an exclusive contract with you by which he agrees to share that listing with other firms of the multiple listing bureau. Your agent is still the one responsible to you, responsible for advertising your property. The other agents are kept in day-to-day touch with what is happening through the central bureau.

You reply that multiple listing costs you more. Does it? Do you stand a better chance of getting a better price from the clients of 300 salesmen, or from the clients of one? Again it depends largely on the efforts of your listing agent.

Either pick a good Realtor and give him an exclusive so he can afford to spend money and time on your home, or let him place it under multiple listing, and you will be well on the way to getting a sale at the top market price.

WHO IS CONFUSED?

New Minister Gets Off To Cold Start

If first impressions mean anything, Canada's new Public Works Minister David J. Walker will never be loved by City Hall.

In a letter replying to Mayor Percy Scurrah's urgent appeal to Prime Minister John Diefenbaker for an even break on federal shipping contracts, Mr. Walker today suggested that the mayor had confused his facts.

But his letter made it plain Mr. Walker was confused.—

Mayor Scurrah wrote the prime minister following a federal decision to award two contracts to eastern yards for freight-passenger vessels which will be given to the West Indies Federation.

The mayor argued that the contracts should have been split between both coasts so that Yarrows Ltd., lowest bidder among west coast yards, would have been awarded one of the multi-million-dollar contracts to stave off disintegration of skilled crews.

ANOTHER JOB

The prime minister turned over the job of replying to Mr. Walker who promptly told the mayor that "Burrard Drydock Company instead of Yarrows Ltd. as you thought" had tendered the low bid.

But Mr. Walker was talking about another project entirely, a proposed Fraser River dredge.

"I wasn't confused," the mayor commented coldly after reading the reply.

Casino Rebuff 'Too Bad' Says Promoter

"Too bad" said Richard S. Robbins from New York today when told B.C.'s attorney-general had turned thumbs down on his suggestion of a free port and casino on a Strait of Georgia island.

Speaking by telephone to his brother, Victoria business man John M. Robbins, 1907 Fairfield, he said he had been working on the project for "a client" whose name he couldn't divulge.

The casino idea, he explained, was an outcome of plans to establish a series of three trading posts" on the Canadian side of the border, to cater to U.S. tourists.

Richard Robbins, 43, visited his brother here is September. He operates the NBC give-away show "The Price Is Right."

Born in Vernon, he was educated here at St. Michael's, Oak Bay High and University School, and is an RCAF veteran.

Burglars Throw Safe Down Stairs, Get Cash, Goods

Burglars who hefted a 500-pound safe over a stair landing and smashed it on a warehouse floor 15 feet below may have used tools reported stolen from a Victoria West man who left his car at Vancouver Barge Transportation, scene of the safe-smashing overnight Friday.

Hans Melber, 411 Skinner, said today he lost a hammer, brace, wrenches, files, pliers, auto parts and fishing tackle from his car, which was left at 1112 Wharf, the site of Vancouver Barge.

Burglars there stole an estimated $300-$500 cash, 20 cases of cigarets valued at several hundred dollars retail, and a quantity of electrical appliances as well as lesser items such as candy. They broke into the warehouse, then the office, and broke a considerable number of packing cases in trans-shipment between here and the mainland.

B.C. ACCIDENT ANNUAL TOLL: $20.5 MILLION

VANCOUVER (CP) — Attorney-General Bonner said Friday night the "mass inertia" shown by British Columbians in their attitude to accident prevention is "enough to fill one with despair."

Mr. Bonner told the B.C. Safety Council that accidents cost the province $20,500,000 during 1958, and accounted for 10 per cent of the total cost of the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service. For this reason the government was greatly interested in promoting safety-mindedness.

He said a government survey showed most persons involved in highway accidents had had at least one drink, but if a driver were asked in the street whether it was a good idea to drive after having a drink most would say no.

Not only traffic accidents, but domestic and boating mishaps were on the increase despite safety campaigns, Mr. Bonner said.

Company officials did not know the exact amount of money in the safe, which contained cash and cheques.

A second safe containing records had been moved from the front of the office to a rear door, but had not been opened.

'LOW-RATE' TRUCK FIRM REINSTATED

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Public Utilities Commission Friday reinstated the operating licence of Carson Truck Lines Ltd. which was suspended Monday because the firm's rates were allegedly too low.

The commission investigated the written complaint of a competitor that the Carson firm had charged rates below those filed with the PUC.

Counsel for Carson Truck Lines which operates between Vancouver and Prince George, argued before the board it had been forced into the rate-cutting situation by its competitors, who had also sliced rates.

CEYLON GOV'T BUFFETED BY TURMOIL

COLOMBO, Ceylon (Reuters)—Finance Minister Stanley de Zoysa resigned Sunday as the political storm caused by the assassination of Premier Solomon Bandaranaike nearly two months ago continued to buffet Ceylon's government.

The opposition parties made de Zoysa the target of bitter criticism following the arrest of his elder brother, Richard, three days ago in connection with Bandaranaike's slaying Sept. 26.

The minister's parliamentary secretary, M. Mustapha, was immediately sworn in to take the place of de Zoysa, who returned only Saturday from three weeks out of the country on official duties.

The opposition's next target was expected to be de Zoysa's younger brother, Sidney, deputy inspector-general of police.

Girl Jailed For Stealing Carriers' Money

Ellen Charlotte Thurley, 18, of 1215 Alderman, was sentenced in city police court Saturday to two months in jail for theft of $97 from two Times newspaper carriers Nov. 5.

"You are a person completely without conscience," Magistrate William Ostler remarked after reading a probation report.

"You stole this envelope containing a large amount of money from the home of these boys, where you were a resident. It is hard enough work for boys collecting for their newspapers without having their money stolen," the magistrate said.

The boys were Edward and Joseph Pacowsky, who gave a total $240 in two envelopes to their mother, Mrs. Stephanie Pacowsky, to keep for them. The balance of the money is still unaccounted for.

Science 'Acts' Score at College 'Spec'

By AB KENT

A strange amalgam of chamber of horrors and circus midway, parlor tricks and parents' day in the classroom—that was Victoria College open house Saturday.

Hundreds of citizens, many for the first time, got a capsule glimpse of an expanding college-come-university in action.

They were shown specimens ranging from the sex life of the lowly protozoa and close-up of the Sooke newt, to a lassitudinous nudibranch, many-splendored starfish and egg-poaching on a block of ice.

They saw the spacious library, classroom and lounge facilities of the modern Ewing Building, an art display and samples of string quartette music and choral singing.

Organized tours conducted by willing students showed them the activity hut and such extra-curricular effort as the Jive Clubb in session; Dunlop House, where a limited group of out-of-town students live; the counselling and job placement office and a rehearsal of the Players' Club.

Most popudar were the scientific displays, especially a wide range of marine life specimens exhibited live in the zoology labs, and two elementary 45-minute lectures, "Liquid Oxygen", billed as "An Exciting Adventure Into Chemistry".

Liquid Oxygen

Prof. L. J. Clark, head of the chemistry department, used liquid oxygen at room temperature, reducing fresh vegetables into lumps of ice in seconds, solidifying mercury and cooling a coil of lead to the point where it could be used as a spring.

Great pressure changes pure oxygen to a liquid and when it returns to a gas at room temperature it must absorb heat to bring it up from its 297 degrees below zero Fahrenheit in liquid state.

Hence, putting an egg over a pan of liquid oxygen produced the vapor of "boiling" and literally "froze" the egg as if it were poached.

Liquid oxygen can freeze alcohol and harden a rubber ball to the rigidity and frailty of an egg shell, which was ably demonstrated.

In the "live" labs were sea urchins, the beaks of giant squid, antler sponge, anemones, starfish, tarantula, black widow spiders, snakes—poison and domestic—abalone, dogfish, crab and lobster, a cougar skull, pig brain, sheeps hearts, whole embryos of shark and whale, and a neatly dissected puppy dog.

'What Stinks?'

Visitors were invited to peed into powerful microscopes, as the University School boy of about 10 who was fascinated by trypanosoma in human blood, causing sleeping sickness.

Others were less scientific in their approach.

"What stinks?" a teenaged girl inquired of her companion. "Oh, that," and she saw the lobster in formalin, a mixture of formaldehyde and alcohol.

Or the little girl: "What's this mommy?" pointing to a jar.

"Oh, that's a nudibranch."

"Oh."

"What's this mommy?"

"That's an antler sponge—why don't you read the signs?"

Second Campus

As a special accommodation, buses shuttled between the old and new campuses so that visitors could catch the sports events at gymnasium and playing fields of Camp Gordon Head where army huts also have been pressed into use.

Makeshift huts are a trademark, too, of the old campus where biology, zoology and chemistry labs, offices and activities are located, just as at jam-packed UBC.

The whole history of higher education in B.C. has been fraught with the space problem and lack of money. Fortunately there always has been unbounded spirit, which, if anything, has drawn tighter the bonds of college life.

Gov't Grants

Today there are more than ever young men and women and more of them demand higher education, which is pressed to supply the teachers' salaries, classrooms and laboratories. Matching government grants now make these possible, provided the university or college raised the initial sum.

And that's where spirit reenters the picture.

The college feeling was not the least of the qualities displayed to the public Saturday, for there were the cheer leaders, sports events, queen contest and its faculty rivalry, the rah-rah of student high-jinks, and some of the hundreds must have been infected, if only mildly.

ISLAND DIGEST

Chemainus Mill Roars Into 'Full-Tilt' Effort

CHEMAINUS — The huge MacMillan and Bloedel Ltd. Chemainus division sawmill went back into full production at midnight Sunday for the first time since early last Wednesday morning when a "short" in the powerhouse disrupted the plant's electrical system.

Production loss last Wednesday was estimated at from 300,000 to 400,000 board feet, and 140 men lost three full days of work each.

EXPLOSION

The incident occurred when wind blew rain into the powerhouse circuit breakers, causing an explosion which knocked out control panels and wiring. Only the sawmill operated last week following the power "knockout."

Repairs to the central control panels and wiring were completed over the weekend.

Officials this morning reported the sawmill, planer mill, dry kiln and loading shed are "working full tilt again."

STOCKPILED

Lumber cut by the sawmill last week was stockpiled for processing by the planer mill and dry kiln following completion of repairs.

Work on the powerhouse was done under the direction of David King, mechanical superintendent for the big mill.

$250,000 FUND DRIVE SET FOR NEW 'QUEEN MARGARET'S'

DUNCAN — A campaign to raise $250,000 will be launched soon for the construction of a new Queen Margaret's School.

The present school at Gibbins Road and Government Street, started by Miss Norah Denny and Miss Dorothy Geoghegan in 1921, is out of date and inadequate.

Plans call for construction of a gymnasium, classroom block, staff house and combined residential administrative building south of the present school, and the retaining of Malcolm's Lodge and Canmore House.

The board of governors will send 1,000 letters to former students, parents and friends asking for funds. It is hoped the money will be raised within three years.

Islanders Named UBC Advisers

Two Victoria educators have been appointed to a 17-member advisory council on extension services by the University of British Columbia.

They are Prof. Robert Wallace, vice-principal of Victoria College, and B. C. Gillie, principal of S. J. Willis Junior High School.

Also appointed to the advisory group was John MacNaughton of the Ladysmith Chronicle.

Announcement was made by Dr. John Frieson, head of the UBC extension department, who was chosen as chairman by the council at a recent organizational meeting.

Dr. Frieson said the council would advise the university on its province-wide services, education for profession and community leadership, the use of mass media, community development and provision for more adequate conference facilities for adults on and off the campus.

Prof. Wallace said council members represented a cross-section of the community throughtout B.C. which could advise the extension service on its credit and non-credit courses and assistance to various art, drama and other cultural groups.

"It's a new idea to help them decide what they should and should not do," said Mr. Gillie.

ON NEW SCHOOLS

Trustees Only 6% Overspent

CHEMAINUS — British Columbia school boards have exceeded estimated building costs for schools by less than 6 per cent in the last five years, according to W. E. Graham, assistant superintendent of administration in the education department.

"School boards are not putting up new schools just for the sake of spending money," he said in an address to the Chemainus - Crofton Chamber of Commerce. "They all are doing a good job."

BREAKDOWN

Accommodation costs are $500 for the elementary school pupil, $900 for junior high and $1,200 for the senior high student, he said.

The department favors building small elementary schools rather than transporting small children many miles to larger schools, Mr. Graham said, but the reverse is true in regard to older students.

"We feel we are justified in bringing secondary students to a bigger school, which has better facilities and higher standards," he said.

The speaker at the chamber meeting December 15 will be Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston.

GALVIN HEADS LEGION MEN AT CHEMAINUS

CHEMAINUS—Hugh Galvin was elected president of Branch 191, Canadian Legion, at the annual meeting held here.

Vice-presidents elected were Dick Duncan and William Jackson, while Harry Otto was re-elected to his 12th consecutive term as sergeant-at-arms.

New executive members are Tom Cook, Fred Deacon, Earl English, Ham Baillie Jr., and Martin van Cooten. Already on the executive are Alec Thomson, Norman Allen, Alan Eastman and Charles Sherlock.

Zone commander William MacGuire of Duncan, presented the zone membership trophy to the branch for showing the greatest percentage increase in membership of any branch in the area.

New officers and executive members will be installed with officers of the ladies' auxiliary at a joint ceremony in the Legion Hall here, Dec. 19.

King's Daughters' Hospital reported today the condition of Mrs. Esther Forbes, Mill Bay, hurt Thursday night in a crash five miles south of here, is "not good."

She suffered two broken legs, a broken arm, and head and chest injuries when the car in which she was riding collided with a truck carrying a load of railroad ties.

AMPHIBIOUS MILKMAN

Farmers in the Snohomish Valley of Washington were forced to make many deliveries by boat today as floods swept the state, washing out roads, inundating farmlands, and forcing families to evacuate.

Ghana Tribes Greet Prince

ACCRA, Ghana(Reuters)—Great crowds in colorful tribal robes swelled this west African capital today for a traditional native ceremony to welcome the husband of Queen Elizabeth.

PRINCE PHILIP
. . . gets big "akwaaba"

The biggest show since the independence celebrations of 1957, when Ghana emerged as an independent Commonwealth state after having been the British Gold Coast colony, was staged for the arrival of Prince Philip on a visit he is making in place of the Queen.

Flags flew from homes and stores, colored lights were festooned along the main streets and huge signs declared "Akwaaba" welcome.

The Prince was flying in from the small Sahara Desert town of El Golea. He stayed there Sunday night after leaving England Sunday in a four-engined aircraft which he piloted himself for parts of the flight.

WELCOME CEREMONY

He will watch a pagan ceremony of welcome after a royal procession from the airport.

The ceremony centres around the pouring of a ceremonial toast in a traditional form of thanksgiving for his safe arrival. The Ghanans then will stage a display of drumming, dancing and singing.

Original plans for both the Queen and her husband to visit the two-year-old Commonwealth country had to be cancelled when it was announced that the Queen was expecting a baby. The Queen has promised to come here in 1961.

Philip will spend tonight, Tuesday and Wednesday in Accra. He will visit Kumasi in the northern Ashanti tribal territory Thursday and Friday, returning to the capital Friday night and flying back to England next Sunday.

Top Polish Agent Seeks U.S. Asylum

WASHINGTON (AP) — Col. Pawel Monat, one of Communist Poland's chief intelligence officials, has asked for asylum in the United States.

The state department reported today that Monat has arrived in this country with his family.

Their application for permission to stay is "being processed in the usual manner," a state department spokesman said.

Press officer Lincoln White said Monat defected "some months" ago.

Monat is reported to have been the intelligence boss of Polish military attaches in diplomatic missions around the world. As such, he could be expected to know much about the Poles' military intelligence work, including possible links with the Soviet Union.

The New York Times, in a Vienna dispatch by A. M. Rosenthal, says Monat was reported to have turned himself over to U.S. authorities in Vienna.

Steel Firms Charged In Price Conspiracy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attorney-General William Rogers today brought anti-trust action against a large steel industry group, charging it with conspiring to eliminate competition in the steel industry and in the distribution of steel bars for reinforced concrete work in seven western states.

GRAND JURY SOUGHT IN PRESS BRIBE BID

NEW YORK (UPI) — Manhattan District Attorney Frank Hogan today invited two newspaper reporters to lay before a grand jury their story that a high city official had offered them a bribe.

The reporters, Fred J. Cook and Gene Gleason of the New York World-Telegram and Sun, said Sunday night the official had offered them $75 to $100 a week in 1956 to stop their "prying" into the city's slum clearance program. The official, they said, is still in the city administration.

WIFE IN HOSPITAL

Chan Still Hides, Ship Due to Sail

VANCOUVER (CP) — Reservations made by the immigration department for the Weldon Chan family are not expected to be filled when a Hong Kong-bound ship leaves Seattle today.

Mr. Chan has been missing for 10 days, his wife is in hospital recovering from an overdose of sleeping pills and their five-year-old daughter is staying with friends.

The family, which has been in Canada 18 months on a visitors' visa, was scheduled to be deported to Hong Kong today aboard the ship China Mail.

Mr. Chan disappeared on his way to Ottawa, where he said he was going to appeal the deportation order.

HIDING OUT

He never got to Ottawa to see Immigration Minister Fairclough but his lawyer, Harry Fan, last week received a letter from him saying he was hiding out in Eastern Canada.

A warrant has been issued for his arrest.

Alice Chan was taken to hospital Saturday night after her landlord, Leslie Mah, found her in a stupor in her room.

[illegible] been taking sleeping pills for some time but she had had a bad headache Saturday night "so she took a couple more pills than usual."

Mrs. Chan was reported in "fairly good" condition by hospital authorities.

NO CLUES

The immigration department made the reservations aboard the ship when it announced that the Hong Kong-born Chinese and his family were to be deported.

Philip Bird, department superintendent for the Pacific area, said Sunday night officials have no clues as to Chan's whereabouts.

WINTER FERRY TO ANACORTES EARNS PRAISE

OLYMPIA (AP)—The new winter ferry service between Sidney, B.C., and Anacortes was described by Gov. Rosellini today as a considerable success.

He said there was an increase of 1,432 vehicles and 4,124 passengers in October, compared to the same month in 1958.

In addition, Rosellini said, it appears the run will carry 1,300 vehicles and 4,000 passengers between Anacortes and Sidney during November.

He said the figures were 30 per cent higher than original estimates.

Poison Varnish Feared Mixed With Milk Gift

NAPLES (CP) — Police checked dozens of shipments of Canadian milk today in continuing efforts to find a number of poisonous cans of varnish in similar types of cans that may have become mixed up with the shipment.

The Canadian milk, a free shipment under international relief appeals, arrived here last week aboard the frighter San Sebastiano. Unloaded with the milk was a consignment of varnish in white-labelled cans that resembled the milk containers.

When the bulk of the varnish shipment was unloaded at a Naples factory it was found that eight cases of 325 pounds of poisonous varnish was missing. It was feared that it had been shipped with the milk and might be used if opened hurriedly by those who could not read the labels.

FOUR MISSING IN HOTEL FIRE; ARSON SUSPECTED

PEORIA, Ill., (UPI) — Fire touched off by an explosion roared through the Arion Hotel today and four persons were reported missing. It was the second hotel fire here in 24 hours.

Chief fire inspector Al Boulton blamed both fires on arson.

A blaze Sunday destroyed an unoccupied building planned to be open soon as a Negro hotel, the Parkview Arms.

The buildings were about eight blocks apart on this city's south side, a neighborhood of transition in terms of white and Negro residents.

Russ Lose Bid To Halt Debate On Hungary

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United Nations steering committee voted 15 to 3 today to recommend a new airing in the General Assembly of the 1956 Hungarian freedom revolt and its brutal suppression by the Soviet Union.

The Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia and Romania voted against including the item on the agenda. Morocco and Indonesia abstained.

The United States told the 21-nation committee that "apparently the end of the reign of terror is not in sight" in Hungary.

Inscription of the Hungarian item on the agenda originally was requested by Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand, special UN representative on the Hungarian question. He said that "the framework of repression remain unchanged" in Hungary and that continuing trials and executions of freedom fighters were reported.

LEGALITY QUERIED

The Soviet Union, and several other delegations, questioned the legality of Munro's introducing an item for the assembly agenda and the US formally requested inclusion of the question.

Soviet deputy foreign minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov described Munro as an American "puppet."

He said it was apparent that "certain circles" were concerned lest the "weapons of the cold war . . . become rusty or obsolete."

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge cited Munro's statements that foreign armed forces—Soviet troops—remained in Hungary and that trials and executions of Hungarian Freedom Fighters had taken place since last year's General Assembly.

At that time, the Communist authorities gave assurances that these things had been ended.

"Apparently, the end of the reign of terror is not in sight because there are disturbinig rumors that more executions are pending," Lodge said.

Disk jockey Alan Freed, pioneer of rock 'n' roll, was questioned today by officials of New york station WNEW-TV in connection with alleged "payola". (See story page 14).

Mikoyan Asks More Trade With Mexico

MONTERREY, Mexico (AP) —Anastas Mikoyan says the Soviet Union is trying to increase trade with Mexico and other Latin American countries and is willing to sell on easy terms.

The Russian deputy premier said he did not travel all the way from Moscow to Mexico just to open the Soviet Exhibition.

Mikoyan said Russia had made money, machinery, and technical assistance available to India for building a steel plant on 10-year credit terms at two per cent interest. He said his government could make the same terms for Latin-American countries.

Heroic Boys Rescue 12 From Sinking Bus

VULCAN, Alta. (CP)—Two young brothers were hailed as heroes today after they risked their lives to help save 15 other children from drowning when a bus broke through the ice of a slough Saturday night.

The children, plus two adults, escaped uninjured before the bus settled into about seven feet of water near this community 60 miles southeast of Calgary.

The boys, Lawrence Lundgren, 16, and his brother David, 13, were the last to leave the bus. Witnesses said that as the bus began to sink rear-end first through the ice, they made their way to the back of the bus and pushed and pulled 12 girls to safety. [illegible] selves, only a foot of air space remained.

All the children were between 14 and 16 years old.

The bus was one of two vehicles carrying members of the Church of Christ young people's group from a skating party at the slough to the nearby farm home of Doug Smith where they were to continue the party.

Families Flee River Valleys

(Times News Services)

SEATTLE — Huge slides and rampaging rivers, touched off by a week-long deluge with up to 13½ inches of rain, cut cross-state travel to a trickle today and marooned hundreds in lower valleys.

Urgent state-federal rescue operations were under way in many lowland areas of western Washington.

Major rail and traffic routes through the Cascade Mountains were blocked late Sunday and through the night.

Highway department crews cleared a circuitous link between the east and west sides through the state's midsection shortly after daybreak.

Scores of families fled flooded homes in Snohomish and King counties where raging rivers rose towards crests which promised to be the highest in 20 years.

Others waited for Coast Guard boats or army ducks to pick them from their homes and carry them to safety.

Gov. Rosellini today declared Snohomish County a major disaster area because of high waters in the Stilagauamish and Skykomish river valleys.

The governor asked the Corps of Engineers to move in with heavy equipment in an effort to contain the waters.

The most severely flooded areas were around Snohomish, a town of about 3,000 population about 25 miles northeast of here, and the Kent-Auburn area 20 miles southeast of here with a combined population of about 18,000.

In advance of the flooding brought by the Snohomish and Green Rivers and their torrential tributaries, earth slides and bridge washouts slashed like a giant axe, cutting the state's major east-west highway and rail routes near their summits in the Cascade Mountains.

Train Passengers Trapped 10 Hours

Ninety passengers were trapped for 10 hours in a stalled train until they got out by bus on a one-way road.

A woman was killed in a mountain pass highway accident.

The Milwaukee Road's nine-car Olympian-Hiawatha passenger train was caught between slides Sunday afternoon near Hyak, 60 miles east of Seattle. Buses from Ellensburg, Wash., east of the Cascades, reached the stalled train early today and took the passengers to Spokane for transfer to a makeup train for Chicago.

The buses got through on Highway No. 10, restricted to one-way traffic near the slide area where the train was caught.

The Milwaukee, Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads all halted trains on regular routes across the Cascades. They combined to divert traffic on a southern route by way of Pasco and Vancouver, Wash.

Major Route Closed 30 Days

Highway traffic piled up on both sides of the Cascades as the major cross-state passes —Snoqualmie, Stevens, White and Blewett — all were closed by slides.

Snoqualmie Pass Highway, the state's major four-lane route through the Cascades, will be closed for a minimum of 30 days, the state highway department said.

The rampaging south fork of the Snoqualmie River spilled from its channel and slashed a new bed which washed out all four lanes of the arterial road eight miles east of North Bend.

The diverted river carved a canyon at least 600 feet across and created a waterfall of nearly 40 feet where the highway was cut.

A highway expert at the scene said it might be more than a year before the present road could be restored. A temporary road would have to be built north of the washout, a task of a month or more.

Hazel K. Caddell, 64, of Leavenworth, Wash., was killed on Stevens Pass when the automobile she was driving crashed into a state highway department truck in a slide area.

Several days of heavy rain followed by a warm chinook wind in the mountains caused the flooding. Water from melting snow poured down streams, ditches and ravines in the Cascades.

The highways department reported that the small town of Packwood, south of Mount Rainier, was being evacuated because of flooding of the Cowlitz River.

Civil defence headquarters at Seattle said the town of Fall City, on the Snowqualmie River, 25 miles east of here, also was being evacuated.

'Copters Look for Sheets on Roofs

At Snohomish rescue teams had taken 50 to 60 families to safety.

"We have about eight boats, all small craft," he said, "and we've alerted people who want to leave to put a sheet on the roof. Then a helicopter from Paine Air Force base with Sheriff Bob Twitchell in it pinpoints the rescue requests and a boat is dispatched to get them."

The state patrol advised truckers headed for the Puget Sound area with perishable cargoes to swing north or south around the blocked passes. Some went north to Okanogan, Wash., and then to the coast via Hope, B.C. Others were routed over the southerly Satus Pass—the only one open in Washington—or down the Columbia River highway in Oregon.

All through the mountains, high winds and high temperatures helped melt the snow.

The state patrol reported that U.S. Highway 10, a four-laned route that carries the heaviest traffic over the Cascades, was closed indefinitely. Mud, rocks and debris clogged the highway on both sides of the Snoqualmie Pass summit.

Rivers were still on the rise today and the rich Snohomish farming area braced itself for more.

Civil defence director Harold Peterson, called the situation "extremely critical," and said "There's every reason to think tomorrow will be worse and the next day will be worse than that."

Rats Bite Baby to Death In Squalid Squatter Shack

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Three-month-old Gladys Snow died in hospital early today as a result of rat bites.

The child was found Sunday by her truck-driver father, E. Snow, lying unconscious in a pool of blood in her crib near the kitchen stove. Hospital officials said the left side of the child's head appeared to have been chewed away.

A CJON radio crew that visited the Snow home Sunday said 11 children of the family slept each night on the kitchen table made into a bed. They added there were two families numbering 21 persons, 17 of them children, living in four rooms.

One reporter said he found four children sharing a bed with their parents.

There was a new television set in one of the rooms and a car in the backyard.

The father, whose wife is expecting another child, told reporters he had noticed a hole in the floor before he went to bed Saturday night and had pushed one leg of the baby's crib into it "so the rats wouldn't be able to get through."

City building inspector Andrew Cahill said "These people are squatters living on Crown land in sub-standard dwellings and nobody has any jurisdiction over them."

Rival Groups Threaten Trade Conflict

LONDON (UPI) — Britain will move quickly to head off a threatened trade war in western Europe, British sources said Saturday.

They said Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will propose early talks to prevent a head-on clash between the two rival trade groups among America's allies in Europe.

The threat of a trade conflict arose when Britain, Austria, Denmark, Norway, Portugal, Sweden and Switzerland announced agreement on a convention to establish the European Free Trade Association (EFTA). The agreement by the so-called "outer seven" countries was reached in Stockholm Friday.

Creation of the EFTA split Europe into two rival trade blocs—the "outer seven" with populations totaling 85 million and the six-nation European Common Market with populations of 160 million. The common market includes France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg and The Netherlands.

The sources said it had not yet been decided whether Britain will propose a conference between the two groups, or will suggest bilateral talks between the individual members.

ECONOMIC THREAT

But they said Macmillan is anxious at all costs to avoid a trade conflict that could do irreparable damage to the economies of countries on which the United States lavished billions of dollars in Marshall Plan aid after the Second World War.

The danger was discussed during West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's talks with Macmillan in London earlier this week.

Adenauer told a news conference at the end of the talks Thursday that he and Macmillan agreed the present economic rift must "in no circumstances be allowed to lead to a trade war which would be in sharp conflict with everything that has been done in recent years for the unification of a free western Europe and a free world."

The British earlier had hoped to be able to use "the outer seven" as a lever to force the common market to join in a broad free trade agreement for all western Europe.

Officials said Macmillan's talks with Adenauer and Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd's talks in Paris 10 days ago have convinced the British government that this is out of the question in the near future.

Instead, they said the Macmillan government is seeking some form of arrangement for co-operation between the two trade blocs. In particular, the sources said, Britain wants to prevent them from setting up high tariff walls and restrictive quotas against each other.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

SPOKANE (AP) — A formula for division of downstream power on the Columbia River may be ready by next spring, a Bonneville Power Administration meeting was told Friday.

J. Lane Northland, assistant administrator of the administration, said at the regional advisory meeting, the International Joint Commission may have its recommendation ready by then.

'Interests Of Public Criterion'

MONTREAL (CP)—The Canadian Chamber of Commerce, in a brief made public this week, recommends that public interest be the criterion in any legislation regarding combines or the field of business operation.

The brief was submitted to Justice Minister Fulton. The minister invited the chamber's views with respect to a bill to amend the Combines Investigation Act and the Criminal Code.

The brief said the chamber's executive council "holds as fundamental that any investigation of alleged combines should be for the purpose of adducing facts to determine whether or not a combination is injurious to the public and further that proof of detriment to the public should be required as an essential element of the offence."

BOOZE IN BAG—Newspaperman James T. Keenan shows in Columbus, Ohio, a novel idea—liquor in plastic bags. The state is trying to decide whether it will market the drink-size packages. On the bags would be stickers carrying brand name, proof, age and the rest of the usual information.

C OF C GROUP PROPOSAL

Special Bus Service For Yule Shoppers

A special shopping bus service in the downtown area during the Christmas rush is proposed by Victoria Chamber of Commerce retail merchants group.

Roy Denny, group chairman, said the proposal is that the bus should run a 10-minute belt-line circular service covering all main downtown shopping areas.

The bus would run from the Hudson's Bay store area along Douglas, Yates and Government to Courtney Street on the south and would take in the shopping areas of Fort and Yates on its return northward journey along Douglas Street.

Mr. Denny said the B.C. Electric had offered to supply a 10 to 4 p.m. service for $45 a day with an extension to 9 p.m. on Fridays.

He outlined the plan to a Chamber directors Friday afternoon and said a meeting of the retail merchants had been called for Tuesday to set up a program.

"If sufficient funds are available it might be possible to put on two buses—one going in each direction," Mr. Denny said.

TODAY'S GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP)—Dealings were slow today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, with flax receiving the best action. Prices at the close were irregular for all grains.

Flax attracted early buying from commission houses and others. The market turned irregular near the close.

There were no reports of export business, but inquiry from the continent was indicated.

Oats and barley moved narrowly on a few shipping orders associated with feed supply. Some export interest developed in barley, with trade reports that two European countries were making inquiries.

Rye trade was light and local, with prices irregular.

Weekend export wheat loadings included: West Germany 820,000 bushels, United Kingdom 835,000 and Japan 505,000.

Lakehead prices for class two, IWA and domestic wheat were unchanged from Friday.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Trading Heavy, Prices Dip

Heavy trading on the Toronto exchange moved the market lower today, although some industrial issues showed good gains.

Spaceage stocks got a life, meanwhile, on Wall Street the rest of the market was uneven.

AT TORONTO Moore Corporation was the biggest industrial winner, jumping 20 points to 1,920. Loblaw Inc. was next in line with a seven-point gain at 134. General Electric was up 4⅞ points at 83⅞, and Dominion Glass increased two points at 92. Consolidated Paper was up oen point at 40¾.

Calgary Power was the biggest loser, dipping 1¾ points at 90½.

Mines with the exception of lower-priced issues such as Starratt, Head of the Lakes and Orchan, were relatively quiet. Most changes, with losses ahead of gains, were in 15-25-cent range.

Western oils, after a flurry of activity five days ago, were in the doldrums for the second week in a row.

AT NEW YORK Zenith rose well over 5 and Varian Associates about 4 while Ampex wiped out a loss of more than six.

Thiokol added a couple of points and General Tire, which has a rocket subsidiary, was up more than a point.

Among Canadian stocks Hudson Bay lost 1¼, Dome Mines ⅜, McIntyre Porcupine ½, and Canadian Pacific ⅛, while Granby Mining gained ⅜ and International Nickel ⅛.

AT MONTREAL industrials moved slowly at a lower level during moderate early afternoon trading.

Banks showed signs of dropping off after holding up during the morning with Montreal losing ⅝ at 53¾ and Canadienne Nationale ¼ at 52¼. Royal was up the same at 79¾.

Base metals continued to fall led by Hudson Bay, down 1 at 50. Noranda and Aluminium were down fractions.

Consolidated was a bright spot in papers with a one-point gain at 41 while Abitibi and Bowater fell off minor fractions. MacMillan "B" was off ¼ at 37½.

Calgary Power dropped ⅝ for the biggest loss in a mainly-inactive utilities section.

AT VANCOUVER the market was dull with prices varying during the forenoon.

Beaver Lodge moved 1,000 at 13. Caribou traded 700 at $1.12. Pacific Nickel sold 900 at 59. Torwest moved 2,000 at 13. Trojan traded 2,000 at 7c.

AT LONDON, selective demand pushed stock prices higher. Steels were generally better.

The gilt-edged market was quiet and irregular, as were dollar stocks.

Golds were quiet and firm, coppers improved and oils eased.

INCO CUTS COPPER PRICE

TORONTO (CP) — International Nickel Company of Canada Ltd. announces that effective today its price for domestic copper delivered Toronto is 30 cents a pound—a reduction of one cent a pound from the 31-cent price set Nov. 6.

Canadian Copper Refiners Ltd. has also announced the one-cent reduction.

B.C. Construction Drops $10 Million

AN EXTENSION PHONE!

Just about the nicest gift any husband ever thought of

And just about the nicest gift any wife or family ever received. It's different, exciting and its pleasure increases every day. And it's so easy to give an extension phone. You can pick up a gift-boxed phone at the Telephone Company, already to put under the tree. Or, for Christmas secrecy, have it delivered to your office. The extension phone will be installed, free of charge, shortly after Christmas.

How to give an Extension Phone for Christmas:

The only charge is for regular telephone service, each month — $1.25 (free installation). One of the attractive features of this gift of service is that you may give it for as long a period as you wish. Many people give it for 1 year. This would come to $15.00. You may pre-pay this or have the $1.25 added to your own telephone bill each month. An especially lovely gift is a coloured extension phone. To give this, there is an additional one-time charge of $12.00. This may also be paid by instalment charges on your own telephone bill.

GOVERNOR OPENS AUXILIARY CAMPUS AT GORDON HEAD

'Make This a University City' Judge's Challenge to Victoria

(See also Page 29)

A challenge to make itself a university city was thrust at Victoria Saturday at the opening of Victoria College 120-acre auxiliary campus at Camp Gordon Head by Lieut.-Gov. Frank Ross.

The challenger was chairman of the college council, Judge Joseph B. Clearihue, speaking in reference to a public campaign to subscribe $1,500,000 toward a total $3,000,000 building fund starting in six weeks.

At First Hand

The opening climaxed a full day of college homecoming and open house activities at Gordon Head and Lansdowne campuses, attended by an estimated 3,000 students, old grads, guests, citizens and dignitaries who saw and heard at first hand the existing and potential facilities of B.C.'s oldest institute of higher learning.

In the crowded gymnasium, converted from Camp Gordon Head drill hall, Judge Clearihue said the opening of the new campus "marks another step in our progress toward making Victoria a university city."

He credited Defence Minister G. R. Pearkes for his part in the acquisition and thanked Victoria city council for relinquishing its claim on the camp.

Canada's Best

"A gymnasium and playing fields mean a great deal in university life . . . Now we have them we are resolved to make Victoria College the best liberal arts college in Canada."

He said there are now 173 acres total in both campuses on which to build in future. "We have enough room now to provide for 1,300 students next year," (an increase of nearly 300).

"This is about the same number as took part in the Great Trek at UBC," when the university at Vancouver moved from Fairview to undeveloped Point Grey.

"We feel justified in saying we made a trek to Gordon Head Camp," the judge said, "but we have the advantage in that they had nothing and we have approximately $2,000,000 in buildings. That is a challenge and a challenge to Victoria to take up and make Victoria a university city."

'Ground Swell'

Building fund chairman R. B. Wilson said it would not be easy to raise $1,500,000, especially outside of B.C. where national corporations would be solicited for contributions.

"The faculty and students can do a great deal to boost our campaign . . . develop a ground swell of enthusiasm with which we cannot fail," he said.

Dean Gordon M. Shrum, on behalf of UBC chancellor and president, pledged the support of all at the university in helping Victoria College to grow. But he warned the college council to hang on to every army hut. "At UBC we are still unable to keep up with registrations despite our new buildings and I am fairly confident the same thing will happen here."

Dormitories

Dr. Shrum advised the planners to include dormitories and residences for students from other parts of B.C., other provinces and foreign countries who will come in the future.

He suggested Victoria students should go to Vancouver and Vancouver students come to Victoria College when residences are available because "it is good to live away from home when going to university."

The lieutenant-governor, accompanied by Mrs. Ross, both wearing the scarlet-trimmed robes of higher learning, said an expanded college is a "must" and he was proud to declare the campus open.

"I hope that before I pass out of this world I shall see in Victoria a university filling the needs of British Columbia and giving Victoria the pride of having its own university."

Archbishop of B.C. Harold Sexton gave the benediction and asked "may learning flourish" at the new site.

Best wishes of Premier Bennett and the provincial government were conveyed by public works minister W. N. Chant, who looked to the day when Victoria College is "one of the great North American universities."

Introductions were by college principal Dr. Harry Hickman, who with the vice-regal couple, led the procession of dignitaries and faculty to a flower-banked stage and welcomed visitors to the campus.

Following the ceremony college Vikings "A" team played basketball against Vancouver YMCA in part of the day's nine-game athletic program, including a cross-country race between the two campuses.

Queen Crowned

At half time in the ball game, Women's Undergraduate Society president Marilyn Ardley crowned Joan Moffat the 1959 Homecoming Queen, and named Nora Wright and Kathy Dangerfield her princesses.

After the game a college orchestra played music for dancing until midnight.

CENTENNIAL MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIPS

Two $500 Awards Created

Establishment of two $500 Centennial Memorial Perpetual Scholarships — one for Victoria College and one for University of B.C. at Vancouver, was announced today.

They were created as one of the final acts of the B.C. Centennial Committee, and announced by board chairman L. J. Wallace, now deputy provincial secretary.

The awards are proceeds from investment of about $20,000 gathered through sales of the B.C. Centennial Record Book, plus a supplementary grant from centennial funds.

The first awards will be made in May, 1960, based on studies now being undertaken by students here and in Vancouver.

The award for Victoria College is the largest single scholarship available at the institution.

To be known as the B.C. 1958 Centennial Scholarship, it will be awarded annually to a student "who has completed at least one year at Victoria College, and who is continuing university studies in the province of B.C.," Mr. Wallace said.

"The award will be made on the basis of scholarship achievement and effective participation in campus activities," he added.

The UBC Scholarship, he said, will be offered annually to students who are residents of B.C., and are continuing undergraduate studies in the field of the humanities or social sciences.

"It will be awarded to a student entering the third year with an outstanding academic record.

"In the selection of the winner, the general interest and participation in university and community affairs, may be a factor," said Mr. Wallace.

'I NEARLY HAD HIM IN THE NET'

Highly-Strung 'Cherry' Took Off With a Bang

Cherry, the tame cock pheasant, narrowly escaped capture Sunday night.

His owner, Miss Jessie Reed, of 1762 Pembroke, stalked him for several hours in drenching rain in a back garden at 1603 Bay Street.

"I nearly had him in the net," she said, "when someone in the next house banged a door. It sounded like a gun going off and Cherry flew away.

"He is very highly strung."

'NEVER GIVE UP'

Undaunted by Cherry's repeated escapes from houses in this area, Miss Read pursued her search for him this morning.

"I shall never give up," she declared.

A mongolian ring net pheasant, Cherry escaped from her house in a high wind last Sunday week, leaving behind a sorrowing mother pheasant and four daughters.

1,400 Sign Petition In Milk Carton Fight

A total of 1,400 Saanich householders have signed a petition requesting the provincial government to revoke its decision requiring all retail distributors to sell milk in standard-size imperial containers.

The petition claims the government's action is an abrogation of a citizen's liberty, limiting his "freedom of choice."

It was circulated in Saanich after Milky Way Dairy Co., formed by a group of dairy farmers, was notified by government officials it must stop selling its milk in 64-ounce cartons by Dec. 15.

U.S. MACHINE

The order was issued after the company had purchased an expensive machine from the United States which packages milk in 64-ounce cartons.

It means the company will have to sell its milk in imperial half-pint, pint and quart cartons.

Mrs. H. K. Hunt, 756 Halliburton Road, who launched the petition, said the order would put the Milky Way dairy out of business.

"It will mean that we will have no choice but to buy milk from the big dairies using machines which package milk only in imperial-size containers.

"We want to be able to buy local milk in the more convenient carton," she said. "We feel the price of the 64-ounce carton is right."

She explained the Milky Way carton contained 3.8 butterfat, as compared with 3.4 butterfat contained in milk sold by other distributors.

WON'T STOP

Meanwhile, Henry Robinson, an official of the dairy firm, said his company will continue to sell milk in the 64-ounce cartons despite the government order.

"We don't think the government has the jurisdiction to impose such an order," he said. "We don't intend to stop sales after Dec. 15."

He said the cabinet had refused to meet Saanich farmers to discuss the matter.

"We wrote a letter to Provincial Secretary Wesley Black and he didn't have the courtesy to reply," he stated.

The government has been strongly criticized by Saanich farmers for its action.

The government said it passed the order to protect consumers.

It claimed some consumers who bought the 64-ounce cartons were under the impression they were buying an imperial gallon, containing 80 ounces of milk.

MERCURY SOARS TO 56; MORE RAIN ON TUESDAY

Warm winds gusting in from the southwest Sunday night pushed the mercury up to an unseasonally high 56 degrees around 7 p.m. amidst driving rain.

In the 24-hour period ending early this morning, .75 inches of rain fell on Greater Victoria — no record, but a good solid downpour.

But it was nothing compared with Tofino which was drenched with 5.28 inches, or Jordan River that received 4.04 inches.

Rain here ended about 8 p.m. although the warm winds which started about 6.30 p.m. hit a high of 44 mph around 11 p.m. and had dropped off about 5 a.m. today.

Rain is not forecast today, despite the clouds, but there is more in the offing Tuesday. Temperatures will hit a low of 44 degrees Tuesday and a high of around 50.

HAIG-BROWN'S PROPOSAL

Marine Park Urged To Restore Otters

Establishment of a federal marine park to restore the sea otter, now extinct in B.C. waters, was advocated today by Roderick Haig-Brown, British Columbia author, magistrate and conservationist.

He said as the Canadian government had successfully restored the American buffalo, it should now attempt to do the same with the sea otter which once numbered in the hundreds of thousands in coastal waters.

Mr. Haig-Brown's suggestion is backed by conservationists, biologists, park experts and naturalists.

CLUBBED

The sea otter, a friendly 80-pound marine animal, was clubbed to extinction by early pelt hunters. They are now only found in the Aleutian Islands and southern California.

Russia is also reported attempting to bring the animals back to the coast of Siberia.

Interest in the sea otter was revived by members of the Victoria Natural History Society who suggested Saturday it be included in B.C.'s coat of arms because it was indirectly responsible for the colonization of the west coast.

Mr. Haig Brown said there are spots along the coast where the experiment of re-establishing the animal could be carried out.

ACT NOW

"We need a marine park anyway," he said. "The government should acquire a site now before the entire coast is alienated."

Dr. Clifford Carl, director of the Provincial Museum, said it is quite possible the sea otter could be re-established here.

"It would require the cooperation of the United States government which owns the northern herd," he said. "But I don't think there would be any trouble in getting that."

WORTHWHILE

Prof. J. A. Cunningham, zoologist, said it would be a worthwhile project for the federal parks department to undertake.

"It is a wonderful idea," he said, "and would be of interest to all countries. Once a colony was established here, it would become a world-wide attraction."

The sea otter is so tame seagulls will often steal muscles from them. This tameness was one reason it couldn't survive man's onslaught.

Ghana Tribes Greet Prince

ACCRA, Ghana (Reuters) — Vast crowds in colorful tribal costumes today gave a roaring welcome to Prince Philip when he arrived here by air for a week's state visit.

The Queen's husband was greeted by the Earl of Listowel, governor-general of Ghana, and Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah as he stepped from his four-engined Heron Plane after the flight from Britain.

Flags flew from homes and stores, colored lights were festooned along the main streets and huge signs declared "Akwaaba" welcome.

The Prince was flying in from the small Sahara Desert town of El Golea. He stayed there Sunday night after leaving England Sunday in a four-engined aircraft which he piloted himself for parts of the flight.

He will watch a pagan ceremony of welcome after a royal procession from the airport.

The ceremony centres around the pouring of a ceremonial toast in a traditional form of thanksgiving for his safe arrival. The Ghanans then will stage a display of drumming, dancing and singing.

Original plans for both the Queen and her husband to visit the two-year-old Commonwealth country had to be cancelled when it was announced that the Queen was expecting a baby. The Queen has promised to come here in 1961.

Philip will spend tonight, Tuesday and Wednesday in Accra. He will visit Kumasi in the northern Ashanti tribal territory Thursday and Friday, returning to the capital Friday night and flying back to England next Sunday.

Rats Bite Baby to Death In Squalid Squatter Shack

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Three-month-old Gladys Snow died in hospital early today as a result of rat bites.

The child was found Sunday by her truck-driver father, E. Snow, lying unconscious in a pool of blood in her crib near the kitchen stove. Hospital officials said the left side of the child's head appeared to have been chewed away.

A CJON radio crew that visited the Snow home Sunday said 11 children of the family slept each night on the kitchen table made into a bed. They added there were two families numbering 21 persons, 17 of them children, living in four rooms.

One reporter said he found four children sharing a bed with their parents.

There was a new television set in one of the rooms and a car in the backyard.

The father, whose wife is expecting another child, told reporters he had noticed a hole in the floor before he went to bed Saturday night and had pushed one leg of the baby's crib into it "so the rats wouldn't be able to get through."

City building inspector Andrew Cahill said "These people are squatters living on Crown land in sub-standard dwellings and nobody has any jurisdiction over them."

Russia Fails to Stop UN Debate on Hungary

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United Nations steering committee voted 15 to 3 today to recommend a new airing in the General Assembly of the 1956 Hungarian freedom revolt and its brutal suppression by the Soviet Union.

The Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia and Romania voted against including the item on the agenda. Morocco and Indonesia abstained.

The United States told the 21-nation committee that "apparently the end of the reign of terror is not in sight" in Hungary.

Inscription of the Hungarian item on the agenda originally was requested by Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand, special UN representative on the Hungarian question. He said that "the framework of repression remain unchanged" in Hungary and that continuing trials and executions of freedom fighters were reported.

The Soviet Union, and several other delegations, questioned the legality of Munro's introducing an item for the assembly agenda and the U.S. formally requested inclusion of the question.

Soviet deputy foreign minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov described Munro as an American "puppet."

He said it was apparent that "certain circles" were concerned lest the "weapons of the cold war . . . become rusty or obsolete."

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge cited Munro's statements that foreign armed forces—Soviet troops—remained in Hungary and that trials and executions of Hungarian Freedom Fighters had taken place since last year's General Assembly.

At that time, the Communist authorities gave assurances that these things had been ended.

"Apparently, the end of the reign of terror is not in sight because there are disturbing rumors that more executions are pending," Lodge said.

WIFE IN HOSPITAL

Chan Still Hides, Ship Due to Sail

VANCOUVER (CP) — Reservations made by the immigration department for the Weldon Chan family are not expected to be filled when a Hong Kong-bound ship leaves Seattle today.

Mr. Chan has been missing for 10 days, his wife is in hospital recovering from an overdose of sleeping pills and their five-year-old daughter is staying with friends.

The family, which has been in [illegible]nada 18 months on a visitors' visa, was scheduled to be deported to Hong Kong today aboard the ship China Mail.

Mr. Chan disappeared on his way to Ottawa, where he said he was going to appeal the deportation order.

HIDING OUT

He never got to Ottawa to see Immigration Minister Fairclough but his lawyer, Harry Fan, last week received a letter from him saying he was hiding out in Eastern Canada.

A warrant has been issued for his arrest.

Alice Chan was taken to hospital Saturday night after her landlord, Leslie Mah, found her in a stupor in her room.

Lawyer Fan said she had been taking sleeping pills for some time but she had had a bad headache Saturday night "so she took a couple more pills than usual."

Mrs. Chan was reported in "fairly good" condition by hospital authorities.

NO CLUES

The immigration department made the reservations aboard the ship when it announced that the Hong Kong-born Chinese and his family were to be deported.

Philip Bird, department superintendent for the Pacific area, said Sunday night officials have no clues as to Chan's whereabouts.

Roads Slashed, Families Flee River Rampage

(Times News Services)

SEATTLE — Huge slides and rampaging rivers, touched off by a week-long deluge with up to 13½ inches of rain, cut cross-state travel to a trickle today and marooned hundreds in lower valleys.

Urgent state-federal rescue operations were under way in many lowland areas of western Washington.

Major rail and traffic routes through the Cascade Mountains were blocked late Sunday and through the night.

Highway department crews cleared a circuitous link between the east and west sides through the state's midsection shortly after daybreak.

Scores of families fled flooded homes in Snohomish and King counties where raging rivers rose towards crests which promised to be the highest in 20 years.

Others waited for Coast Guard boats or army ducks to pick them from their homes and carry them to safety.

Gov. Rosellini today declared Snohomish County a major disaster area because of high waters in the Stilagauamish and Skykomish river valleys.

The governor asked the Corps of Engineers to move in with heavy equipment in an effort to contain the waters.

The most severely flooded areas were around Snohomish, a town of about 3,000 population about 25 miles northeast of here, and the Kent-Auburn area 20 miles southeast of here with a combined population of about 18,000.

In advance of the flooding brought by the Snohomish and Green Rivers and their torrential tributaries, earth slides and bridge washouts slashed like a giant axe, cutting the state's major east-west highway and rail routes near their summits in the Cascade Mountains.

Train Passengers Trapped 10 Hours

Ninety passengers were trapped for 10 hours in a stalled train until they got out by bus on a one-way road.

A woman was killed in a mountain pass highway accident.

The Milwaukee Road's nine-car Olympian-Hiawatha passenger train was caught between slides Sunday afternoon near Hyak, 60 miles east of Seattle. Buses from Ellensburg, Wash., east of the Cascades, reached the stalled train early today and took the passengers to Spokane for transfer to a makeup train for Chicago.

The buses got through on Highway No. 10, restricted to one-way traffic near the slide area where the train was caught.

The Milwaukee, Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads all halted trains on regular routes across the Cascades. They combined to divert traffic on a southern route by way of Pasco and Vancouver, Wash.

Major Route Closed 30 Days

Highway traffic piled up on both sides of the Cascades as the major cross-state passes —Snoqualmie, Stevens, White and Blewett — all were closed by slides.

Snoqualmie Pass Highway, the state's major four-lane route through the Cascades, will be closed for a minimum of 30 days, the state highway department said.

The rampaging south fork of the Snoqualmie River spilled from its channel and slashed a new bed which washed out all four lanes of the arterial road eight miles east of North Bend.

The diverted river carved a canyon at least 600 feet across and created a waterfall of nearly 40 feet where the highway was cut.

A highway expert at the scene said it might be more than a year before the present road could be restored. A temporary road would have to be built north of the washout, a task of a month or more.

Hazel K. Caddell, 64, of Leavenworth, Wash., was killed on Stevens Pass when the automobile she was driving crashed into a state highway department truck in a slide area.

Several days of heavy rain followed by a warm chinook wind in the mountains caused the flooding. Water from melting snow poured down

Science 'Acts' Score at College 'Spec'

A strange amalgam of chamber of horrors and circus midway, parlor tricks and parents' day in the classroom—that was Victoria College open house Saturday.

Hundreds of citizens, many for the first time, got a capsule glimpse of an expanding college-come-university in action.

They were shown specimens ranging from the sex life of the lowly protozoa and close-up of the Sooke newt, to a lassitudinous nudibranch, many-splendored starfish and egg-poaching on a block of ice.

They saw the spacious library, classroom and lounge facilities of the modern Ewing Building, an art display and samples of string quartette music and choral singing.

Organized tours conducted by willing students showed them the activity hut and such extra-curricular effort as the Jive Clubb in session; Dunlop House, where a limited group of out-of-town students live; the counselling and job placement office and a rehearsal of the Players' Club.

Most popudar were the scientific displays, especially a wide range of marine life specimens exhibited live in the zoology labs, and two elementary 45-minute lectures, "Liquid Oxygen", billed as "An Exciting Adventure Into Chemistry".

Liquid Oxygen

Prof. L. J. Clark, head of the chemistry department, used liquid oxygen at room temperature, reducing fresh vegetables into lumps of ice in seconds, solidifying mercury and cooling a coil of lead to the point where it could be used as a spring.

Great pressure changes pure oxygen to a liquid and when it returns to a gas at room temperature it must absorb heat to bring it up from its 297 degrees below zero Fahrenheit in liquid state.

Hence, putting an egg over a pan of liquid oxygen produced the vapor of "boiling" and literally "froze" the egg as if it were poached.

Liquid oxygen can freeze alcohol and harden a rubber ball to the rigidity and frailty of an egg shell, which was ably demonstrated.

In the "live" labs were sea urchins, the beaks of giant squid, antler sponge, anemones, starfish, tarantula, black widow spiders, snakes—poison and domestic—abalone, dogfish, crab and lobster, a cougar skull, pig brain, sheeps hearts, whole embryos of shark and whale, and a neatly dissected puppy dog.

'What Stinks?'

Visitors were invited to peed into powerful microscopes, as the University School boy of about 10 who was fascinated by trypanosoma in human blood, causing sleeping sickness.

Others were less scientific in their approach.

"What stinks?" a teenaged girl inquired of her companion. "Oh, that," and she saw the lobster in formalin, a mixture of formaldehyde and alcohol.

Or the little girl: "What's this mommy?" pointing to a jar.

"Oh, that's a nudibranch."

"Oh."

"What's this mommy?"

"That's an antler sponge—why don't you read the signs?"

Second Campus

As a special accommodation, buses shuttled between the old and new campuses so that visitors could catch the sports events at gymnasium and playing fields of Camp Gordon Head where army huts also have been pressed into use.

Makeshift huts are a trademark, too, of the old campus where biology, zoology and chemistry labs, offices and activities are located, just as at jam-packed UBC.

The whole history of higher education in B.C. has been fraught with the space problem and lack of money. Fortunately there always has been unbounded spirit, which, if anything, has drawn tighter the bonds of college life.

Gov't Grants

Today there are more than ever young men and women and more of them demand higher education, which is pressed to supply the teachers' salaries, classrooms and laboratories. Matching government grants now make these possible, provided the university or college raised the initial sum.

And that's where spirit re-enters the picture.

The college feeling was not the least of the qualities displayed to the public Saturday, for there were the cheer leaders, sports events, queen contest and its faculty rivalry, the rah-rah of student high-jinks, and some of the hundreds must have been infected, if only mildly.

Gov't Asked to Pay

NANAIMO (CP) — The Nanaimo and District Labor Council (CLC) Sunday decided to ask the provincial government to pay all the costs of educating retarded children.

GRAND JURY SOUGHT IN PRESS BRIBE BID

NEW YORK (UPI) — Manhattan District Attorney Frank Hogan today invited two newspaper reporters to lay before a grand jury their story that a high city official had offered them a bribe.

The reporters, Fred J. Cook and Gene Gleason of the New York World-Telegram and Sun, said Sunday night the official had offered them $75 to $100 a week in 1956 to stop their "prying" into the city's slum clearance program. The official, they said, is still in the city administration.

Poison Varnish Feared Mixed With Milk Gift

NAPLES (CP) — Police checked dozens of shipments of Canadian milk today in continuing efforts to find a number of poisonous cans of varnish in similar types of cans that may have become mixed up with the shipment.

The Canadian milk, a free shipment under international relief appeals, arrived here last week aboard the frighter San Sebastiano. Unloaded with the milk was a consignment of varnish in white-labelled cans that resembled the milk containers.

When the bulk of the varnish shipment was unloaded at a Naples factory it was found that eight cases of 325 pounds of poisonous varnish was missing. It was feared that it had been shipped with the milk and might be used if opened hurriedly by those who could not read the labels.

WINTER FERRY TO ANACORTES EARNS PRAISE

OLYMPIA (AP)—The new winter ferry service between Sidney, B.C., and Anacortes was described by Gov. Rosellini today as a considerable success.

He said there was an increase of 1,432 vehicles and 4,124 passengers in October, compared to the same month in 1958.

In addition, Rosellini said, it appears the run will carry 1,300 vehicles and 4,000 passengers between Anacortes and Sidney during November.

He said the figures were 30 per cent higher than original estimates.

Top Polish Agent Seeks U.S. Asylum

WASHINGTON (AP) — Col. Pawel Monat, one of Communist Poland's chief intelligence officials, has asked for asylum in the United States.

The state department reported today that Monat has arrived in this country with his family.

Their application for permission to stay is "being processed in the usual manner," a state department spokesman said.

Press officer Lincoln White said Monat defected "some months" ago.

Monat is reported to have been the intelligence boss of Polish military attaches in diplomatic missions around the world. As such, he could be expected to know much about the Poles' military intelligence work, including possible links with the Soviet Union.

The New York Times, in a Vienna dispatch by A. M. Rosenthal, says Monat was reported to have turned himself over to U.S. authorities in Vienna.

. . . FLOOD

streams, ditches and ravines in the Cascades.

The highways department reported that the small town of Packwood, south of Mount Rainier, was being evacuated because of flooding of the Cowlitz River.

Civil defence headquarters at Seattle said the town of Fall City, on the Snowqualmie River, 25 miles east of here, also was being evacuated.

At Snohomish rescue teams had taken 50 to 60 families to safety.

"We have about eight boats, all small craft," he said, "and we've alerted people who want to leave to put a sheet on the roof. Then a helicopter from Paine Air Force base with Sheriff Bob Twitchell in it pinpoints the rescue requests and a boat is dispatched to get them."

The state patrol advised truckers headed for the Puget Sound area with perishable cargoes to swing north or south around the blocked passes. Some went north to Okanogan, Wash., and then to the coast via Hope, B.C. Others were routed over the southerly Satus Pass—the only one open in Washington—or down the Columbia River highway in Oregon.

All through the mountains, high winds and high temperatures helped melt the snow.

Civil defence director Harold Peterson, called the situation "extremely critical," and said "There's every reason to think tomorrow will be worse and the next day will be worse than that."
